Desperadoes Overpower N.C. 'Alcatraz' Guards

IVY BLUFF, N. C. (AP)—Twenty of North Carolina's worst criminals broke out of Ivy Bluff Prison—the state's Alcatraz—today. They overpowered their guards and escaped with an arsenal of weapons.

A huge manhunt was under way in North Carolina and southern Virginia as the hardened convicts, with a four-hour start before the break was discovered, stole automobiles near Yanceyville, N. C., and apparently fanned out in a variety of directions.

Ivy Bluff is considered the state's toughest prison. State Prisons Director William F. Bailey has described the inmates as "incorrigibles, hardened criminals—the type you find in Alcatraz."

'ISOLATED AREA'

Normally housing fewer than 40, Ivy Bluff is situated in an isolated area 65 miles northwest of Raleigh and about seven miles from the Virginia state line. Completed in 1956, the prison is a red brick structure surrounded by a high fence topped with barbed wire.

Only last month, seven of its inmates were convicted of maiming themselves to escape work. Prisoners work in a huge rock quarry 500 yards from the prison building. Three of those who escaped were among the men convicted of maiming themselves.

17 WEAPONS

The escaped men were reported armed with a submachine gun, rifles and pistols—17 weapons in all.

Fifteen other prisoners refused to join in the break.

The convicts escaped in a prison truck, but later cars were reported stolen in the area.

R. A. Allen, assistant director of prisoners, said in Raleigh the break began at 12:40 a.m. It was not discovered until 4:30 a.m., when the overpowered guards were found.

The break apparently was engineered by Charles Stewart, 52, of Wilmington, N. C., who was recaptured on Nov. 4 after making an escape from big

Belvedere May Have Sewer Bond Election

Because of an overloaded sewer system and pressure from the State Water Pollution Control Board, a half-million-dollar sewer bond issue looms for the City of Belvedere.

This was revealed at a city council meeting last night.

With this in mind, the council took steps to end an agreement with the Marin County Housing Authority for taking outfall from the Hilarita housing project.

$225 A MONTH

The council will make the service available for 30-day periods at $225 a month, to be terminated at any time on 30 days notice.

Service to Hilarita dates back to World War II when the housing project as an emergency measure became an "island" in the Belvedere sewage system. With increased population, the Belvedere pumps are not adequate to handle the additional load.

In answer to a question from the audience, City Manager Britten Rey said no raw sewage had entered the bay for the past six months.

SUIT THREATENED

Reactivation of a lawsuit filed in February, 1958, against the city manager and the city council for permitting discharge of sewage into Belvedere Cove was threatened in a letter from Agnes F. Doyle, Katherine Feeny and Rosaleen H. Doyle.

In the suit, they had charged the cove was polluted and asked $10,000 compensation and $10,000 punitive damages. Proceedings were suspended in the fall of 1958 on representation that the defendants were acting conscientiously and in good faith.

To the letter, Mayor Robert P. Watkins replied that the council had spent many hours attempting to solve the problem and a bond issue was the only solution. He mentioned a half million dollars as the possible cost.

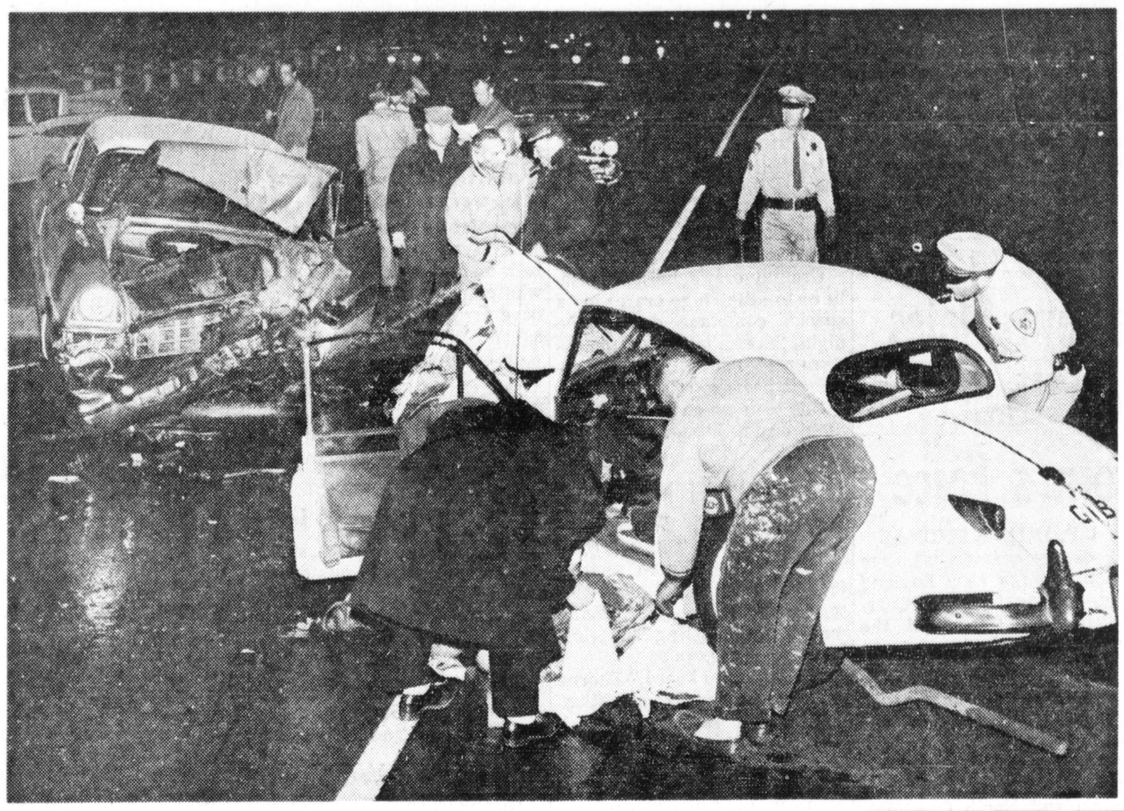

New U. S. Rocket Agency Created

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal space agency today created a new unit to push development of rockets capable of sending missions to the moon and planets.

The new unit will be headed by Air Force Maj. Gen. Don R. Ostrander, now deputy director of the defense department's Advanced Research Projects agency.

Woman Plucked From Flaming Wreckage

A Hamilton airman was killed and a San Rafael couple critically injured when two cars met head-on on Bridgeway boulevard just outside the Sausalito city limits at 5:45 p.m. yesterday.

Fatally injured in the crash was A/1c Patrick H. Doran, 23, of 735 Bridgeway, Sausalito, a member of the 2650th Air Transport Squadron at Hamilton.

Critically injured were:

Leo C. Vigars, 42, of 205 Margarita drive, San Rafael, an employee of the San Francisco Housing Authority, who suffered a fracture of the pelvis, dislocated hip and numerous cuts.

His wife, Mrs. Beatrice Vigars, about 40, who was severely cut on face, neck and body and suffered extreme loss of blood.

IN FAIR CONDITION

Both were reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital.

Doran was driving south on Bridgeway. A "for sale" sign was in the window of his 1957 Jaguar. Vigars was northbound in a 1956 Packard.

Duane Clark of San Francisco, a civilian empbloyee at Hamilton Air Force Base, told California Highway Patrolmen he was driving north on Bridgeway when Doran's Jaguar passed him going south, straddling the center line.

COLLIDE HEAD-ON

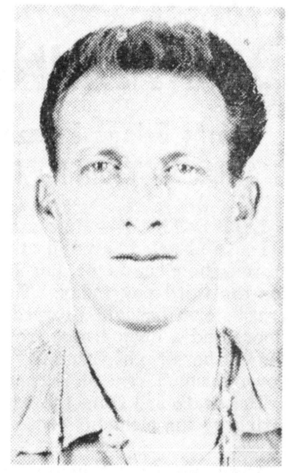

Moments later the imported car and the Vigras' coupe crashed head-on. Highway patrolmen were unable to account for the collision.

Clark stopped and, with the aid of an unidentified passerby, pulled Doran and Vigras from their wrecked cars.

The rescuers did not see Mrs. Vigras inside the wreckage immediately. Not until fire broke out under the Vigars car was she discovered and liberated. The Sausalito Fire Department responded to quench the flames.

Doran died where he lay in the street before an ambulance

Police Foulup Aids Escapee From Quentin

Jimmy Kendrick, 29-year-old gunman, escaped from San Quentin Prison yesterday and appeared on the way today to prolonging his freedom with an unintentional assist from law enforcement agencies.

Kendrick was reported seen at a relative's home in Santa Clara at 7 a.m. today. He changed clothes there and left in an automobile, according to a report given San Quentin officials by Santa Clara police.

But the California Highway Patrol in San Rafael reported it had received no bulletin describing the car and giving its license number. The Santa Clara County sheriff's office said it assumed the bulletin would be sent out by Santa Clara police or the prison. San Quentin officials thought it had been sent from Santa Clara County.

Meanwhile, Kendrick was somewhere on the loose in a 1952 brown Oldsmobile bearing license plates CJA 075. This much description and the license number was given the Santa Clara County sheriff's office in San Jose by Santa

IN MARIN HOUSING

Laws To Combat Race Bias Urged

A recommended "remedy" for Marin County's "discrimination and segregation in public and private housing" was handed to the county board of supervisors today.

The proposal is for establishment of two powerful "confidential" agencies to consider all discrimination complaints before they wind up in court.

The Marin County Committee on Racial Discrimination submitted the proposal as a final report after nearly two years of study. Included was a suggested ordinance.

In a letter, Lloyd Grandi, chairman of the committee, summarized the main provisions of the committee's recommendations:

"That the county government shall not discriminate nor lend itself to discrimination in housing.

"That there shall be no segregation in public or publicly assisted housing.

"That it shall be illegal to deny equal housing opportunities in privately constructed subdivisions.

"That a commission be appointed to conciliate groups and individuals.

"That a panel be appointed, empowered with the right to subpoena, in disputes that fail of arbitration.

"That appropriate fines be levied.

"That all procedures be held in executive session unless and until the stage of judicial hearing is reached."

The proposed ordinance would affect all public housing if the property on which it is located is exempt in whole or part from taxes levied by the county, or condemned for the purpose by the county, or if the county has supplied any funds for it. Violators of the public housing section would face a $500 misdemeanor fine.

Private housing would be affected if it involves more than three apartments in a multiple dwelling or if a private person controls the sale of five or more one or two-family homes on contiguous land.

Violation of the ordinance would be refusal "to sell, rent, lease, or otherwise deny to or withhold from any person or group of persons such housing accommodations because of the race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry of such person or persons."

Grandi's letter acknowledged the "Realtor's Code of Ethics" declaration of "the right to free sale of private property." But he urged that "this provision, coupled with that of the free right to buy property, become the law of Marin."

The letter was presented by Steven H. Warshaw of Sausalito, a member of the committee. He said the secrecy provisions were aimed at "keeping the names of persons involved in confidence." He said the committee was willing to discuss this portion of the recommendation.

The supervisors referred the

Terra Linda Factions Unite For Annexation

Several representatives from opposing factions in Terra Linda told the San Rafael City Council last night they want to act as a single unit—whether it be for annexation or incorporation.

Previously, one group had petitioned for annexation of part of the area to San Rafael, while an opposing faction temporarily blocked annexation by an incorporation move.

The feud has now been ironed out, and both sides have agreed to work together as one, Donald Gordon Black told the city council. Black is one of the leaders who opposed annexation.

Instead of splitting Terra Linda into two parts, Black said, all parties have reached a compromise whereby all of Terra Linda will ask for annexation to San Rafael. If that is turned down by popular vote, then Terra Linda will look for some alternative, incorporation or otherwise.

Alfred O'Brien, who is one of those who signed the petition for annexation, said he, too, would like to see all of Terra Linda act in unison.

That's all well and good, the city fathers decided. However, since the few representatives who appeared last night cannot purport to represent the feelings of all residents of Terra Linda, city councilmen refused to make any commitments for the moment.

Mayor John F. McInnis said the city is willing to drop the petition for annexation of part of Terra Linda at the next meeting two weeks hence, unless the original petitioners protest. The delay would be only fair to the original petitioners, who will then have a chance to express themselves at the Dec. 21 meeting, the mayor pointed out.

If, at that time, all factions agree that partial annexation should be dropped in favor of united action, the city will drop the petition for partial annexation, city fathers agreed. Terra Linda as a whole can then start over from a clean slate with whatever proposals it wants to make.

Black said the next move by Terra Linda will be a petition asking for annexation of the entire area. "All we want to know is whether you will accept such a petition," Black declared.

"The city council will consider any future petition," replied the mayor. "We'll leave it as general as that."

Chilled Marin May Be In For Rainfall Soon

Marin residents shivered again in many parts of the county this morning as temperatures plunged to the 20s and 30s.

The 81st dry day for Marin and the rest of the Bay Area began with a slight hope of rain in sight.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said there was one chance in three that there would be rain as far south as the Bay Area by Friday. A big storm appeared to be stirring in the Aleutian Island chain, and there was hope that it might bring "substantial rains" to the parched northern and north-central counties of the state this week.

And in Southern California today, a surprise storm brought the parched Southland its first substantial rain since last spring.

Los Angeles had .01 of an inch by 9 a.m., raising the season total to .09 Normal for the date is 2.38.

The weather man forecast mostly cloudy skies tonight and tomorrow for the north state with a low tonight of 47 to 54.

A few light showers were expected in the Santa Maria area and southern San Joaquin Valley tonight and north of Fort Bragg and Mt. Shasta tomorrow.

The Marin County fire Department in Woodacre reported a low of 24 today. It was 29 in Novato, 32 in San Anselmo for the second day in a row, 35 in Terra Linda, but a warmer 54 atop Mt. Tamalpais.

In a letter to Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, Cowan said, "You have made it impossible for me to continue."

Supervisors To View Disputed TV System

Marin's county supervisors agreed today to visit Woodacre tomorrow to view newly placed television service poles and to discuss the matter again at 3:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

The action came after a contingent of Woodacre residents presented a petition signed by 54 persons protesting installation last weekend of a series of the poles. They were installed by Bob's TV Service under a permit from the county Department of Public Works.

Woodacre Improvement Club also sent a letter of protest to the supervisors.

Robert D. Lewis, operator of the TV firm, told the board he was "flabbergasted" at the public reaction. He said the holes had been dug for several days and they were erected on Saturday.

"Saturday night I only had one protest," he declared.

Supervisor William Gnoss asked why the cables, which would carry television signals from a master aerial directly into the homes of the service subscribers, were not put underground.

Lewis answered that this had been the original intention but the county required the wires be buried two feet below the surface. "The cost was brutal," Lewis said. In addition, connection charges at such a depth below ground would be $30 to $40 higher than had been expected, he reported.

Residents protested that the poles are unsightly, they were placed by Lewis' contractor without consulting residents affected, they were on the opposite side from utility poles, thus narrowing already narrow roads, and they are hazardous.

The supervisors agreed to visit Woodacre and then hear more testimony next week.

Filling the supervisors chambers to capacity during the hearing were members of Tamalpais High School's class on "Problems of American Democracy."

Early Voting Light In Tiburon Recall

There was only light voting in the Tiburon Fire Protection District recall election up to noon today.

At the Tiburon boulevard firehouse only 15 had voted out of 664 registered voters shortly before noon. At Reed School, the only other voting place, 105 out of 900 had voted.

The special election is to decide whether Fire Commissioner Fred Mantegani should be recalled, and if so whether John P. Eichorn or Richard L. Williamson should replace him.

Early Voting Light In Tiburon Recall

There was only light voting in the Tiburon Fire Protection District recall election up to noon today.

At the Tiburon boulevard firehouse only 15 had voted out of 664 registered voters shortly before noon. At Reed School, the only other voting place, 105 out of 900 had voted.

The special election is to decide whether Fire Commissioner Fred Mantegani should be recalled, and if so whether John P. Eichorn or Richard L. Williamson should replace him.

Steel Union, Can Companies Agree

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union announced today a tentative agreement with the American and Continental Can Co. covering approximately 45,000 workers.

David J. McDonald, the union's president, said details would be disclosed later this afternoon. McDonald disclosed the proposed settlement as he entered a joint industry-union bargaining on the steel dispute with federal mediators.

AIRLINER SKIDS TO ICY LANDING

This American Airlines DC6, bound from Chicago, lost its nose-wheel upon landing at Newark, N. J., airport last night and wound up looking like this after skidding down an ice-covered runway into marshland. None of the 32 passengers or five crew members aboard was hurt. (AP Wirephoto)

HURRICANE WINDS BATTERING EUROPE

Storm Brings Freeze, Floods; Many Ships In Trouble; Death Toll Tops 60

LONDON (AP) — Hurrican winds howled around th stormlashed coasts of Europe for the third day today. The great storm brought blizzards, floods and a deep freeze from the northern tip of Scandinavia down through central Europe.

The death toll from the battering by the elements exceeded 60.

After nearly 24 hours of heavy rain along the French Riviera, engineers and rescue workers braced to meet a new flood threat in the Reyran River valley, where more than 300 persons died in the break of the Malpasset Dam last week.

The Reyran was rising rapidly, and a fleet of buses stood ready to evacuate about 2,500 people from the seaside suburb of Frejus-Plage.

In the Atlantic, mountainous waves up to 80 feet high buffeted great liners, putting them as much as 24 hours behind schedule.

The captain of a French navy weather frigate reported from far out in the Atlantic: "I have just heard from an American ship. Her captain thinks the storm has put 500 ships in difficulties."

SHIP IN DISTRESS

British Coast Guardsmen answered distress signals from the 3,000-ton Swedish freighter Anna, driven ashore on the rocky east coast of Scotland. A line was rocketed to her deck, and rescue teams prepared to hoist the crew to the overhanging cliffs.

Only a few miles away, the 217-ton British trawler George Robb heeled over on the rocks earlier yesterday. All her crew of 12 men were lost and a Coast Guardsman collapsed and died during the search for survivors.

In the English Channel a Dutch tug with two barges in tow found shelter in Torbay after sending out distress signals. Two men were swept overboard from one barge. A lifeboat picked up both, but one was dead.

17 MEN LOST

Off the Portuguese port of Leixoes, the storm smashed a tug towing a 400-ton frigate and a 450-ton barge. All three vessels and 17 crewmen were lost.

Scandinavia caught the full force of the storm. The Baltic was swept almost clean of shipping. On land hundreds of trucks and automobiles were abandoned in snowdrifts. Trains were derailed. Villages were cut off. Snow plows were stranded.

Heavy snowfalls were reported from northern Italy, Austria and Switzerland.

U.N. Unit Votes Discussion Of Algeria Issues

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The United States and Britain backed France yesterday in a futile attempt to vote down a U. N. resolution asking consideration of political issues in French-Algerian peace talks.

But the vote in the U. N. Assembly's Political Committee — 38-26 with 17 abstentions — was short of the two-thirds majority required for adoption of the resolution by the Assembly itself.

France, which boycotted the meeting, was delighted by the proposal's failure to win a sufficient majority. France calls the Algerian question an internal issue and no business of the United Nations.

The United States and Britain contended that the resolution might harm chances of ending the five-year-old Algerian revolt.

The French insist that a cease-fire precede political talks. Algerian rebel leaders insist they must negotiate on the North African territory's political future simultaneously with discussions of an end to the fighting.

The resolution asks the two parties to hold informal talks on implementing the right of self-determination which French President Charles de Gaulle has promised Algeria. The word independence, which was included in a resolution that failed by one vote in the Assembly last year, was omitted this year.

Eastern States Reel Under Storm's Force

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A deadly winter storm swirled through New England today, leaving the East Coast clogged with snow and the South shivering in sub-freezing temperatures.

Gale force winds powered the near-blizzard out of the Appalachians yesterday through Pennsylvania and New York state and south as far as Virginia and North Carolina.

Officials blamed the storm for seven deaths by fire, auto accidents or asphyxiation.

WARMING TREND

The storm dropped the mercury below freezing as far south as Orlando and Ocala, in central Florida, but the Weather Bureau predicted a general warming trend would open up southern highways jammed with ice and snow.

More snow flurries were expected today in Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Georgia as the snow center moved slowly up the St. Lawrence Valley toward Canada.

BUSES STRANDED

Nineteen school buses carrying scores of children were trapped in six-foot drifts in Pennsylvania and New York. Snowplows fought for hours before reaching the stranded students.

The storm, which sent 70-mile-an-hour winds whistling a destructive path through New York City, centered over Syracuse, N.Y., early today and lashed that city with four inches of snow blown by 45-mile-an-hour gusts and floodlighted by brilliant flashes of lightning.

Schools by the dozen closed their doors along the Atlantic Seaboard yesterday.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Civil War Vet Failing

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Confederate veteran Walter Williams is fighting his fourth bout this year with pneumonia, and his doctor said yesterday he had taken a turn for the worse.

Williams, 117, last surviving veteran of the Civil War armies, had a 101 degree temperature last night.

Auto Factory Burns

WOLFSBURG, Germany (AP) —A fire raged through the Volkswagen factory, Europe's largest automobile plant, for 12 hours today.

Carolers Injured

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (UPI)— Fifteen Christmas carolers were injured last night when a freight elevator in which they were riding plunged nearly 100 feet at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Winds Peril Blimp

LAKEHURST, N. J. (AP)—A 350-foot blimp landed at the naval air station here today after high winds kept it aloft over night.

Ground crews hoisted gasoline to the big craft in a special container during the night. Several landing attempts were made, but all were unsuccessful because of the wind.

Eighteen men spent the night on the blimp. None was injured.

Pilots Still Needed

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)— Gen. Henry G. Thorne, commander of Air Force recruiting, said today that push-button warfare is discouraging men from enlisting as pilots and navigators.

"From what I heard," Thorne said, "youngsters are conditioned to push-button warfare."

But the Air Force still needs about 800 new pilots and navigators a month, he said, a quota difficult to fill when young men believe those trades are outmoded.

Car Deadlier Than Bow

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)— Iowa deer apparently have more to fear from motorists than from bow-and-arrow, the Iowa Conservation Commission said today.

The commission said incomplete figures for the bow and arrow season indicate the same death rates as last year when bowmen killed 162 deer and autos 314.

Trapped In Train's Path

ASHBURN, Ga. (AP)—A farmer, walking along a railroad siding in the dark last night, caught his foot in the tracks and was killed by a freight train before he could free himself. The victim was William H. Goodman, 51.

Sub Missile Works

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Navy successfully fired a Polaris submarine missile for the second straight time yesterday.

Navy sources said the two consecutive successes apparently means that engineers have worked out the bugs that caused three straight failures in September and October.

Tomcat Worth $500

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A barber's cat which ate poached eggs for breakfast "just like a member of the family" was valued in absentia yesterday at $500.

That's the amount Municipal Court Judge Byron Arnold awarded the barber, Richard O. D'Amico, for the escape from a pet hospital of Nipper, a black tomcat embodying a mixture of Siamese and Persian.

Guatemala Invasion?

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI)— The chief of Nicaragua's army staff says 200 well-armed "Cubans and other revolutionaries" who plan to invade Guatemala have arrived by air in Honduras and 300 more are on the way by ship.

Col. Carlos Silva said yesterday the force moved in from Cuba "with the apparent tolerance of the Honduran government."

Pittsburgh Buses Idle

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—A strike of 1,700 trolley and bus operators paralyzed Pittsburgh's mass transit system today, causing huge traffic jams in several sections of the city.

The walkout forced 160,000 commuters to find other ways to reach jobs and classrooms.

Germany's War Toll

GOETTINGEN, Germany (UPI) —A history professor said today it is certain that more than four million persons were killed in Germany during World War II, but that the full toll probably will never be known.

Percey E. Schramm, who says he made off with the diary of the German general staff at the end of the war, said it lists 3,913,403 soldiers, sailors and airmen dead or missing. He estimated that about 500,000 civilians in Germany died as a result of enemy action.

Obscenity Crackdown

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postmaster General Arthur S. Summerfield reports "positive progress" in his war against mail order obscenity.

He said last night that there has been a record number of arrests, stiffer jail sentences and mounting complaints against the peddling of pornography through the U. S. mails since the crackdown began 18 months ago.

New Reserve Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Maj. Gen. William N. Gillmore, the new commander of all U. S. Army Reserve units and personnel located in California, Arizona and Nevada, will be honored at a parade at the Presidio here tomorrow.

Steel Union Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Steel Workers Union is trying to complete a new labor agreement covering 25,000 members in the can manufacturing industry and use it to help jar loose a steel settlement.

Representatives of the American and Continental Can companies were reported near agreement today with Union President David J. McDonald on terms similar to the union's agreement with Kaiser Steel Corp. That agreement called for a 22½-cent hourly wage increase in wages and fringe benefits over a 20-month period.

Christmas In Bed

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Angela Schiavo, 45, of Pittsburgh, was on a ladder cleaning a kitchen window yesterday. She fell and broke her left leg.

Shortly before Christmas a year ago, Mrs. Schiavo was on the same ladder cleaning the same window. That time she fell and injured her right leg.

Burdell Board Eyes Merger

A possible merger of the Burdell School District with one or more neighboring districts will be discussed tonight when the trustees meet at 8 o'clock at the home of trustee Joseph Corda at 4350 Novato boulevard.

Prior meetings have considered the possibilities of merging the Burdell district with the Lincoln and Union districts. No final decision on a merger is expected to be reached tonight, according to James Grossi, clerk of the board.

A merger is being considered instead of rebuilding the 12-pupil Burdell School which was burned by vandals in November of 1958.

District Sponsors Terra Linda Yule Lighting Contest

An outdoor Christmas lighting contest sponsored by the Terra Linda Community Services District will be judged Dec. 20. Any resident of Terra Linda may enter by decorating his home and turning on lights between 6:30 p.m. and 10 p.m.

Prizes have been donated by Terra Linda and San Rafael merchants.

Judges for the contest will be County Supervisor Walter R. Castro, Mrs. Karl Unterman of West End Nursery, Kitty Oppenheimer of KTIM, Dennis B. Willis, superintendent of the Dixie School District, and John Coletti of Greenbrae.

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Warrens are co-chairmen of the event.

Does World Cartel Figure In Drug Price?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators exploring "wonder drug" price markups sought to learn today whether an international cartel figures anywhere in the picture.

The Senate Anti-Trust and Monopoly Subcommittee heard disputed testimony yesterday that one firm, the Schering Corp. of Bloomfield, N. J., has received price markups ranging from 1,118 per cent to more than 7,000 per cent on some medical products.

Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) ordered the firm's president, Francis C. Brown, to produce his company's licensing agreements with foreign drug firms.

"We want to find out whether there is an international cartel built up in the drug business," Kefauver said. He noted that Schering is the only pharmaceutical house which has failed to turn over its foreign agreements involving, among other things, rights to use patented preparations.

Brown replied that he has no objection to handing over the agreements, but said his firm has not yet obtained permission from the foreign firms involved to disclose them.

Brown repeatedly contended the subcommittee was receiving misleading figures from its staff aides, who gave the testimony about price markups.

GATE SPAN TRANSIT STUDY AUTHORIZED

Bridge Directors Approve Engineering Survey At Transit District Expense

Golden Gate Bridge directors yesterday authorized the Bay Area Rapid Transit District to make an engineering study of the feasibility of adding rapid transit to the bridge.

Acting as a committee of the whole, with 12 of the 14 members present, directors voted unanimously to give "every cooperation" in the study and to consider the results on its completion.

The action came after a letter from the transit district proposing the study, at the transit district proposing the study, at the transit district's expense. Three engineering firms were suggested by the transit district.

The bridge directors indicated that any of the three firms, two from New York and one from Pennsylvania, would be acceptable. When the report is completed, the bridge directors will "submit the transit district's report to our own engineers for study at our expense."

Not made clear was just which engineers the bridge directors would consult. The bridge has no regular district engineer. Clifford Paine, who acts in that capacity at intervals, lives in Michigan.

CONSIDERED ENGINEER

Arthur Jenkins, a consulting engineer who recently completed the bridge's long-range development program, is considered to be the bridge's traffic engineer.

The bridge directors expressed some concern, however, that the study would be broader than merely an engineering feasibility report. In making the motion accepting the proposal, Director George Anderson of Ukiah, specified that the study should be limited "to engineering matters only and not consider such things as economic feasibility, insurance, interference with traffic, and the like."

The motion was seconded by Director Matt Graham of Marin.

URGES SPEED

President Dan London of San Francisco urged speed, saying, "It is our desire to expedite such a study. Because of the severe traffic problem that is developing on the bridge, we hope this study can be made with all prudent speed."

Formal action on the proposal will come Friday, when the committee of the whole reports to the board of directors.

Future liaison between the districts will be handled through the bridge's rapid transit committee headed by Director Ben Lerer of San Francisco and including Marin Directors Leland Murphy and Graham.

More Details Of Tiburon Projects Asked

The Marin County Plannnig Commission yesterday postponed action on two applications for adjustments for proposed constructions in downtown Tiburon, to await development of detailed plans showing parking, traffic circulation and drainage.

The items will not come before the commission again until developer Fred G. Zelinsky presents the required information to the planning staff.

TWO PROJECTS

The two projects include development of a restaurant, boat sales and boat launching site and construction of a two-or-three-story building for commercial shops and other uses.

Commissioner Margaret Azevedo said she and David Van Pelt of the planning staff planned to meet today with the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce to discuss the parking and traffic circulation problem there.

Zelinsky argued that he saw no reason why the commission had to have the detailed information it requested. He insisted that he had submitted information on parking.

The proposed restaurant, boat sales and launching site would be on the south side of Main street west of Tiburon boulevard. Parking would be northwest of the theater building.

COMMERCIAL BUILDING

The commercial building would be between Main street and Juanita lane west of the Back Stage coffee house.

The commission approved the master layout plan of the Harbor Point Beach Club at Strawberry Point, subject to two conditions. Further consideration of new plans shall be required if any portion of the area is devoted to single-family dwelling use, and further architectural supervision will be required for construction of any specific portion of the project.

Harold Walton of 799 Plaza Linda, Novato, was granted a use permit to permit a ballet school to be established in his home, subject to certain conditions.

He plans to build an addition to his residence for a family room and ballet studio where Mrs. Walton will teach.

Prof To Conference

Dr. Carlyle D. Bennett, professor of church music administration at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary in Strawberry, will leave by plane for Nashville, Tenn., tonight to attend a conference of Southern Baptist state music secretaries and music department. Sponsored by the music department of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board.

Search-Rescue Center Will Stay At HAFB

The 4th Air Force Search and Rescue Coordination Center at Hamilton Air Force Base will not be affected by the deactivation on Jan. 1 of the 41st Air Rescue Squadron, Maj. Gen. Bory Smith, 4th Air Force commander, declared today.

The SAR Center, which has used planes of the 41st in many of its more than 1,000 missions during its 30 months of activity, will now use planes and helicopters of the Coast Guard station at San Francisco's International Airport, General Smith said.

COAST GUARD CRAFT

The Coast Guard there has three helicopters and nine SA16 Albatross or similar planes at the disposal of the center, spokesmen said. The 4th Air Force rescue squadron has two helicopters and eight SA16s.

It was also announced that the para-medic force of the 41st, often used by the SAR center, will be retained at Hamilton Air Force Base.

In addition to Coast Guard planes, the center will have at its disposal planes and facilities of the Army and Navy, Forest Service, county law enforcement agencies and many professional rescue units including packs of bloodhounds, General Smith pointed out.

The 4th Air Force operation is not restricted to military or flying operations, he stressed.

36 MISSIONS MONTHLY

"Since its beginning, the center has averaged 36 missions a month in California, Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Utah, Arizona and Nevada," Smith said. "These missions have taken place in the air, on the ground and on the water."

The Hamilton center is one of five in the country. Others are located in Texas, Georgia, Michigan and New York. They were created by President Eisenhower's Air Coordination Committee to coordinate all agencies with life-saving capabilities into a single coordinated effort.

Ordered deactivated at the same time as the 41st are the 64th Air-Sea Rescue Squadron at Bergstrom Air Force Base in Texas, and the 46th squadron at Otis Air Force Base in Massachusetts.

The tail of the jumping mouse is six inches long, about two-thirds of the animal's total length.

GOOD READING, WITH MENTION OF REVOLUTION

LONDON (UPI)—The Sunday Dispatch reports the Russians have flown 69,000 copies of children's books into Britain to catch the Christmas spending spree.

The books were said to contain "good, wholesome reading about animals"—with a passing reference to the Bolshevik October Revolution.

Bridge Party Set At Jewish Center

All duplicate bridge players, regardless of skill or lack of it, will have a chance to play at the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael next Sunday night.

The game is the annual charity party sponsored by the Marin unit of the American Contract Bridge League. The charity party will open at 7:15 p. m. at the Jewish Center at 1618 Mission avenue. Proceeds will go to the Marin Senior Center in San Rafael. Last year's charity party was for the benefit of retarded children.

Mrs. Kent Richens of Santa Venetia, chairman of the Marin unit of the bridge league, said refreshments will be offered at the charity event.

Preceding the evening charity party will be the monthly winners' game, for those eligible, starting at 1:15 p. m.

Mrs. Richens said she will help arrange for bridge partners for those needing them for the party.

Advisory Unit Asks Huge New College Program In State

20 Education Institutions Urged To Keep Up With Student Growth

BERKELEY (AP) — A committee of educators met again today to consider problems of higher education created by California's rapidly growing population.

The committee, which made a survey at the request of Gov. Edmund G. Brown and the Legislature, came up yesterday with some firm recommendations, both for reducing the cost of college education to the state and for meeting the steady growth in student numbers.

In Albany, N. Y., a national conference of lawmakers dealt with the same problem, but reached no conclusion.

The California group, a liaison committee of the state Board of Education and the University of California Board of Regents, proposed the establishment of 22 new junior colleges and the raising of university admission standards.

University admissions, the committee suggested, should be limited to the top 12½ per cent of high school graduates, instead of the current 15 per cent. State college admissions should be restructed to about 33½ per cent, compared with the present 40 per cent.

All high school graduates still could go to junior colleges, but transfer requirements would be tightened under the proposals.

U. C. CAMPUSES

The committee, headed by Dr. Arthur G. Coons of Occidental College, suggested that three University of California campuses be established by 1962 at LaJolla, the Los Angeles-Orange counties area, and in the San Mateo-San Benito counties areas.

It also proposed four new state colleges, in the San Bernardino-Riverside area, Los Angeles' International Airport, Petaluma and Salida. Of the 22 new junior colleges, eight would be in the San Francisco Bay Area, 11 in Southern California and three in the south-central region.

The report also called for a substantial boost in tuition fees for out-of-state students, higher fees for non-educational services and development of summer education programs.

DISTRICT TAX

Funds for new junior college construction, committeemen suggested, would come from a tax in school districts which now send their students elsewhere for such education. The tax, proposed as 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation, would treat all districts alike, ending what Coons called "a free ride."

Property owners in districts not having a junior college now are assessed 18½ cents per $100.

The liaison group will convene again tomorrow. It meets Dec. 17-18 to report to a joint meeting of the regents and the state board. Then a report will be sent to the Legislature and to the governor.

Hendrickson Trial Set For March 1

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—John R. Hendrickson, 40, faces trial March 1 on a federal indictment accusing him of taking part in a $3,714,619 bank embezzlement scheme.

Hendrickson, a onetime bankrupt plumber, who now lives in a $75,000 home in San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday to each of 26 embezzlement counts during his arraignment.

Federal Judge Ernest E. Tolin reduced Hendrickson's bond to $20,000 after the defendant's attorney pleaded it was a hardship for Hendrickson to continue paying interest on the $100,000 bond on which he had been free.

Hendrickson, now a business tycoon with an interest in six firms, is accused of conspiring with bank cashier George A. Hewlett, 40, of bilking the East Long Beach branch of the U. S. National Bank of San Diego of the money. Authorities have said it may be the biggest bank embezzlement in U. S. history.

Hewlett's suicide May 2 while an audit was taking place at the bank prompted a close examination of the bank's books and led a federal grand jury to indict Hendrickson.

THOSE 2 DOGS SHOULD SIGN UP WITH WCTU

PALISADES PARK, N. J. (AP)—Hooch with no pooch, that's what James Sherlock is looking for.

Sherlock, 66, was sipping his beer in a local tavern when a dog walked over to him and bit him on the left hand.

Well, you can drink beer with your right hand just as well, so Sherlock walked down the street to another bar.

There he met another dog who promptly bit him on the right hand.

No more drinking for Sherlock. He got his hands treated and called it a day.

The dogs were ordered tied up.

Travel Ban Upheld By High Tribunal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department still wants Congress to enact a new passport law despite Supreme Court action permitting a ban on travel to Communist China.

Indications are that the legislators will revive a bill which passed the House last session but failed to clear the Senate. It would permit travel restrictions by countries and authorize denial of passports to Communists.

The passport case was one of several handled by the Supreme Court yesterday on its return to the bench after a two-week recess. It rejected three appeals from persons who couldn't get passports validated for Communist China. They were Rep. Charles O. Porter (D.-Ore.), William Worthy Jr., a reporter for theBaltimore Afro-American, and writer Waldo Frank.

In another case yesterday, the court agreed to speed up consideration of lower court actions which are keeping the Civil Rights Commission from holding hearings in southern states on Negro voting complaints. The court said it will hear arguments on Jan. 18 on a test case from Louisiana.

The high court also:

1. Granted a hearing to George B. Parr, a political figure of San Diego, Tex., and a group convicted with him in a 1957 mail fraud case involving school funds.
2. On the request of three Indian groups, agreed to review a lower court decision which upheld a state order outlawing the use of fish traps in Alaska.
3. Rejected a complaint by a Negro group that a Gadsden, Ala., urban redevelopment program is unconstitutional because of racial discrimination.
4. Rejected an appeal by former Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack and Miami attorney Thurman A. Whiteside from an action denying them a directed verdict of acquittal on conspiracy charges in a TV station award.

'SKULLDUGGERY' EXPLAINED

Ex-Fire Commissioner Receives His Apology

Tiburon Fire Protection District Commissioner Jon F. Stanton last night publicly apologized to former Commissioner Alfred J. Azevedo for ramarks made at the November board meeting which Azevedo said "were interpreted by the people in the community as being malfeasance in office."

Stanton had said there was "skullduggery" during the time Azevedo served on the board. Last night he explained that he did not mean any skullduggery by Azevedo.

Vice Chairman Fred C. Hannahs added, "The district went to hell in a bucket when you went off the board, Al."

Commissioners decided not to ask the district attorney's office to investigate disappearance of some firehouse equipment. "Since the Independent-Journal reported we intended this action, much of the equipment has turned up," said Hannahs.

Stanton and Commissioner Paul C. Hantzsche voted for the investigation, with Hannahs and commissioners Kelly J. Wheeler and Fred Mantegani dissenting "because it won't do the district any good."

Commissioners learned the district had lost $800 in matching funds from civil defense because papers applying for one-half of the $1,600 outlay for two radios had not been processed in time.

"The radios were delivered in August of 1958 and applications for the funds had to be submitted in the same fiscal year, no later than last July," Hannahs said. Therefore the district must pay the whole $1,600.

Former Commission Secretary G. Richard Donaldson handled the processing, commissioners said.

Commissioners decided to ask a representative of the architectural firm of Gromme, Mulvin and Priestly to attend the next meeting and review the design for the proposed Trestle Glen substation. Commissioners tabled payment of the firm's $350 bill because the budgeted amount was set at $333.33. "We did not sign the contract with the architects and I don't think we need a four-station firehouse," Hannahs said.

Stanton said the former commission had entered into a gentlemen's agreement on the design of the building.

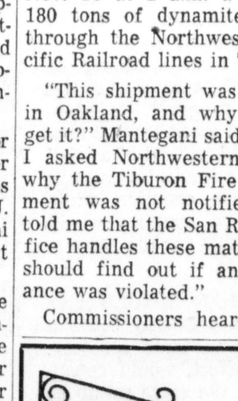

Mantegani revealed that on Nov. 16 at 2 a.m. a total of 180 tons of dynamite passed through the Northwestern Pacific Railroad lines in Tiburon.

"This shipment was refused in Oakland, and why did we get it?" Mantegani said. "When I asked Northwestern Pacific why the Tiburon Fire Department was not notified, they told me that the San Rafael office handles these matters. We should find out if any ordinance was violated."

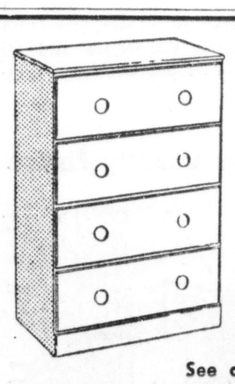

Commissioners heard a letter from James Murray, of 2476 Mar East, analyzing the fire telephone operation during the blaze in which Dr. Joseph Lackey was injured. They also decided to look into the insurance policy covering the commissioners with $17,000 each of life insurance protection. Premiums are $15 a year for each.

Charles J. Pastori Jr. was appointed second assistant fire chief. Commissioners decided to continue using volunteer firemen for weekend standby duty. "I would be happy to serve one Sunday a month free for the district," Mantegani said.

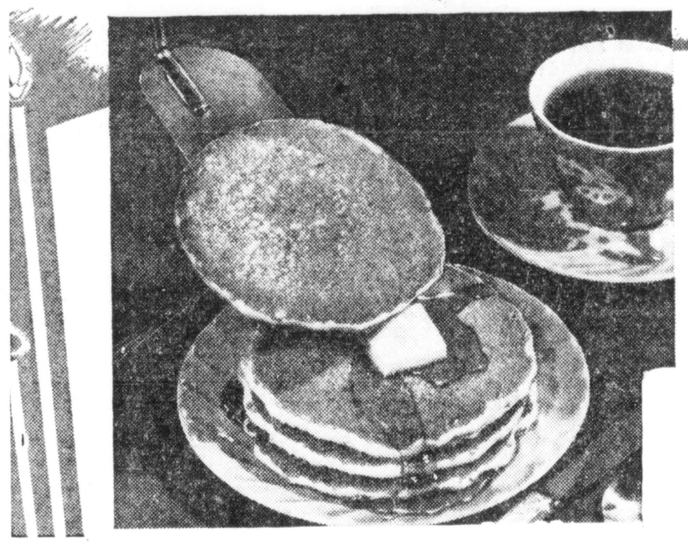

A special meeting was set for 7:30 p.m. Monday in the firehouse to discuss with new Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher reorganization of the department.

Advisory Unit Asks Huge New College Program In State

20 Education Institutions Urged To Keep Up With Student Growth

BERKELEY (AP) — A committee of educators met again today to consider problems of higher education created by California's rapidly growing population.

The committee, which made a survey at the request of Gov. Edmund G. Brown and the Legislature, came up yesterday with some firm recommendations, both for reducing the cost of college education to the state and for meeting the steady growth in student numbers.

In Albany, N. Y., a national conference of lawmakers dealt with the same problem, but reached no conclusion.

The California group, a liaison committee of the state Board of Education and the University of California Board of Regents, proposed the establishment of 22 new junior colleges and the raising of university admission standards.

University admissions, the committee suggested, should be limited to the top 12½ per cent of high school graduates, instead of the current 15 per cent. State college admissions should be restructed to about 33½ per cent, compared with the present 40 per cent.

All high school graduates still could go to junior colleges, but transfer requirements would be tightened under the proposals.

U. C. CAMPUSES

The committee, headed by Dr. Arthur G. Coons of Occidental College, suggested that three University of California campuses be established by 1962 at LaJolla, the Los Angeles-Orange counties area, and in the San Mateo-San Benito counties areas.

It also proposed four new state colleges, in the San Bernardino-Riverside area, Los Angeles' International Airport, Petaluma and Salida. Of the 22 new junior colleges, eight would be in the San Francisco Bay Area, 11 in Southern California and three in the south-central region.

The report also called for a substantial boost in tuition fees for out-of-state students, higher fees for non-educational services and development of summer education programs.

DISTRICT TAX

Funds for new junior college construction, committeemen suggested, would come from a tax in school districts which now send their students elsewhere for such education. The tax, proposed as 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation, would treat all districts alike, ending what Coons called "a free ride."

Property owners in districts not having a junior college now are assessed 18½ cents per $100.

The liaison group will convene again tomorrow. It meets Dec. 17-18 to report to a joint meeting of the regents and the state board. Then a report will be sent to the Legislature and to the governor.

Hendrickson Trial Set For March 1

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—John R. Hendrickson, 40, faces trial March 1 on a federal indictment accusing him of taking part in a $3,714,619 bank embezzlement scheme.

Hendrickson, a onetime bankrupt plumber, who now lives in a $75,000 home in San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday to each of 26 embezzlement counts during his arraignment.

Federal Judge Ernest E. Tolin reduced Hendrickson's bond to $20,000 after the defendant's attorney pleaded it was a hardship for Hendrickson to continue paying interest on the $100,000 bond on which he had been free.

Hendrickson, now a business tycoon with an interest in six firms, is accused of conspiring with bank cashier George A. Hewlett, 40, of bilking the East Long Beach branch of the U. S. National Bank of San Diego of the money. Authorities have said it may be the biggest bank embezzlement in U. S. history.

Hewlett's suicide May 2 while an audit was taking place at the bank prompted a close examination of the bank's books and led a federal grand jury to indict Hendrickson.

THOSE 2 DOGS SHOULD SIGN UP WITH WCTU

PALISADES PARK, N. J. (AP)—Hooch with no pooch, that's what James Sherlock is looking for.

Sherlock, 66, was sipping his beer in a local tavern when a dog walked over to him and bit him on the left hand.

Well, you can drink beer with your right hand just as well, so Sherlock walked down the street to another bar.

There he met another dog who promptly bit him on the right hand.

No more drinking for Sherlock. He got his hands treated and called it a day.

The dogs were ordered tied up.

Travel Ban Upheld By High Tribunal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department still wants Congress to enact a new passport law despite Supreme Court action permitting a ban on travel to Communist China.

Indications are that the legislators will revive a bill which passed the House last session but failed to clear the Senate. It would permit travel restrictions by countries and authorize denial of passports to Communists.

The passport case was one of several handled by the Supreme Court yesterday on its return to the bench after a two-week recess. It rejected three appeals from persons who couldn't get passports validated for Communist China. They were Rep. Charles O. Porter (D.-Ore.), William Worthy Jr., a reporter for theBaltimore Afro-American, and writer Waldo Frank.

In another case yesterday, the court agreed to speed up consideration of lower court actions which are keeping the Civil Rights Commission from holding hearings in southern states on Negro voting complaints. The court said it will hear arguments on Jan. 18 on a test case from Louisiana.

The high court also:

1. Granted a hearing to George B. Parr, a political figure of San Diego, Tex., and a group convicted with him in a 1957 mail fraud case involving school funds.
2. On the request of three Indian groups, agreed to review a lower court decision which upheld a state order outlawing the use of fish traps in Alaska.
3. Rejected a complaint by a Negro group that a Gadsden, Ala., urban redevelopment program is unconstitutional because of racial discrimination.
4. Rejected an appeal by former Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack and Miami attorney Thurman A. Whiteside from an action denying them a directed verdict of acquittal on conspiracy charges in a TV station award.

'SKULLDUGGERY' EXPLAINED

Ex-Fire Commissioner Receives His Apology

Tiburon Fire Protection District Commissioner Jon F. Stanton last night publicly apologized to former Commissioner Alfred J. Azevedo for ramarks made at the November board meeting which Azevedo said "were interpreted by the people in the community as being malfeasance in office."

Stanton had said there was "skullduggery" during the time Azevedo served on the board. Last night he explained that he did not mean any skullduggery by Azevedo.

Vice Chairman Fred C. Hannahs added, "The district went to hell in a bucket when you went off the board, Al."

Commissioners decided not to ask the district attorney's office to investigate disappearance of some firehouse equipment. "Since the Independent-Journal reported we intended this action, much of the equipment has turned up," said Hannahs.

Stanton and Commissioner Paul C. Hantzsche voted for the investigation, with Hannahs and commissioners Kelly J. Wheeler and Fred Mantegani dissenting "because it won't do the district any good."

Commissioners learned the district had lost $800 in matching funds from civil defense because papers applying for one-half of the $1,600 outlay for two radios had not been processed in time.

"The radios were delivered in August of 1958 and applications for the funds had to be submitted in the same fiscal year, no later than last July," Hannahs said. Therefore the district must pay the whole $1,600.

Former Commission Secretary G. Richard Donaldson handled the processing, commissioners said.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Shouldn't Fail To Mark Two Historic Anniversaries

This Thursday and next Tuesday mark the anniversaries of two historic landmarks in man's age-long struggle for equality, liberty and justice.

Thursday will be the 11th anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declarations of Human Rights, drafted by the United Nations for the purpose of guaranteeing to all people everywhere freedoms like those assured Americans in the Bill of Rights.

And next Tuesday will be the 168th anniversary of the ratification of that Bill of Rights. These first 10 amendments to our federal Constitution guarantee the basic liberties to all citizens. They guarantee freedom of speech, of the press, of worship, of assembly, and of petition to all Americans regardless of race, religion, or place of birth.

In days of peace and security all of us are inclined to take these blessings for granted. We enjoy them in everyday life, regarding them as an accepted part of life itself.

But actually they are only secure as we make them; only as well protected as we are vigilant in seeing that they are always defended.

Most Americans are alert to their importance and to the need for eternal vigilance to uphold them. But there still remain in our country a few unscrupulous rabble-rousers and hate mongers who snipe at our free institutions for personal gain.

There are bigots who spew hate against the Negro or the Jew or the foreign born, blaming one or another for the nation's ills. We must recognize this type of bigotry for what it is and expose it at every opportunity.

At the same time we must keep ourselves cognizant of these rights.

In observance of Human Rights Day on Thursday, the Marin League of Women Voters units and the American Association for the United Nations are sponsoring a program in College of Marin's Olney Hall.

California Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk is going to discuss the legal and governmental aspects of human rights, while Rev. Stanley B. Scholefield, Unitarian minister from San Francisco, will speak on the spiritual and social aspects. Dr. S. I. Hayakawa from San Francisco State, will moderate the program.

We are glad Marin is taking note of the day and hope the county residents will participate.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

CHILDREN CATCH THIEF

A teenage thief who had stolen a $10 roll of quarters from a service station operator's car, wondered how anyone saw him bury his loot under a tree.

But when he was taken to police headquarters, he was confronted by two children who had witnessed his operation from their perch in the branches at the top of the same tree.

The young thief had been running an errand in the station owner's car. The children were quiet but alert witnesses. After seeing him stop en route and hide the money, they immediately notified the police.

Deeds, whether good or bad, seldom go completely unnoticed by others, much as we may think that they are in a sealed book.

The all-seeing eye of God detects not only our every word and action, but our innermost thoughts are also completely known to Him.

Keep always conscious that you are in the loving presence of your Father and you will more easily do good and avoid evil.

"There is no creature hidden from His sight, but all things are naked and open to the eyes of Him."

Modern Youngster Must Wonder At 'Joys' Of Old-Fashioned Yule

NEW YORK (AP) Many an elderly grandfather dreams this time of year of the toys of the old-fashioned Christmas.

But when he describes the yule seasons of long ago to his modern city-born grandson, the boy wonders whether they weren't a form of punishment rather than a pleasure.

"We didn't buy our tree at a supermarket," recalls Grandpa. "We went into the woods and found the one we wanted, and chopped it down ourselves, and lugged it all the way home on foot."

"Didn't you get caught?" asked the grandson.

"Oh, it wasnt against the law in those days," says Grandpa.

"And we didn't buy our ornaments from a store. We decorated the tree ourselves. We'd get needle and thread and make long strings of cranberries and pop-corn, and wind them around the tree. And we'd cut out a pasteboard star and cover it with a piece of tinfoil and put it at the top of the tree.

"We didn't have electric lights. We lit the tree with candles."

"Didn't anybody turn you in to the fire department?" asks the modern lad.

"No, the nearest fire cart was 10 miles away in town," chuckles Grandpa. "We kept a bucket of water handy in case the candles set the tree on fire.

"I can still remember how shivery cold it was on those Christmas mornings," continues Grandpa.

"Why didn't you just turn up the thermostat"

"There wasn't any thermostat in those days because there wasn't any furnace. I had to light the fire in the kitchen and parlor stoves."

"What presents did you get, Grandpa?"

"Oh, my sister usually got a doll, and I'd get maybe a sled or a new sweater."

"Is that all?" asks the child. "Yep, that was it.'

"YOU DIDN'T even get an electric train and a bicycle and a space helmet and a rocket gun and some games?"

"I bet you went out riding on your new sled right away, Grandpa."

"Nope, in those days everyone had his chores to do. I had to go out and slop the pigs, and water the horses and chop firewood for the kitchen stove, and carry out the ashes and — oh, it might be afternoon before I got to try out my sled."

TURNING to his grandson he asks: "Well, sonny, how'd you like to have an old-fashioned Christmas like that?"

"Grandpa, I'd turn in daddy and mommy to the police — and I'd turn in Santa Claus too. Nobody can treat little kids like that anymore — and get away with it."

REMEMBER WHEN

20 YEARS AGO

Plans to construct a 40-foot dam across Rush Creek (formerly Black John Slough), a tributary of Petaluma Creek about two miles north of Novato, were revealed in a notice from the Army Corps of Engineers, in San Francisco. The area, called a focus for "one of the worst mosquito breeding areas in the county," was sought to be reclaimed by the Marin Mosquito Abatement District.

STILL HIS TRUMP FACE CARD

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Concerned Over Development

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is with deep concern that some of us are seeing the beating of the tocsins in more and greater development here in Southern Marin. Two items come to mind, development along Richardson's Bay and the Enchanted Knolls areas.

There are those who came here from the city to escape just what these entrepeneurs are trying to surround us with. Are our values so distorted that we see beautiful coastal areas in terms of motels, restaurants and more apartment houses.

Who, beyond the developer wants more man-made "conveniences"? Does he live there? No. He knows better and perhaps lives on acreage away from this sort of bustle.

Take away the profit motive in this case and he would also leave the area alone.

I, for one, when taxes are mentioned would rather carry a greater share than see more amenities added which historically creates greater taxes anyway for the home owner.

I do not live in or adjacent to either area but this sort of planning envisaged is purely and simply for profit. Mind you I am just as interested in profits as the next one but I feel there are also moral responsibilities involved. There are some in the county and elsewhere who just cannot see a natural area unchanged by "man." One area could stand cleaning up, but not by developers.

We are continuously going to submit to the realtors, developers, building councils, the chamber of commerce and the rest of the coterie who see graph charts as a continuity placing their pressure on the Planning Commission, the Board of Supervisors to alter, deface, or change the natural aspect in mirroring man-made symbols?

Are we thinking and planning for the future generation's Lebensraum in giving more recreational area rather than less, or are we going to remain silent and let these people go on and on to bigger and better development of "Marvelous Marin"?

I-J Means A Lot To Soldier Away

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I wish to take just one minute in which to let you people of the Independent-Journal know how much receiving your paper each day for the last three months has meant to me.

Being in the army keeps me away from my home in San Anselmo for at times several years. My folks write family talk in their letters, but very little about the county in which I grew up.

Before last summer I spent three years in Japan and when I returned in July '59 I was truly surprised in learning how out of contact I had become with the happenings in Marin.

I believe that it would be very much appreciated by other readers to learn of your mail service so that if and when they join the armed forces they may also have the home town paper following them where ever they may be stationed.

Once again thank you for your wonderful service these last 90 days. Enclosed is a money order to take care of my subscription for the next six months.

State Should Rent College Lands

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your columnist, Henry MacArthur, is way off the beam in his recent charge that "Governor's Thinking People Advocate Socialistic Proposals." (I-J, Dec. 2).

There is nothing socialistic about the proposal to have the state buy a large enough tract so as to lease the land surrounding its new university. That's just plain common sense.

Stanford University gets considerable revenue by leasing valuable lands it owns. Columbia University gets three and one half million dollars a year for leasing the land underneath Rockefeller Center. And I imagine the same is true of many other universities. So why shouldn't the new state university do the same thing.

MacArthur apparently has never read Adam Smith. That canny Scot — known as the father of economics — clearly differentiated between ground rent and the rent paid for improvements on the ground. He said ground rent was a superior source of government revenue because it would not add to the cost of production. This fact has never been seriously challenged by any economist since. And by leasing the land surrounding the new university, the state could be assured of getting all the ground rent resulting from the presence of the university.

How much better to have the university paid for this way rather than by sales taxes or income taxes! If MacArthur is sincerely concerned about preserving our free enterprise system, he would do well to support any proposals that get the tax burden off industry and the products of industry and on the rental value of land where it belongs.

Granted that under our existing laws which exempt state land from taxation by local counties and cities, Gov. Brown's proposal would put an undue burden on other property holders in the county. But that does not mean the proposal is unsound. It's the existing laws that allow such exemptions that are unsound.

Proposed Senate Reapportionment Would Spark Bitter North-South Fight

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— Control of the California Legislature as between Northern and Southern California has been a major issues at the state Capitol for a good many years.

There was a time when Northern California controlled both the Senate and Assembly, and as a result, could hand the South the crumbs left from the gravy train table without fear of reprisals. That happy time for the North was more than 30 years ago.

THE INFLUX of population, and adoption of a plan whereby Assembly members would be elected from districts apportioned on the basis of population, and members of the Senate from the counties of the state, with no senator representing more than three counties, put an end to northern control, at least, in the Assembly.

Now, as time marches on and the issues confronting California grow larger year by year, plans are afoot in Southern California to take over control of the Senate too by submitting to the people of the state a new constitutional amendment. This would apportion the upper house on the basis of 20 senators from Northern California and 20 senators from Southern California.

THE AMENDMENT is before the attorney general for a title. If he issues a title and the sponsors obtain 420,462 signatures to qualify the amendment, the voters of California will have an opportunity to say whether or not they want this apportionment.

If the measure qualifies, it will be on the November, 1960, general election ballot.

There are many ramifications.

It is not likely that it will get much voluble support from assemblymen from Southern California. The simple reason is that most of them plan to be back in the Assembly in 1961. If they support the measure and it fails to pass, they could expect little recognition from the members of the Senate when their bills come up for consideration.

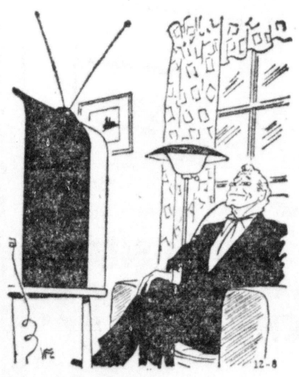

GOV. EDMUND G. Brown is afraid the presentation of the Senate reapportionment issue will endanger his water bond program, wherein he is asking the people of the state to approve an issue of $1,750,000,000. In fact, some of the comment at the Capitol is to the effect that the reapportionment issue was initiated purposely to help kill off the governor's bond issue.

Northern senators, of course, will be opposed to the proposed program. Its adoption would mean several senators would be "out of a job," as 20 seats would be given to 13 southern counties, while 45 northern counties would have to settle for the remaining 20 seats.

THE PLAN WOULD give Los Angeles County alone a total of nine state senators. This in effect, would constitue much the same set-up as existed prior to adoption of the federal plan of apportionment in the early 1920's. At that time, however, the City and County of San Francisco had the largest number of senators of any county.

Should the proposal make the 1960 general election ballot, it is a foregone conclusion it will instigate one of the bitterest battles ever seen between north and south.

Students Take Action To Make Joining Student Body Compulsory

A question which has been bothering College of Marin Trustees may become academic if student body officers of California's junior colleges have their way.

Back in September, several trustees criticized the use of "strong arm tactics" to make College of Marin students purchase student body cards. School officials, they complained, were making purchase of such cards a virtual requirement for registration. They said students were counseled to buy a card and, if temporarily short of funds, to borrow the money.

The cards cost $10 for the full school year, or $7 for the fall semester alone and $5 for the spring semester. Proceeds are used for student-sponsored campus activities.

VICE PRESIDENT Paul Clymer acknowledged that "to a certain extent" students are pressured into buying the cards. He defended the practice as "worthwhile."

"Well, I don't think it's worthwhile!' snapped trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy. "And as a board member, I am going to fight this thing as long as the law doesn't require it."

Mrs. Deedy may not have a very long fight on her hands

First steps to have the law changed were taken last month by the California Junior College Student Government Assn. at its fall conference in Berkeley.

College of Marin sent five delegates, including Jerry R. Herman, student body president. Dean of Men Irwin P. Diamond attended as their adviser.

A PRESS RELEASE from the Student Government Association reached us two weeks after the conference ended, but it's worth quoting in view of the commotion about "strong arm" methods on the Kentfield campus:

"Legislation making the purchase of student activity cards in the state's junior colleges mandatory was recommended to the state department of education yesterday (Nov. 21). . . .

"The 459 student legislators (in the statewide association) . . .proposed that the lower division institutions be allowed to charge a student body activity assessment, the maximum amount to be determined by the individual colleges.

"Other than the purchase of texts and supplies, the move, if successful, will mark the first time the tuition-free institutions have sought any type of admittance fee from the students. A similar request by the state's upper-division colleges four years ago was granted by state officials.

"The increasing cost of student-sponsored events such as athletic programs, assemblies and theater groups necessitated the action, according to spokesmen from Ventura and Citrus Colleges, who spearheaded the measure."

IT GOES WITHOUT saying that some of the 800 students at the College of Marin will resent any law forcing them to shell out 10 bucks for a student body card.

Most of the objectors will be the same students who habitually resist the pressure exerted at registration time.

Shouldn't Fail To Mark Two Historic Anniversaries

This Thursday and next Tuesday mark the anniversaries of two historic landmarks in man's age-long struggle for equality, liberty and justice.

Thursday will be the 11th anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declarations of Human Rights, drafted by the United Nations for the purpose of guaranteeing to all people everywhere freedoms like those assured Americans in the Bill of Rights.

And next Tuesday will be the 168th anniversary of the ratification of that Bill of Rights. These first 10 amendments to our federal Constitution guarantee the basic liberties to all citizens. They guarantee freedom of speech, of the press, of worship, of assembly, and of petition to all Americans regardless of race, religion, or place of birth.

In days of peace and security all of us are inclined to take these blessings for granted. We enjoy them in everyday life, regarding them as an accepted part of life itself.

But actually they are only secure as we make them; only as well protected as we are vigilant in seeing that they are always defended.

Most Americans are alert to their importance and to the need for eternal vigilance to uphold them. But there still remain in our country a few unscrupulous rabble-rousers and hate mongers who snipe at our free institutions for personal gain.

There are bigots who spew hate against the Negro or the Jew or the foreign born, blaming one or another for the nation's ills. We must recognize this type of bigotry for what it is and expose it at every opportunity.

At the same time we must keep ourselves cognizant of these rights.

In observance of Human Rights Day on Thursday, the Marin League of Women Voters units and the American Association for the United Nations are sponsoring a program in College of Marin's Olney Hall.

California Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk is going to discuss the legal and governmental aspects of human rights, while Rev. Stanley B. Scholefield, Unitarian minister from San Francisco, will speak on the spiritual and social aspects. Dr. S. I. Hayakawa from San Francisco State, will moderate the program.

We are glad Marin is taking note of the day and hope the county residents will participate.

CHILDREN CATCH THIEF

A teenage thief who had stolen a $10 roll of quarters from a service station operator's car, wondered how anyone saw him bury his loot under a tree.

But when he was taken to police headquarters, he was confronted by two children who had witnessed his operation from their perch in the branches at the top of the same tree.

The young thief had been running an errand in the station owner's car. The children were quiet but alert witnesses. After seeing him stop en route and hide the money, they immediately notified the police.

Deeds, whether good or bad, seldom go completely unnoticed by others, much as we may think that they are in a sealed book.

The all-seeing eye of God detects not only our every word and action, but our innermost thoughts are also completely known to Him.

Keep always conscious that you are in the loving presence of your Father and you will more easily do good and avoid evil.

"There is no creature hidden from His sight, but all things are naked and open to the eyes of Him."

Modern Youngster Must Wonder At 'Joys' Of Old-Fashioned Yule

NEW YORK (AP) Many an elderly grandfather dreams this time of year of the toys of the old-fashioned Christmas.

But when he describes the yule seasons of long ago to his modern city-born grandson, the boy wonders whether they weren't a form of punishment rather than a pleasure.

"We didn't buy our tree at a supermarket," recalls Grandpa. "We went into the woods and found the one we wanted, and chopped it down ourselves, and lugged it all the way home on foot."

"Didn't you get caught?" asked the grandson.

"Oh, it wasnt against the law in those days," says Grandpa.

"And we didn't buy our ornaments from a store. We decorated the tree ourselves. We'd get needle and thread and make long strings of cranberries and pop-corn, and wind them around the tree. And we'd cut out a pasteboard star and cover it with a piece of tinfoil and put it at the top of the tree.

"We didn't have electric lights. We lit the tree with candles."

"Didn't anybody turn you in to the fire department?" asks the modern lad.

"No, the nearest fire cart was 10 miles away in town," chuckles Grandpa. "We kept a bucket of water handy in case the candles set the tree on fire.

"I can still remember how shivery cold it was on those Christmas mornings," continues Grandpa.

"Why didn't you just turn up the thermostat"

"There wasn't any thermostat in those days because there wasn't any furnace. I had to light the fire in the kitchen and parlor stoves."

"What presents did you get, Grandpa?"

"Oh, my sister usually got a doll, and I'd get maybe a sled or a new sweater."

"Is that all?" asks the child.

"Yep, that was it.'

"YOU DIDN'T even get an electric train and a bicycle and a space helmet and a rocket gun and some games?"

"I bet you went out riding on your new sled right away, Grandpa."

"Nope, in those days everyone had his chores to do. I had to go out and slop the pigs, and water the horses and chop firewood for the kitchen stove, and carry out the ashes and — oh, it might be afternoon before I got to try out my sled."

TURNING to his grandson he asks: "Well, sonny, how'd you like to have an old-fashioned Christmas like that?"

"Grandpa, I'd turn in daddy and mommy to the police — and I'd turn in Santa Claus too. Nobody can treat little kids like that anymore — and get away with it."

Plans to construct a 40-foot dam across Rush Creek (formerly Black John Slough), a tributary of Petaluma Creek about two miles north of Novato, were revealed in a notice from the Army Corps of Engineers, in San Francisco. The area, called a focus for "one of the worst mosquito breeding areas in the county," was sought to be reclaimed by the Marin Mosquito Abatement District.

Concerned Over Development

The Independent-Journal welcomes letters but reserves the right to condense or edit out salacious material.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It is with deep concern that some of us are seeing the beating of the tocsins in more and greater development here in Southern Marin. Two items come to mind, development along Richardson's Bay and the Enchanted Knolls areas.

There are those who came here from the city to escape just what these entrepeneurs are trying to surround us with. Are our values so distorted that we see beautiful coastal areas in terms of motels, restaurants and more apartment houses.

Who, beyond the developer wants more man-made "conveniences"? Does he live there? No. He knows better and perhaps lives on acreage away from this sort of bustle.

Take away the profit motive in this case and he would also leave the area alone.

I, for one, when taxes are mentioned would rather carry a greater share than see more amenities added which historically creates greater taxes anyway for the home owner.

I do not live in or adjacent to either area but this sort of planning envisaged is purely and simply for profit. Mind you I am just as interested in profits as the next one but I feel there are also moral responsibilities involved. There are some in the county and elsewhere who just cannot see a natural area unchanged by "man." One area could stand cleaning up, but not by developers.

We are continuously going to submit to the realtors, developers, building councils, the chamber of commerce and the rest of the coterie who see graph charts as a continuity placing their pressure on the Planning Commission, the Board of Supervisors to alter, deface, or change the natural aspect in mirroring man-made symbols?

Are we thinking and planning for the future generation's Lebensraum in giving more recreational area rather than less, or are we going to remain silent and let these people go on and on to bigger and better development of "Marvelous Marin"?

Independent-Journal:

I wish to take just one minute in which to let you people of the Independent-Journal know how much receiving your paper each day for the last three months has meant to me.

Being in the army keeps me away from my home in San Anselmo for at times several years. My folks write family talk in their letters, but very little about the county in which I grew up.

Before last summer I spent three years in Japan and when I returned in July '59 I was truly surprised in learning how out of contact I had become with the happenings in Marin.

I believe that it would be very much appreciated by other readers to learn of your mail service so that if and when they join the armed forces they may also have the home town paper following them where ever they may be stationed.

Once again thank you for your wonderful service these last 90 days. Enclosed is a money order to take care of my subscription for the next six months.

State Should Rent College Lands

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your columnist, Henry MacArthur, is way off the beam in his recent charge that "Governor's Thinking People Advocate Socialistic Proposals." (I-J, Dec. 2).

There is nothing socialistic about the proposal to have the state buy a large enough tract so as to lease the land surrounding its new university. That's just plain common sense.

Stanford University gets considerable revenue by leasing valuable lands it owns. Columbia University gets three and one half million dollars a year for leasing the land underneath Rockefeller Center. And I imagine the same is true of many other universities. So why shouldn't the new state university do the same thing.

MacArthur apparently has never read Adam Smith. That canny Scot — known as the father of economics — clearly differentiated between ground rent and the rent paid for improvements on the ground. He said ground rent was a superior source of government revenue because it would not add to the cost of production. This fact has never been seriously challenged by any economist since. And by leasing the land surrounding the new university, the state could be assured of getting all the ground rent resulting from the presence of the university.

How much better to have the university paid for this way rather than by sales taxes or income taxes! If MacArthur is sincerely concerned about preserving our free enterprise system, he would do well to support any proposals that get the tax burden off industry and the products of industry and on the rental value of land where it belongs.

Granted that under our existing laws which exempt state land from taxation by local counties and cities, Gov. Brown's proposal would put an undue burden on other property holders in the county. But that does not mean the proposal is unsound. It's the existing laws that allow such exemptions that are unsound.

Proposed Senate Reapportionment Would Spark Bitter North-South Fight

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— Control of the California Legislature as between Northern and Southern California has been a major issues at the state Capitol for a good many years.

There was a time when Northern California controlled both the Senate and Assembly, and as a result, could hand the South the crumbs left from the gravy train table without fear of reprisals. That happy time for the North was more than 30 years ago.

THE INFLUX of population, and adoption of a plan whereby Assembly members would be elected from districts apportioned on the basis of population, and members of the Senate from the counties of the state, with no senator representing more than three counties, put an end to northern control, at least, in the Assembly.

Now, as time marches on and the issues confronting California grow larger year by year, plans are afoot in Southern California to take over control of the Senate too by submitting to the people of the state a new constitutional amendment. This would apportion the upper house on the basis of 20 senators from Northern California and 20 senators from Southern California.

THE AMENDMENT is before the attorney general for a title. If he issues a title and the sponsors obtain 420,462 signatures to qualify the amendment, the voters of California will have an opportunity to say whether or not they want this apportionment.

If the measure qualifies, it will be on the November, 1960, general election ballot.

There are many ramifications.

It is not likely that it will get much voluble support from assemblymen from Southern California. The simple reason is that most of them plan to be back in the Assembly in 1961. If they support the measure and it fails to pass, they could expect little recognition from the members of the Senate when their bills come up for consideration.

GOV. EDMUND G. Brown is afraid the presentation of the Senate reapportionment issue will endanger his water bond program, wherein he is asking the people of the state to approve an issue of $1,750,000,000. In fact, some of the comment at the Capitol is to the effect that the reapportionment issue was initiated purposely to help kill off the governor's bond issue.

Northern senators, of course, will be opposed to the proposed program. Its adoption would mean several senators would be "out of a job," as 20 seats would be given to 13 southern counties, while 45 northern counties would have to settle for the remaining 20 seats.

THE PLAN WOULD give Los Angeles County alone a total of nine state senators. This in effect, would constitue much the same set-up as existed prior to adoption of the federal plan of apportionment in the early 1920's. At that time, however, the City and County of San Francisco had the largest number of senators of any county.

Should the proposal make the 1960 general election ballot, it is a foregone conclusion it will instigate one of the bitterest battles ever seen between north and south.

Students Take Action To Make Joining Student Body Compulsory

A question which has been bothering College of Marin Trustees may become academic if student body officers of California's junior colleges have their way.

Back in September, several trustees criticized the use of "strong arm tactics" to make College of Marin students purchase student body cards. School officials, they complained, were making purchase of such cards a virtual requirement for registration. They said students were counseled to buy a card and, if temporarily short of funds, to borrow the money.

The cards cost $10 for the full school year, or $7 for the fall semester alone and $5 for the spring semester. Proceeds are used for student-sponsored campus activities.

VICE PRESIDENT Paul Clymer acknowledged that "to a certain extent" students are pressured into buying the cards. He defended the practice as "worthwhile."

"Well, I don't think it's worthwhile!' snapped trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy. "And as a board member, I am going to fight this thing as long as the law doesn't require it."

Mrs. Deedy may not have a very long fight on her hands

First steps to have the law changed were taken last month by the California Junior College Student Government Assn. at its fall conference in Berkeley.

College of Marin sent five delegates, including Jerry R. Herman, student body president. Dean of Men Irwin P. Diamond attended as their adviser.

A PRESS RELEASE from the Student Government Association reached us two weeks after the conference ended, but it's worth quoting in view of the commotion about "strong arm" methods on the Kentfield campus:

"Legislation making the purchase of student activity cards in the state's junior colleges mandatory was recommended to the state department of education yesterday (Nov. 21). . . .

"The 459 student legislators (in the statewide association) . . .proposed that the lower division institutions be allowed to charge a student body activity assessment, the maximum amount to be determined by the individual colleges.

"Other than the purchase of texts and supplies, the move, if successful, will mark the first time the tuition-free institutions have sought any type of admittance fee from the students. A similar request by the state's upper-division colleges four years ago was granted by state officials.

"The increasing cost of student-sponsored events such as athletic programs, assemblies and theater groups necessitated the action, according to spokesmen from Ventura and Citrus Colleges, who spearheaded the measure."

IT GOES WITHOUT saying that some of the 800 students at the College of Marin will resent any law forcing them to shell out 10 bucks for a student body card.

Most of the objectors will be the same students who habitually resist the pressure exerted at registration time.

Why do they resist? Probably because (1) they believe the cards have little, if any, value to them and (2) they are going through college on a shoestring and want to save every dollar they can.

Benefits of holding a student body card are listed in a handbook published by the associated students of the College of Marin.

Here's the list — so you can judge for yourself whether possession of a card is worthwhile:

FREE ADMISSION to all home athletic events except exhibition games; reduced rates on all school functions, such as dances and theater productions; 10 per cent discount at the college bookstore on purchases of $1 or more; for coeds, automatic membership in the Associated Women Students; the right to vote in class, student body, club and AWS elections.

Also, eligibility for membership in campus organizations; the right to participate in student government or run for any class or club office; free admission to special assemblies and lectures; 50 per cent discount at Larkspur's Rose Bowl dance pavilion; eligibility to participate in varsity athletic contests; use of student-owned equipment, and various special benefits and privileges established through the efforts of student body officers.

Ike Urges System Of Disarmament In Pakistan Speech

President, Host Urge Non-Red Nations To Maintain Alliances

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — President Eisenhower, speaking to a crowd reflecting this nation's poverty, today called upon all national leaders "worthy of the name" to join in an enforceable system of disarmament.

But he made it plain both the United States and Pakistan are determined to be strong so that "we may be in a better position confidently and effectively to search out paths to world peace with justice."

Backing up this theme, Eisenhower and Pakistan's President Mohammed Ayub Khan in a joint declaration urged non-Communist countries to maintain their defense alliances as a bulwark against communism.

Winding up his second day here, Eisenhower was acclaimed by Pakistanis on all sides, and hailed by the Pakistani president as one of the world's greatest champions of peace.

Eisenhower started out his event-filled day by appealing to Americans everywhere to wipe out all prejudies as a contribution to peace. He spoke to U.S. Embassy employees.

Cooperative Housing Plan Gets Go-Ahead

A new type of cooperative housing project, planned at the entrance to Terra Linda, won the go-ahead from the San Rafael City Council last night.

The developers, Stolte Co. of Oakland and Terra Linda Corp., plan to start building the three-million-dollar apartment project of 151 units next year. It will be located on about 15 acres of land north of Manual Freitas parkway on the west side of Highway 101. It will be called Terra Linda Gardens.

Attorney Roderick P. Martinelli and Calvin C. B. Wheeler, representing the devolopers, said all the buildings will be owned by one corporation for 40 years. Those who want to live there would pay $250 to $500 to buy a share in the corporation, then pay rent averaging $135 per month. The rent would cover all upkeep.

Councilmen approved the final map for the development on condition that streets and improvements will have to be installed to city specifications. Only then will the final map be recorded and the street accepted.

Wholesale Fireworks Firm Incorporating

SACRAMENTO (CNS)— Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced a wholesale fireworks firm in Marin County, Jet Dragon, Inc., has filed articles of incorporation with his office, to be capitalized at $75,000 in $100 par shares.

Directors of the company were listed as Charles A. and Virginia M. Price, 160 Deer Hollow road, Sleepy Hollow, and Robert L. Bourne, 3 Glenaire drive, San Rafael.

Package Plan For San Rafael School Bonds, Tax Levies Urged At Meet

About 40 residents of San Rafael high school and elementary school districts last night advised the board of education to present a "package" program to the voters in one election for a high school bond issue and an increase in the elementary school tax rate.

Most also favored a proposal to ask for renewal of the high school tax rate at its present $1.25 general purpose tax limit for an indefinite period.

The group attended a public meeting in the high school's Little Theater, called to discuss the bond and tax issues.

Most of those present expressed approval of a bond issue of about $2,800,000, and of voting some five years in advance of bonding capacity. It is estimated that by 1964-65 sufficient capacity will have accrued to sell the necessary bonds for the work contemplated.

The group also offered no objections to a possible elementary general purpose tax increase of 25 cents, to $1.75 per $100 assessed valution.

Final decisions on the amounts of the bond issue and tax increase to be sought will be made by the board. No date has been set for the election, but March 1 was mentioned as a possibility last night by board member Willard Vernon.

The bond issue would provide funds for enlarging Terra Linda High School, for a site for a new high school, and possible enlargement of San Rafael High School if it becomes necessary.

Vernon, who heads the committee working out details of the bond and tax issues, said the high school district is faced with the need for more room for the expanding population. Terra Linda High School, opening next September, will have about 750 students to start with, but the campus is large enough that it can be expanded to a 3,000 capacity if necessary, he said.

An immediate problem is the need to authorize a tax rate for the high school district, since the present $1.25 limit expires next June 30. Without voter action, it will fall back to the statutory limit of 75 cents per $100.

Lucas said he feels it is safe to continue the high school rate at $1.25 for three to five years.

The superintendent told the audience that by the fall of 1962, if the district does not have more high school facilities, it will have about 300 more students than it can accommodate.

Two tentative sites for a third high school have been staked out north of Puerto Suello hill, he added.

Lucas said it would cost about $2,312,000 for the additions planned to expand Terra Linda High to an 1,800 capacity according to architects' estimates.

The high school district's present bonding capacity is $1,129,700, the superintendent said. Based on predicted increases in assessed valuation and retirement of bonds, an additional $220,000 is expected to accrue in 1961-62; $250,000 in 1962-63, and about $250,000 each year following.

Turning to the problem of the elementary district, Lucas said for five of the last seven years the tax rate had been levied at the $1.50 maximum.

It will take about nine cents additional on the tax rate to bring the elementary teachers salary schedule up to that of the high school schedule, a move the board wants to make, Lucas said.

An additional two cents increase is sought to increase the budget for instructional materials. This has remained the same since 1953, the superintendent reported.

And to carry on a building and grounds program, development of facilities in and outside schools, will take another one-and-one-half, or two cents, he said.

Board member Vernon said he hoped to hold an organizational meeting in January to plan the election campaign.

Slayer Of Wife Starts Sentence

San Gabriel contractor Robert Burdette Rogers, 40, left for the state Medical Facility at Vacaville yesterday to start serving a five-year-to-life term in state prison.

He was convicted last Friday of second degree murder for the gun-slaying of his wife, Bertie, in a San Rafael home last August. Judge Jordan L. Martinelli of Marin Superior Court found Rogers guilty of murder in the second degree.

Councilmen approved the final map for the development on condition that streets and improvements will have to be installed to city specifications. Only then will the final map be recorded and the street accepted.

Package Plan For San Rafael School Bonds, Tax Levies Urged At Meet

About 40 residents of San Rafael high school and elementary school districts last night advised the board of education to present a "package" program to the voters in one election for a high school bond issue and an increase in the elementary school tax rate.

Most also favored a proposal to ask for renewal of the high school tax rate at its present $1.25 general purpose tax limit for an indefinite period.

The group attended a public meeting in the high school's Little Theater, called to discuss the bond and tax issues.

Most of those present expressed approval of a bond issue of about $2,800,000, and of voting some five years in advance of bonding capacity. It is estimated that by 1964-65 sufficient capacity will have accrued to sell the necessary bonds for the work contemplated.

The group also offered no objections to a possible elementary general purpose tax increase of 25 cents, to $1.75 per $100 assessed valution.

Final decisions on the amounts of the bond issue and tax increase to be sought will be made by the board. No date has been set for the election, but March 1 was mentioned as a possibility last night by board member Willard Vernon.

The bond issue would provide funds for enlarging Terra Linda High School, for a site for a new high school, and possible enlargement of San Rafael High School if it becomes necessary.

Vernon, who heads the committee working out details of the bond and tax issues, said the high school district is faced with the need for more room for the expanding population. Terra Linda High School, opening next September, will have about 750 students to start with, but the campus is large enough that it can be expanded to a 3,000 capacity if necessary, he said.

An immediate problem is the need to authorize a tax rate for the high school district, since the present $1.25 limit expires next June 30. Without voter action, it will fall back to the statutory limit of 75 cents per $100.

Lucas said he feels it is safe to continue the high school rate at $1.25 for three to five years.

The superintendent told the audience that by the fall of 1962, if the district does not have more high school facilities, it will have about 300 more students than it can accommodate.

Two tentative sites for a third high school have been staked out north of Puerto Suello hill, he added.

Lucas said it would cost about $2,312,000 for the additions planned to expand Terra Linda High to an 1,800 capacity according to architects' estimates.

The high school district's present bonding capacity is $1,129,700, the superintendent said. Based on predicted increases in assessed valuation and retirement of bonds, an additional $220,000 is expected to accrue in 1961-62; $250,000 in 1962-63, and about $250,000 each year following.

Turning to the problem of the elementary district, Lucas said for five of the last seven years the tax rate had been levied at the $1.50 maximum.

It will take about nine cents additional on the tax rate to bring the elementary teachers salary schedule up to that of the high school schedule, a move the board wants to make, Lucas said.

An additional two cents increase is sought to increase the budget for instructional materials. This has remained the same since 1953, the superintendent reported.

And to carry on a building and grounds program, development of facilities in and outside schools, will take another one-and-one-half, or two cents, he said.

Board member Vernon said he hoped to hold an organizational meeting in January to plan the election campaign.

Slayer Of Wife Starts Sentence

San Gabriel contractor Robert Burdette Rogers, 40, left for the state Medical Facility at Vacaville yesterday to start serving a five-year-to-life term in state prison.

He was convicted last Friday of second degree murder for the gun-slaying of his wife, Bertie, in a San Rafael home last August. Judge Jordan L. Martinelli of Marin Superior Court found Rogers guilty of murder in the second degree.

Mitchell Urges Steel Dispute Be Submitted To Arbitration

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell today advised union and management negotiators to submit the steel dispute to arbitration or let a neutral third party recommend settlement terms.

Mitchell said these procedures would meet approval of President Eisenhower, who appealed to both sides to reach an agreement oby collective bargaining before he returns from his overseas goodwill tour on Dec. 22.

The cabinet officer made these suggestions to the "Big 11" steel companies and the steelworkers union at a news conference:

1. Mutually and voluntarily agree on allowing a board to recommend a settlement to provide the framework for agreement.

2. Both sides agree voluntarily to arbitrate issues which they cannot work out themselves.

3. Request Federal Mediation Director Joseph F. Finnegan to make recommendations and use them as a framework to build a settlement.

Asked for his views on the prospects for settlement, Mitchell replied:

"I believe that the parties are close enough in their positions that, given a real will to settle on both sides, a settlement can be achieved within the 80-day cooling off period."

The steel workers are now working under a Taft-Hartley injunction which expires Jan. 26.

Reorganization Planning Funds Asked Of State

The Marin County Board of Education last night unanimously backed a proposal for the state to provide funds for master planning reorganization of all county school districts.

The board unanimously voted to write Gov. Edmund G. Brown urging him to put funds into this year's state budget for use by county committees on school district reorganization.

The matter came before the board from member Adele Alpers, who noted the state Legislature passed a law this year requiring such master planning by 1936. But in getting the bill passed, "all funds were eliminated," she pointed out.

"The governor has been contacted and he is interested in the problem," Mrs. Alpers said.

Supt. Virgil S. Hollis said some counties had estimated $35,000 would be needed for such a county master plan.

The board heard a report on teaching of mathematics by Abe Milstein of the county superintendent's staff. Milstein received his Doctor of Education degree at Stanford Universiaty just a week ago.

Milstein said that the teaching of the "new mathematics" is much faster and better than old methods, but, in experimental classes, it has been found difficult for the parents, and some older teachers, to accept the new method.

The board also:

1. Authorized purchase of a surplus 39-passenger bus from Hamilton Air Force Base for $150.
2. Accepted a $100 donation from Dr. Stephen A. Duff for purchase of physical therapy equipment at the Marindale School.
3. Approved hiring of two bus bus drivers, Mrs. Glenna Glass of Novato, replacing Ross Turney, and Mis Virginia Gilman, former San Anselmo and San Rafael School Districts' bus driver, replacing Mrs. Iona Sheets. Mrs. Glass will keep the county's station wagon in her own garage.

Larkspur Board To Hear Lunch Program Report

A report on operation of an experimental school lunch program at Larkspur's Henry C. Hall School will be given to Larkspur School District trustees tonight by Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel.

The program, first of its kind in the United States, involves the use of frozen, pre-cooked, heat-and-serve lunches packaged in aluminum foil.

The board will discuss the problem of acquiring a school site east of Highway 101 in Corte Madera and the possibility of providing a safer route for children walking from Larkspur's Heather Gardens district to Hall School.

The meeting will start at 7:30 in Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

New Committee On Government Formed By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has named a 23-member commission to allocate governmental functions, responsibilities and revenues among the several levels of government.

The White House, in announcing appointment of the "Advisory Commission on Inter-Governmental Relations," today said the President selected the members before leaving on his peace tour.

The commission replaces the joint Federal-State Committee on Inter-governmental Relations set up by the governors conference at Eisenhower's suggestion. It will hold an organization meeting at the White House next Monday.

PRIVATE AFFAIR

San Rafael Backs Off From Pathway Feud

San Rafael has no power to step into the neighborhood feud over a 12-foot wide "no-man's land" in Westland Park, the city attorney ruled last night.

Residents in the area have been using a pathway from Sunset way to Neame street. They complained that the E. C. Tiptons of 25 Sunset way were blocking the pathway so that pedestrians can no longer use the lane.

City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw investigated and found that the Marin Municipal Water District had acquired either fee title or an easement on the strip of land in 1918. The city has no power to compel the Tiptons to remove obstructions or to improve the lane for pedestrian use, said Bagshaw.

It is a private affair, and the city will take a "hands-off" policy, it was decided.

Councilmen asked the city manager to study a request for purchase of city-owned tidelands. Lincoln Lumber Co. of Lafayette plans to build 2,000 marina-type homes on about 900 acres of tidelands, to be filled east of the present shoreline. The proposal is to cover the mudflats as far as the Marin Island to the east, and near the Marin Rod and Gun Club to the south.

In other action last night, the city council:

1. Asked the city manager to study various requests for lease of a part of the municipal parking lot at Second and Lincoln. Oil companies want to put in a service station there.
2. New signals will be installed at Fourth and A street and at Fifth and H street.
3. Paul DiPietro was reappointed to the Marin Mosquito Abatement District board of directors.
4. Took no action on a request for extension of time to complete the new library addition. Wilco Construction Co. of San Francisco wrote a letter, explaining that late delivery of sash and entrance doors is holding up completion. City fathers decided to wait until the job is completed, then see what extension if any should be granted.
5. Approved Parnow Bros. petition to annex 27 acres of Cypress Point to San Rafael. It is located south of San Pedro road, between Seaview way and Bellevue avenue. William Parnow plans to put in 50 waterfront lots there.

Pact Signed For Novato Airport Work

An agreement was approved today which will permit Marin County to go ahead with improvement of Novato airport. It also sets a deadline of April 1 for final consumation of its purchase.

The agreement was signed by the Marin Board of Supervisors this morning after reaching agreement with airport owner W. Q. Wright Jr. and lessee H. O. Tolefson.

It provides that the county may spend up to $8,000 in necessary fill, building an access road, drainage, runway and other improvements.

If the purchase agreement with Wright and a sublease agreement with Tolefson are not consummated by the deadline, Wright and Tolefson will be required to pay for the costs of the improvements.

Marin Artists To Sketch, Paint At Sale

A group of Marin artists will sketch or paint portraits of children or adults during the Christmas sale sponsored by the Marin Society of Artists tomorrow through Dec. 16 at the Marin Art and Garden Center, Ross.

Subjects may sit for Elizabeth Vreeland, water colorist, tomorrow; for ink sketches by Lucienne Bloch on Saturday, and for oil paintings by Mary Rowley on Sunday and Monday. Dania Burmester, pastel artist, will also be scheduled.

Featured at the sale to be held daily from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Frances Young gallery at the center will be Sumi painting by T. Mikami of San Francisco, and oil and water colors by Warren Brandon.

Raffia and reed novelties, and mobiles by Joanna Drajes of Tiburon will also be offered.

Valborg (Mama) Gravander, Mill Valley weaver, will serve Swedish cookies, coffee and glug, a Swedish holiday drink.

Belvedere Council Sticks To Its Refusal To Accept Street

Despite insistance of Eucalyptus road residents that the road should be accepted "as is" into Belvedere's city street system, the Belvedere City Council last night refused to alter its decision of a previous meeting requiring residents to bring the road up standard before acceptance.

During the past month Councilmen H. Nordmark Williams and E. G. Weed met with property owners Lloyd M. Tweedt and H. S. Meinberger in an effort to reach an agreement. But their talks failed, they reported.

Property owners contended that, although living on a private road, they have paid taxes to the city to maintain other city streets. So city tax money should used to bring Eucalyptus road up to standard.

The residents also claimed that by installing a sewer underneath the street, the city had accepted it.

Tweedt cited a Supreme Court decision that, if a governing body makes use of a street, it accepts it.

City Atty. William M. MacKay argued that inasmuch as the street is a cul de sac, those using it normally are residents and invitees. No responsibility is therefore imposed on the city, he said.

"There is no reason to change our minds," said Mayor Robert P. Watkins, "The city cannot accept it until it is up to standard."

The United States produces about 20 per cent of the world's cherry crop.

Corte Madera To Crack Down On Illegal Fires

The Corte Madera Town Council last night threatened a crack-down on violators of the town's anti-burning ordinance and hinted it may stop sending Corte Madera fire trucks to adjacent areas which have no fire departments of their own.

"It's unfair to our taxpayers," declared Mayor Roger F. Morse, "when 10 or 12 volunteer firemen are called out at $3 an hour just because somebody is ignoring basic rules."

Persons who burn grass or debris in violation of the ordinance should be stuck with the cost of fighting any fire that results, Morse declared. His fellow councilmen agreed and ordered Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow and Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson to present a firm policy recommendation at the next meeting, Dec. 21 at 7:30 p.m.

'SHOULD BE ENFORCED'

Councilman Edward W. Colthurt declared Corte Madera has on its books a resolution that its fire trucks will not roll to blazes in adjacent areas where no mutual aid agreement exists. But they do it, despite the resolution, Brandow reported.

The three councilmen present at the meeting—Morse, Colthurst and Walter S. Long—instructed Brandow to look into the matter.

"If we have such a resolution, it should be enforced," commented Morse.

OTHER ACTIONS

Councilmen also:

1. Decided town employees shall be paid an amount equivalent to the cost of available public transportation to and from courses of instruction recommended by the council.
2. Appointed William B. Gilbert of 401 Chapman drive, to the Corte Madera Board of Design, succeeding Donald Paranteau, who recently resigned because he moved out of town.
3. Instructed Brandow to study which street might be restricted for heavy truck traffic and which streets might best be protected from damage by means of a maintenance bond.
4. Deferred action on a proposed ordinance to outlaw door-to-door solicitors after instructing Nelson in his capacity as police chief to come up with a definite proposal.
5. Approved minor changes recommended by town Atty. John B. Ehlen, in the proposed new sign ordinance and scheduled reintroduction of the ordinance for Dec. 21.
6. Agreed in principle to a plan whereby the town would foot one-half the cost of improving Pixley street between Tamalpais avenue and Redwood road, provided property owners finance engineering studies.
7. Agreed to put up town-owned Christmas decorations at various places and to decorate the town hall, at a total cost of $100.

COUPLE SOLVENT AGAIN, THANKS TO SERGEANT

Unlike Diogenes, who never found an honest man, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Howen of Dearborn, Mich., found one yesterday in Novato.

He is S/Sgt. James H. Wells of Headquarters Division, Western Air Defense Force, who lives at 607 Louise avenue.

Through his efforts—and honesty—a wallet containing $800 in cash and a bank book with a balance of $37,000, lost by Mrs. Howen on Saturday, was returned to them intact.

Wells found the wallet and bank book in Mrs. Howen's purse about 4 p.m. in a vacant lot next to the First National Bank at 881 Grant avenue.

Through the efforts of the sheriff's office, the Howens were located and the money returned.

The $37,000 had been deposited in the First National Bank the day before. It was earmarked for the purchase of a home in Novato.

Hub Landmark Rezoning Bid Opening Tonight

Bids for demolishing San Anselmo's famed "old brick building" are to be opened by the city council at its meeting at 8 tonight in the city hall.

The "old brick building" is the former powerhouse of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, which the city acquired after the railroad abandoned its electric line from Manor to Sausalito. It has been used for storage of city equipment.

Moving of the city equipment to the new corporation yard on the Sorich Dairy property at the end of San Francisco boulevard was completed yesterday under direction of Street Supt. Nello Marcucci.

Appointment of a city administrator may be discussed tonight, but Mayor Arthur W. Smith said today he doubted whether action will be taken. Two candidates for the job were interviewed by city councilmen Saturday.

Planner Asked To Serve On Study Group

George Goddard, Belvedere Planning Commission chairman, has been asked by the Belvedere City Council to represent the city on a committee to determine if professional help should be sought to study the proposed annexation of all or part of Tiburon to Belvedere.

A request for study of the annexation came to the council last month from the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce. It was referred to the planners. The planners sent the matter back to the council, suggesting professional help should be sought.

Peter Magowan, of the Tiburon Coordinating Council, said that group favored such a study.

"We don't know if we are for or against annexation," said Mayor Robert P. Watkins, "but we are interested in learning if it could help us solve some of our problems."

2 Marin City Apartments To Be Rushed

Marin residents may get a preview soon of what the insides of apartments will look like at the Marin City low-rent project.

Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency, said members of those agencies yesterday decided to rush development of two of the units. He said they may be completed by February.

Klahn said both apartments will be completely equipped, and one will be furnished.

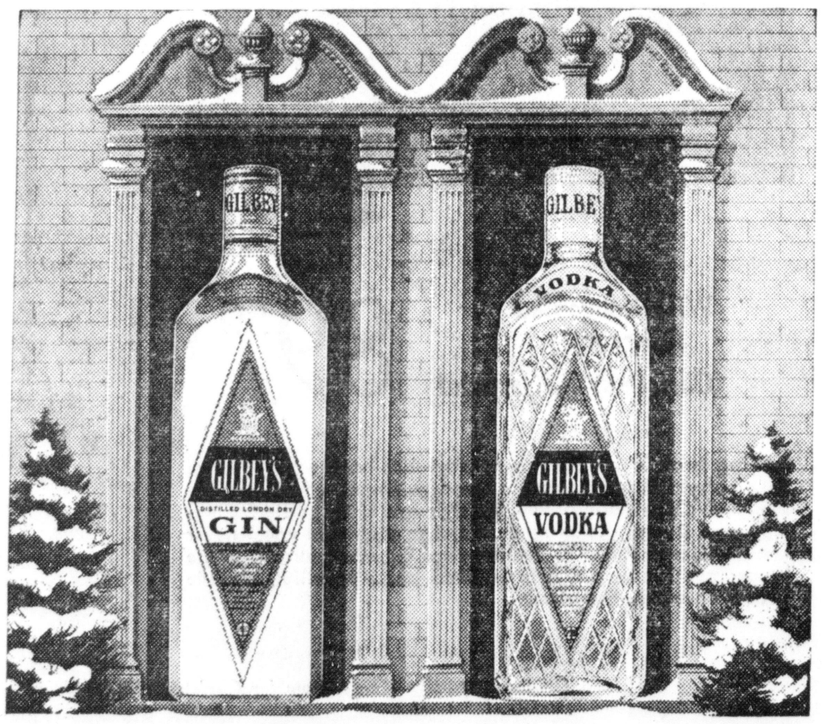

The director told the commissioners that the low-rent project is now 61 per cent completed.

The commissioners decided to push ahead for permanent bond financing. The project is now being operated under temporary bonds. The commission decided yesterday to sell $4,350,000 in bonds for permanent financing next April. They named the American Trust Co.-Wells Fargo of Sausalito as fiscal agent.

During the past month Councilmen H. Nordmark Williams and E. G. Weed met with property owners Lloyd M. Tweedt and H. S. Meinberger in an effort to reach an agreement. But their talks failed, they reported.

Property owners contended that, although living on a private road, they have paid taxes to the city to maintain other city streets. So city tax money should used to bring Eucalyptus road up to standard.

The residents also claimed that by installing a sewer underneath the street, the city had accepted it.

Tweedt cited a Supreme Court decision that, if a governing body makes use of a street, it accepts it.

City Atty. William M. MacKay argued that inasmuch as the street is a cul de sac, those using it normally are residents and invitees. No responsibility is therefore imposed on the city, he said.

"There is no reason to change our minds," said Mayor Robert P. Watkins, "The city cannot accept it until it is up to standard."

Corte Madera To Crack Down On Illegal Fires

The Corte Madera Town Council last night threatened a crack-down on violators of the town's anti-burning ordinance and hinted it may stop sending Corte Madera fire trucks to adjacent areas which have no fire departments of their own.

"It's unfair to our taxpayers," declared Mayor Roger F. Morse, "when 10 or 12 volunteer firemen are called out at $3 an hour just because somebody is ignoring basic rules."

Persons who burn grass or debris in violation of the ordinance should be stuck with the cost of fighting any fire that results, Morse declared. His fellow councilmen agreed and ordered Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow and Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson to present a firm policy recommendation at the next meeting, Dec. 21 at 7:30 p.m.

'SHOULD BE ENFORCED'

Councilman Edward W. Colthurt declared Corte Madera has on its books a resolution that its fire trucks will not roll to blazes in adjacent areas where no mutual aid agreement exists. But they do it, despite the resolution, Brandow reported.

The three councilmen present at the meeting—Morse, Colthurst and Walter S. Long—instructed Brandow to look into the matter.

"If we have such a resolution, it should be enforced," commented Morse.

OTHER ACTIONS

Councilmen also:

1. Decided town employees shall be paid an amount equivalent to the cost of available public transportation to and from courses of instruction recommended by the council.
2. Appointed William B. Gilbert of 401 Chapman drive, to the Corte Madera Board of Design, succeeding Donald Paranteau, who recently resigned because he moved out of town.
3. Instructed Brandow to study which street might be restricted for heavy truck traffic and which streets might best be protected from damage by means of a maintenance bond.
4. Deferred action on a proposed ordinance to outlaw door-to-door solicitors after instructing Nelson in his capacity as police chief to come up with a definite proposal.
5. Approved minor changes recommended by town Atty. John B. Ehlen, in the proposed new sign ordinance and scheduled reintroduction of the ordinance for Dec. 21.
6. Agreed in principle to a plan whereby the town would foot one-half the cost of improving Pixley street between Tamalpais avenue and Redwood road, provided property owners finance engineering studies.
7. Agreed to put up town-owned Christmas decorations at various places and to decorate the town hall, at a total cost of $100.

COUPLE SOLVENT AGAIN, THANKS TO SERGEANT

Unlike Diogenes, who never found an honest man, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Howen of Dearborn, Mich., found one yesterday in Novato.

He is S/Sgt. James H. Wells of Headquarters Division, Western Air Defense Force, who lives at 607 Louise avenue.

Through his efforts—and honesty—a wallet containing $800 in cash and a bank book with a balance of $37,000, lost by Mrs. Howen on Saturday, was returned to them intact.

Wells found the wallet and bank book in Mrs. Howen's purse about 4 p.m. in a vacant lot next to the First National Bank at 881 Grant avenue.

Through the efforts of the sheriff's office, the Howens were located and the money returned.

The $37,000 had been deposited in the First National Bank the day before. It was earmarked for the purchase of a home in Novato.

Hub Landmark Rezoning Bid Opening Tonight

Bids for demolishing San Anselmo's famed "old brick building" are to be opened by the city council at its meeting at 8 tonight in the city hall.

The "old brick building" is the former powerhouse of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, which the city acquired after the railroad abandoned its electric line from Manor to Sausalito. It has been used for storage of city equipment.

Moving of the city equipment to the new corporation yard on the Sorich Dairy property at the end of San Francisco boulevard was completed yesterday under direction of Street Supt. Nello Marcucci.

Appointment of a city administrator may be discussed tonight, but Mayor Arthur W. Smith said today he doubted whether action will be taken. Two candidates for the job were interviewed by city councilmen Saturday.

Planner Asked To Serve On Study Group

George Goddard, Belvedere Planning Commission chairman, has been asked by the Belvedere City Council to represent the city on a committee to determine if professional help should be sought to study the proposed annexation of all or part of Tiburon to Belvedere.

A request for study of the annexation came to the council last month from the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce. It was referred to the planners. The planners sent the matter back to the council, suggesting professional help should be sought.

Peter Magowan, of the Tiburon Coordinating Council, said that group favored such a study.

"We don't know if we are for or against annexation," said Mayor Robert P. Watkins, "but we are interested in learning if it could help us solve some of our problems."

2 Marin City Apartments To Be Rushed

Marin residents may get a preview soon of what the insides of apartments will look like at the Marin City low-rent project.

Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency, said members of those agencies yesterday decided to rush development of two of the units. He said they may be completed by February.

Klahn said both apartments will be completely equipped, and one will be furnished.

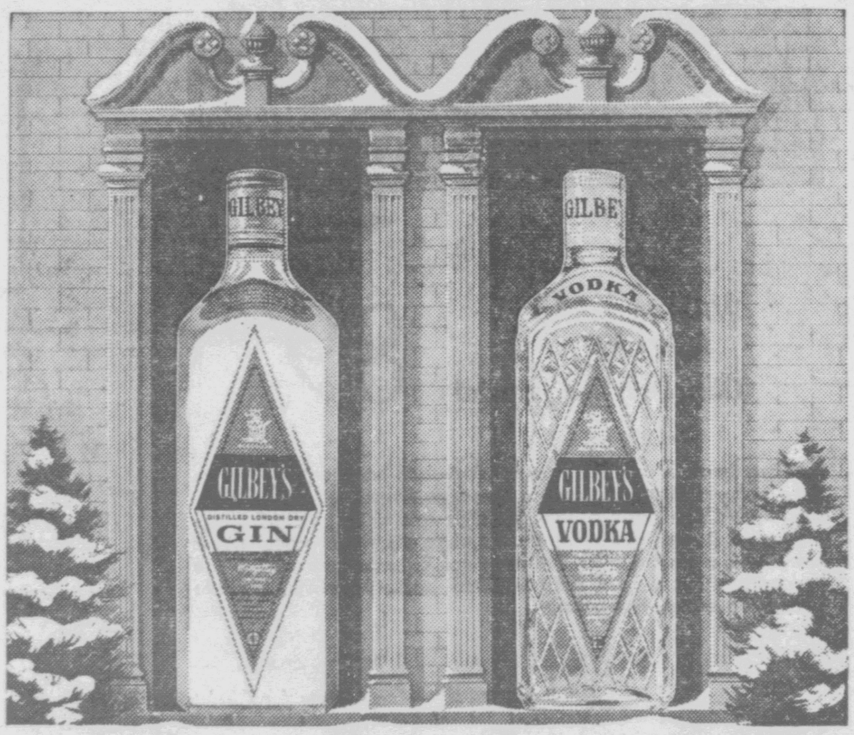

The director told the commissioners that the low-rent project is now 61 per cent completed.

The commissioners decided to push ahead for permanent bond financing. The project is now being operated under temporary bonds. The commission decided yesterday to sell $4,350,000 in bonds for permanent financing next April. They named the American Trust Co.-Wells Fargo of Sausalito as fiscal agent.

BARKING UP THE RIGHT WAVELENGTH—Robert Scott Ringwald, who combines music as a livelihood with amateur radio as a hobby, brought along his "ham" equipment on return to Guide Dogs for the Blind for training with a new dog. So it's only natural that Xanthus, the dog, makes a woofer out of the beeper now and then.

This Guide Dog Gets On Radio Occasionally

Anyone who has been startled by a bark or two when listening to short-wave radio during the last few weeks may blame Robert Scott Ringwald, a "ham" radio enthusiast who operates under call letters K6YBV.

Ringwald is a pupil at Guide Dogs for the Blind, back for the second time to replace Pukka, his guide that died recently.

Ringwald brought all his "ham" equipment from his home in Citrus Heights when returning to San Rafael to train with a new guide dog. Stringing his wires from the tree nearest the room he shares with Jose Taglies, another teenager, he spent every free moment introducing Xanthus, his new German shepherd, to friends across the country by radio. Occasionally, too, one of the other dogs in the class managed to get into the act.

In 1957, when Ringwald was at Guide Dogs for the first time, he was a high school freshman. Despite his youth, he was already a member of the Musicians Union and headed a well known combo which played for dances in Sacramento County. He was full of the curiosity so natural to boys his age, so shortly after Pukka, his first guide dog and a German shepherd, was issued to him he talked his classmates into making an impromptu visit to the Independent-Journal and station KTIM.

In those days Ringwald talked of attending college, but no more. The past two and a half years have brought changes in him: a new beard to go with his new philosophy.

"I may sound like a beatnick, but I just don't see the point of continuing school for four more years when I can earn a good living as a musician," he said.

Ringwald reflected a moment, then added "Guess the real reason I've decided to concentrate on the band is that I enjoy playing—and I like to make people happy."

This desire to please must be obvious, for when Bob left Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., last Sunday to entertain at the Christmas party the Big Brothers of San Francisco gave at the Olympic Club, he answered so many special requests that he was at the piano for almost two hours.

Ringwald was a candidate for valedictorian of the class which will be graduated from Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., on Saturday.

"I'm not much of a talker," he said, asking that his name be withdrawn.

Elected as speaker was Ralph D. Walters, a University of California student, working on his doctorate. Walters, who lives in Oakland, will graduate with Raven, a Labrador retriever.

Also to be graduated will be: Richard Clyde Dillon of Paso Robles, with Xodus, a German shepherd; Wilford I. Sorter of Sacramento, with Zaida, a Chesapeake Bay retriever: Jose Taglies of Los Angeles, with Nancy, a Boxer; Mrs. Evelyn A. White of Long Beach, with Theo, a Golden retriever, and Mrs. Maxine Peck of San Francisco who has spent the last four weeks learning to operate the Braille switchboard, having received Ida, a German shepherd guide, last August.

Builders See Decline In New Houses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Home builders from various parts of the nation predicted today that new housing starts will decline next year because of a shortage of mortgage money and high interest rates.

Some said private housing starts would drop 25 per cent from this year's 1,300,000 units. But most builders attending an annual outlook session at the National Housing Center expected a decline of 10 to 15 per cent.

They also forecast higher prices because of a trend towards bigger houses, and rising costs of materials, labor, land, land development, and taxes.

It was generally agreed that the tight loan money situation was pinching GI mortgages hardest because of their fixed maximum interest rate of 5¼ per cent. A few builders said GI loans simply are not available.

Gasoline Stolen From Five Buses

Vandals broke into five school buses at Novato High School and stole about 10 gallons of gasoline from one of the vehicles, Sheriff's Deputy Ernest Nielsen reported yesterday.

One of the bus drivers, Mrs. Lena Blaski, called the sheriff at 6:40 a.m. to report the damage. Nielsen said the vandals had pried doors to enter three buses, and the other two were not locked. A gasoline cap was broken on one vehicle, and gasoline siphoned.

Tam Trustees See Plans For Improvements

Preliminary plans and rough sketches of proposed improvements at Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake High Schools were shown to trustees of Tamalpais Union High School District last night.

Most of the presentation by architect Ralph B. Priestley concerned work which might be accomplished if the district had the necessary funds.

The board last month called off a $6,210,000 school bond election which had been set for Jan. 26. The action was taken after members of a citizen delegation predicted defeat for the measure unless more time was allowed for a campaign.

It was announced last night that a citizen steering committee for a future bond election will be organized Dec. 17 at a meeting at 8 p.m. in the district office at Redwood High.

Robert D. Torrey, director of instruction, gave a progress report on the district's experimental extended-day academic program for college preparatory students. The 140 enrolled in the program start school at 7:30 a.m., one hour before the regular school day begins.

Torrey said a survey of the enrollees indicated general enthusiasm for the program. He reported some faculty members had questioned its need, believing the money might be better spent for reducing the size of regular classes or expanding the summer school program.

Harry G. Russell, principal of the district's adult evening school, reported on his follow-up survey of June graduates of district schools. He said 63 per cent of the 581 graduates are continuing their education in colleges or other schools.

SOME IN SERVICE

Another 24 per cent are working, Russell said, while 9 per cent are in the armed services.

The board also:

1. Restored Paul T. Daly of Kentfield, who has been ill, to the status of full-time industrial arts teacher at Redwood, effective Feb. 1.

2. Accepted gifts of books for the libraries of the three schools and heard a report that the Redwood library is expanding at the rate of 250 volumes per month.

3. Learned that Harold M. Engle, the district's structural engineer, will meet Wednesday with engineers of the Marin County Housing Authority on proposed improvement of a future school site in Marin City.

Heads Wave recruiting

Navy Names New Wave Recruiter

A Dominican College graduate tomorrow takes over the duties of director of Waves recruiting for Northern California, Nevada and Utah.

Lt. Robin L. Quigley, who took a degree in music from the college in 1951, will supervise and coordinate Wave recruitment from her offices in the San Francisco Federal Office Building.

She is a daughter of Maj. and Mrs. P. S. Quigley of Elmendorf Air Force Base in Anchorage, Alaska.

She succeeds Lt. Margie Screws, who has been recruiting director for the past three years.

Education Board To Meet Tonight

Another try for agreement on the "No Man's Land" that separates Terra Linda High School from an extension of Freitas Parkway is scheduled at tonight's meeting of the San Rafael Board of Education, set for 7:30 p.m. in the city schools office on Mission avenue.

The board last week agreed to offer to pay about $4,500 for slightly less than an acre of the "No Man's Land." The Freitas Estate has asked that the high school district buy the entire parcel, about one and one-half acres.

Fairfax Native Sons Plan Christmas Party

Fairfax Parlor 307 of the Native Sons of the Golden West will stage a variety show at its Christmas party on Dec. 16. The 7:30 p.m. party will be held at the Fairfax Women's Club on Park road.

Santa Claus is slated to be guest of honor at the evening's doings. He will give toys and candy to the children. Grant Halsing is in charge of entertainment.

Doctor, Girl Deny Plotting To Kill Wife

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Handsome socialite Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his red-haired paramour today pleaded innocent to charges they conspired to murder Finch's estranged wife, Barbara Jean, 33.

The courtroom was crowded with spectators eager to hear details of an illicit romance between Finch, 42, and Carole Tregoff, 22, his former receptionist at nearby West Covina.

OBJECTS TO CHANGE

Miss Tregoff's attorney, Rexford Eagan, said almost immediately that she "strenuously objects to any change of venue." He said she had inadequate funds to be tried in any other area.

"Even if this were not so," Egan stated, "she was born here and lived here all her life. And she has an innate trust in the justice of the jurors of the people she knows."

This set off some sarcastic remarks from Finch's attorney, Grant B. Cooper, who said the doctor also had faith in the justice of the jurors but felt that impartiality would be impossible because of the widespread publicity given the case.

SHARP GLANCE

Finch gave Miss Tregoff a sharp glance but neither spoke.

But there were some obvious frictions between the opposing sides.

"I would like to point out that at this moment there is no provision for seating at the defense table for the defendant or his counsel," Cooper told the court.

Finch sat off in a corner while Miss Tregoff sat at the defense table.

Injuries Result Of Fall, Man Convinces Police

Lloyd E. Priest, 48, South San Francisco railroad worker who was found dazed and bruised Nov. 24 in a Belvedere parking lot, was injured during a fall, Belvedere police today said he told them.

Priest was found unconscious near a high wall after he and two other persons had arrived in Belvedere after a boat ride from Fishermen's Wharf, San Francisco.

Police at first thought he may been beaten. The day after Priest was found they located his two companions. The pair said they had "lost" Priest and left Belvedere without him.

Priest, in critical condition, is under treatment at Southern Pacific Hospital in San Francisco. Police said they had questioned him and now are convinced that he fell.

WARRANTS THREATENED

Corte Madera Warns Two About Sign Law

"Christmas bells ringing" in the ears of John B. Ehlen, Corte Madera town attorney, have prevented the immediate arrest of two businessmen for failure to comply with the town's sign ordinance.

Town councilmen had earlier instructed Ehlen to call for the arrest of James Stockman, owner of Edgewater Inn Motel, and Bob Campbell, owner of Bob's of Marin restaurant. Both allegedly refused to comply with the ordinance by neglecting to remove three directional signs along Highway 101.

STEPS TAKEN

But Ehlen said at last night's council meeting that he had not ordered the arrests after Stockman's attorney assured him steps were being taken "to straighten out the matter."

This aroused the wrath of Mayor Robert F. Morse.

"I heard Christmas bells ringing in my ears," said Ehlen.

"What does this council have to do to get you to carry out a directive?" demanded Morse.

"I thought a sincere effort was being made to correct the situation," retorted Ehlen. "This is a serious thing—to arrest a person for something as simple as a sign ordinance violation."

TALK TO COUNCIL?

"Did it ever occur to you to talk to a member of the council?" asked the mayor.

"Let's get one thing straight," shot back Ehlen. "This council meets officially only one time. It would have been necessary to call a special meeting."

"The town leans on you heavily for counsel," said Morse. "Why don't you give it?"

"Do you really think the town will collapse if the sign situation isn't straightened out?" asked Ehlen.

Other businessmen have been denied permits to erect similar signs, said Morse. "It's a problem that has been with us for years."

Councilmen then took the advice of Ehlen and agreed to hold back issuance of the warrants for seven days after a warning letter is sent to each of the two men.

Plane Escorts Crippled Craft

The 41st Air Rescue Squadron, based at Hamilton Air Force Base, today performed its 230th rescue this year when one of its planes escorted a crippled C118 Military Air Transport Service plane to safety.

The stricken plane, the military version of a Constellation, radioed at 5:30 a.m. today that one of its engines was inoperable at a point 600 miles at sea. The transport, with Maj. H. W. Sanford at the controls, was bound for Hickham Air Force Base, Hawaii, with 14 aboard

Contact with the transport was made 200 miles at sea by a SA16 Albatross of the 41st squadron piloted by Capt. Harry Cole, 1328 Cambridge street, Novato. The intercept mission was completed when both planes landed safely at 7:45 a.m. at Travis Air Force Base.

Tests conducted by the Interior Department indicate that hard-shelled clams can be encouraged to grow 17 per cent faster through selective breeding methods.

Bolinas Mesa Setback Change Abandoned

An effort to change the front yard set back requirements on Bolinas Mesa from 25 feet to 20 feet was abandoned by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday after indications of disapproval by most of the residents concerned.

But when Commissioner Margaret Azevedo withdrew her proposed amendment to a pertinent ordinance and the board concurred, it left Glenn L. Morning with a completed house in the wrong spot under existing law—and the commission found him in violation.

Morning, having built a single-family home within 22 feet of the front line on Pine road, had applied for an adjustment. This was deferred while the commission considered the proposal to change the law to 20 feet.

Thirteen letter pro and con were read.

Frank Fuller, chairman of the Bolinas Improvement Club, which he said numbers 80 per cent of mesa residents, rose to report that his organization had just registered a five-to-one vote to "leave as is."

"Next year we hope to present a lot of recommendations for approval," added Fuller, who said 160 homes were represented in his group. "They'd take care of this and also do something about multiple dwellings."

Several other residents spoke with such suggestions as that roads are too narrow now and will have to be widened, which in itself would encroach on front yards.

"I thought it might be a desirable thing to reduce the setback and that five feet leeway might help," said Mrs Azevedo, "but it shouldn't be imposed. It's something the local community should have a say about."

Fuller observed that Morning was "in a tough spot" and Dr. William Upton, chairman, said: "We tried to help somebody out of a mistake, but in this case there is no real justification."

So the board voted to deny an adjustment and promptly asked where that left everybody. B. D. Dobbs of the planning staff said a court could require removal of the projecting area of the house, or the county could prosecute and cause a fine to be imposed, if it chose.

A plague of "small houses like crackerboxes" was opposed by Mrs. Virginia Radenzel of 114 Janes street, Mill Valley, as delegate from the Homestead Improvement Club seeking a building code provision of 850 square feet minimum size in Homestead Valley.

Epidemic Of Diptheria Feared In Kansas Area

GREAT BEND, Kan. (AP)—Kansas Health Director Dr. Geoffrey Martin reported today that cases of diphtheria may reach epidemic proportions in the Great Bend area. One child has died of the disease, and there is at least one other confirmed case and four suspected cases.

"Two known cases do not make an epidemic," Dr. Martin said, "but, if the suspected cases are confirmed, we'll be very worried."

NOTICE TO SALESMEN AND SALES MANAGERS

We need additional salesmen and sales managers for our growing mutual fund organization.

Previous mutual fund selling experience is desirable, but not essential if you have had other successful selling or management experience.

You gain these advantages by working with us:

- COMPLETE PROSPECTING ASSISTANCE — a service unique in the industry.
- CONTINUING COMPENSATION under a very liberal plan, in addition to a good commission schedule. With this plan a hard-working man can retire after 10 years of solid building.
- TRAINING — a thorough and continuous program for all sales personnel.

If you think you can qualify, tell us, in a letter, all about yourself: your experience, income, family — the whole story. We will treat your letter in complete confidence and let you know right away whether or not we'd like to talk to you.

Tam Trustees See Plans For Improvements

Preliminary plans and rough sketches of proposed improvements at Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake High Schools were shown to trustees of Tamalpais Union High School District last night.

Most of the presentation by architect Ralph B. Priestley concerned work which might be accomplished if the district had the necessary funds.

The board last month called off a $6,210,000 school bond election which had been set for Jan. 26. The action was taken after members of a citizen delegation predicted defeat for the measure unless more time was allowed for a campaign.

It was announced last night that a citizen steering committee for a future bond election will be organized Dec. 17 at a meeting at 8 p.m. in the district office at Redwood High.

Robert D. Torrey, director of instruction, gave a progress report on the district's experimental extended-day academic program for college preparatory students. The 140 enrolled in the program start school at 7:30 a.m., one hour before the regular school day begins.

Torrey said a survey of the enrollees indicated general enthusiasm for the program. He reported some faculty members had questioned its need, believing the money might be better spent for reducing the size of regular classes or expanding the summer school program.

Harry G. Russell, principal of the district's adult evening school, reported on his follow-up survey of June graduates of district schools. He said 63 per cent of the 581 graduates are continuing their education in colleges or other schools.

SOME IN SERVICE

Another 24 per cent are working, Russell said, while 9 per cent are in the armed services.

The board also:

1. Restored Paul T. Daly of Kentfield, who has been ill, to the status of full-time industrial arts teacher at Redwood, effective Feb. 1.

2. Accepted gifts of books for the libraries of the three schools and heard a report that the Redwood library is expanding at the rate of 250 volumes per month.

3. Learned that Harold M. Engle, the district's structural engineer, will meet Wednesday with engineers of the Marin County Housing Authority on proposed improvement of a future school site in Marin City.

Navy Pilot Breaks Jet Altitude Mark

The jet plane altitude record, once held by a Hamilton Air Force Base pilot, has been officially broken by an aircraft reaching a height of 98,560 feet, the Navy announced today.

Vice Adm. Clarence E. Ekstrom, commander of the air forces of the Pacific Fleet, said Cmdr. Lawrence E. Flint Jr., 39, a native of Beckley, W.Va., made the flight Sunday in a McDonnell F4H Phantom II jet.

Sunday's flight broke the mark of 94,658 feet which had been claimed by the Russians since July.

Prior to the Russian record, the mark was held by Lt. Col. Howard Johnson, who reached a height of 91,284 feet in an F104 Starfighter from Hamilton on May 7, 1958.

At the time he set the record, Johnson held the rank of major in the 83rd Fighter Squadron. He is now a lieutenant colonel with the tactical evaluation team at Air Defense Command Headquarters in Colorado Springs.

Lucile Dandelet of San Anselmo and Mary Ash of San Rafael reported on a project undertaken by the Marin Committee for Fair Play in Housing.

The two women showed the supervisors a series of maps on which some 400 pins had been placed, each pin representing a signer of a pledge to allow everyone "to live where he can afford to live," Mrs. Dandelet declared. She said the committee was having 2,000 more of the cards printed. The cards said:

"I recognize the right of Negroes and Orientals to rent and buy housing in my immediate neighborhood, and I will accept them as neighbors on the same basis as any other."

ESCAPEE

Clara police. Whether the car was a sedan, coupe or sports model was not included.

There was no knowledge of which direction the escapee took from his uncle's home in Santa Clara, the sheriff's office reported.

Santa Clara police reportedly were "staking out" the uncle's house against Kendrick's possible return.

How Kendrick escaped the prison—first in years to make good an escape from within the high gray walls of the prison proper—was a mystery puzzling officials.

Kendrick worked in the prison furniture factory. He did not report for work at 1 p.m. yesterday after the lunch hour, said Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff. A check was started to determine whether he had picked up a pass to the prison hospital or for some special detail.

No report of a pass was found. At 3 p.m., he was still missing. The prison then flashed word that he was believed to have escaped.

A truckload of furniture left the prison at 3:30 p.m., Achuff said. It was searched thoroughly. Kendrick was not inside.

Earlier, several trucks had called and had left empty. All had been given the usual check.

Prison workers "shook down" the funiture factory on the theory Kendrick was hiding somewhere inside. They found nothing.

Then, block by block, building by building, cell by cell, they searched the entire prison. No sign of Kendrick.

They were still loath to believe the prisoner had made good an escape until the report this morning that he was seen in Santa Clara.

Kendrick, known to be dangerous, was serving a pair of concurrent terms of five year to life and six months to 10 years and a third term, to run consecutively, of five years to life. He was sentenced for two counts of robbery plus assault with a deadly weapon.

He was an expert at escape, Achuff said. He escaped the Fresno County Jail twice before being sent to San Quentin last June 9.

He is a small, slender man, 5 feet 8 inches and weighing 127 pounds. He is of fair complexion, blue-eyed and brown-haired. His occupation, until he ran afoul of the law, was well-driller.

Council Asks Night Hearing On Town Plan

Corte Madera town councilmen last night agreed to request the Marin County Board of Supervisors to change the time of a public hearing on the Corte Madera general plan Jan. 5 from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. to allow more residents to attend.

Councilmen also decided to inform the supervisors of their thinking as to recommendations by the county planning commission for changes in the plan.

The recommendations as agreed on l asnight were that: agreed on last night were that:

1. The area stretching for 1,000 feet east of Highway 101 in northern Corte Madera be zoned for industry.

2. Although the council would prefer zoning for single family residences in the Meadowsweet area, there would be no objection to zoning there for multiple residences.

3. The district south of Redwood High School property be zoned "residential."

4. Any zoning changes made must not violate the terms of an agreement between the town of Corte Madera and Charles Paganini covering extension of Tamal Vista boulevard.

Hamilton Says Its Jets Didn't Cause S. F. Boom

Hamilton Air Force Base jets were not responsible for a sonic boom heard over San Francisco at 4:20 p.m. yesterday, a base spokesman said today.

Eight jets were in flight at the time of the boom, six of which were from Hamilton Field. The other two were Navy planes, the spokesman said.

Three of the Air Force planes were traveling at supersonic speed, but were too distant to have caused a disturbance in the Bay Area.

One was north of Pt. Arena, the other two were in the vicinity of Clear Lake, the base reported.

Jail Term Given For Rape Attempt

Joseph Gabriel, 52, of Mountain road, Lagunitas, must serve one year in county jail and remain on three years' probation for assault with intent to rape a Forest Knolls housewife last August.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court sentenced Gabriel yesterday. The judge suspended a state prison term on condition Gabriel serve the jail term.

The woman told sheriff's deputies Gabriel offered to drive her home from a tavern. Instead, he stopped on a lonely road in Lagunitas and attacked her.

Last October, Gabriel came out with a hung jury after a trial on charges of attempted rape and sex perversion. He later pleaded guilty to attempted rape.

Prison officials said Stewart had sawed one or more bars to his cell. Around 12:30 a.m., he called guard John Case saying he wanted toilet tissue. When the guard arrived, Stewart had gotten out of his cell. He grabbed the guard and threatened to beat his brains out with an iron bar.

The prisoners held Case until a sergeant of the guard came up from the prison control room with a guard to relieve Case. They were overpowered.

The prisoners then were able to get into the prison control room where they found weapons. They dressed in guards' clothing and captured tower guards.

They locked up the guards and left in a prison truck and car. The car was found wrecked nearby and the men apparently all piled into the truck.

Navy Pilot Breaks Jet Altitude Mark

The jet plane altitude record, once held by a Hamilton Air Force Base pilot, has been officially broken by an aircraft reaching a height of 98,560 feet, the Navy announced today.

Vice Adm. Clarence E. Ekstrom, commander of the air forces of the Pacific Fleet, said Cmdr. Lawrence E. Flint Jr., 39, a native of Beckley, W.Va., made the flight Sunday in a McDonnell F4H Phantom II jet.

Sunday's flight broke the mark of 94,658 feet which had been claimed by the Russians since July.

Prior to the Russian record, the mark was held by Lt. Col. Howard Johnson, who reached a height of 91,284 feet in an F104 Starfighter from Hamilton on May 7, 1958.

At the time he set the record, Johnson held the rank of major in the 83rd Fighter Squadron. He is now a lieutenant colonel with the tactical evaluation team at Air Defense Command Headquarters in Colorado Springs.

Council Asks Night Hearing On Town Plan

Corte Madera town councilmen last night agreed to request the Marin County Board of Supervisors to change the time of a public hearing on the Corte Madera general plan Jan. 5 from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. to allow more residents to attend.

Councilmen also decided to inform the supervisors of their thinking as to recommendations by the county planning commission for changes in the plan.

The recommendations as agreed on l asnight were that: agreed on last night were that:

1. The area stretching for 1,000 feet east of Highway 101 in northern Corte Madera be zoned for industry.

2. Although the council would prefer zoning for single family residences in the Meadowsweet area, there would be no objection to zoning there for multiple residences.

3. The district south of Redwood High School property be zoned "residential."

4. Any zoning changes made must not violate the terms of an agreement between the town of Corte Madera and Charles Paganini covering extension of Tamal Vista boulevard.

proposal to the county counsel. They they heard a report from another anti-discrimination group.

Lucile Dandelet of San Anselmo and Mary Ash of San Rafael reported on a project undertaken by the Marin Committee for Fair Play in Housing.

The two women showed the supervisors a series of maps on which some 400 pins had been placed, each pin representing a signer of a pledge to allow everyone "to live where he can afford to live," Mrs. Dandelet declared. She said the committee was having 2,000 more of the cards printed. The cards said:

"I recognize the right of Negroes and Orientals to rent and buy housing in my immediate neighborhood, and I will accept them as neighbors on the same basis as any other."

ESCAPEE

Clara police. Whether the car was a sedan, coupe or sports model was not included.

There was no knowledge of which direction the escapee took from his uncle's home in Santa Clara, the sheriff's office reported.

Santa Clara police reportedly were "staking out" the uncle's house against Kendrick's possible return.

How Kendrick escaped the prison—first in years to make good an escape from within the high gray walls of the prison proper—was a mystery puzzling officials.

Kendrick worked in the prison furniture factory. He did not report for work at 1 p.m. yesterday after the lunch hour, said Associate Warden Walter D. Achuff. A check was started to determine whether he had picked up a pass to the prison hospital or for some special detail.

No report of a pass was found. At 3 p.m., he was still missing. The prison then flashed word that he was believed to have escaped.

A truckload of furniture left the prison at 3:30 p.m., Achuff said. It was searched thoroughly. Kendrick was not inside.

Earlier, several trucks had called and had left empty. All had been given the usual check.

Prison workers "shook down" the funiture factory on the theory Kendrick was hiding somewhere inside. They found nothing.

Then, block by block, building by building, cell by cell, they searched the entire prison. No sign of Kendrick.

They were still loath to believe the prisoner had made good an escape until the report this morning that he was seen in Santa Clara.

Kendrick, known to be dangerous, was serving a pair of concurrent terms of five year to life and six months to 10 years and a third term, to run consecutively, of five years to life. He was sentenced for two counts of robbery plus assault with a deadly weapon.

He was an expert at escape, Achuff said. He escaped the Fresno County Jail twice before being sent to San Quentin last June 9.

He is a small, slender man, 5 feet 8 inches and weighing 127 pounds. He is of fair complexion, blue-eyed and brown-haired. His occupation, until he ran afoul of the law, was well-driller.

Hamilton Says Its Jets Didn't Cause S. F. Boom

Hamilton Air Force Base jets were not responsible for a sonic boom heard over San Francisco at 4:20 p.m. yesterday, a base spokesman said today.

Eight jets were in flight at the time of the boom, six of which were from Hamilton Field. The other two were Navy planes, the spokesman said.

Three of the Air Force planes were traveling at supersonic speed, but were too distant to have caused a disturbance in the Bay Area.

One was north of Pt. Arena, the other two were in the vicinity of Clear Lake, the base reported.

Mary M. Hosmer, Ex-Marinite, Succumbs In S. F.

Mrs. Mary Moyle Hosmer, 88, member of a pioneer California family and former resident of San Rafael, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after an illness.

Mrs. Hosmer had resided the past eight years at the Methodist Home in Oakland. She moved there after the death of her husband, Frank Wiley Hosmer, a retired employee of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank. They had made their home previously on Fifth avenue in San Rafael.

She is survived by a daughter and a son, Mrs. Carol Watson of Concord and Dr. Matthew Newell Hosmer of San Rafael, and three grandchildren. Barbara Hosmer, former Independent-Journal reporter now on the staff of the Santa Barbara News-Press, is a granddaughter.

Mrs. Hoamer was born in Modesto. Her parents came to California from England in the 1850s.

She was a member of Laurel Methodist Church of Oakland.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael. Interment will be in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery.

Last Rites Held For Ruth R. Hall

Private funeral services for Mrs. Ruth Radford Hall of San Anselmo, who died Sunday in a local hospital, were held today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

Mrs. Hall, who was 68, had been a Marin resident 15 years. She made her home with a daughter, Ruth M. Hall, at 27 Broadmoor avenue. She was a native of Montana.

Previous to becoming ill, Mrs. Hall was an enthusiastic worker for Guide Dogs for the Blind, and the family has asked that tributes be in the form of contributions to that organization.

Besides her daughter in San Anselmo, Mrs. Hall is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Mary Hall Hardy of Glencoe, Ill.; and a son, Radford Hall of Ross.

Inurnment was at Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery.

Cincinnati Leads Hoop Ratings; California 2nd

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cincinnati, the pre-season choice for the national championship, took an even tighter grip today on first place in the first weekly ratings of the 1959-60 college basketball season released by the United Press International board of coaches.

With All-American Oscar Robertson firing 45 points in his first game and 43 in the second, during the past week, Cincinnati received the first-place votes of 25 of the 35 famouse coaches who comprise the board, compared to 16 in the pre-season ratings.

California, last season's NCAA champion, was second, just as it was in the pre-season poll. But Cincinnati, which had a 63-point lead in the pre-season balloting on a points basis, boosted that margin over California to 102 points this week.

West Virginia, fourth in the pre-season ratings, jumped to third while Ohio State and sophomore Ace Jerry Lucas jumped from sixth to fourth. North Carolina remained in the No. 5 slot.

Kentucky, third in the pre-season ratings but upset by Southern California Saturday night, dropped down to sixth. St. Louis bounded all the way from 14th place to seventh with three impressive victories. Indiana was eighth, Kansas ninth, and Utah 10th.

Of the 10 first-place votes missed by Cincinnati, five went to California, two to St. Louis, and one each to West Virginia, Ohio State, and Kentucky.

WINNER'LL BE LUCKY

Squaw Valley Downhill Run Draws Criticism

ZUERS, Austria (AP) — Who will pick up the Olympic laurels on Squaw Valley's alpine downhill trail next February —the best skier or the luckiest?

Austria's top skiers and experts say it will be the luckiest, because the downhill run is too gentle, too easy, too short.

"It will be the easiest run the Austrians ever skied on," was the concensus among the men's team.

But the Austrians said they have not yet seen the new "artificial bumps" reportedly built into the run recently by the Squaw Valley organizers.

They claimed that the bumps are "illegal" anyway, because they are contrary to regulations by the International Ski Federation. If these bumps remain in the track, the Austrians may launch an official protest.

Austrian team Coach Othmar Schneider, who coached America's Buddy Werner for the 1958 world championships, and Karl Schranz, Austria's No. 1 Olympic hopeful, said that under conditions as they were last spring an outsider might win the race on what they called a "milkman's downhill run."

They visited Squaw Valley on a U. S. tour this year.

Schneider described the downhill run as "too smooth and easy."

"It's about 30 seconds too short by normal Olympic and FIS standards," Schneider maintained in an interview with the Associated Press.

Schranz said: "If there is soft, fresh snow, the downhill competition will be a matter of luck and good wax, rather than skill and experience.

"The run should be steeper, with more natural obstacles such as jumps and schruss stretches, and it should be longer by at least half a minute," he added.

As for the artificial obstacles built into the downhill course, Schneider said:

"FIS rules only permit the removal of dangerous obstacles from a course. They do not provide for building in artifical bumps."

Tittle To Be At 49er Helm Against Packers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"We sure are going to have to improve both offensively and defensively if we hope to beat the Packers," Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers declared today.

Hickey expects to have Y. A. Tittle back as his starting quarterback in place of substitute John Brodie for the Green Bay game in Kezar Stadium Sunday. But quarterbacking is just one of his problems.

'TERRIBLE'

"Pictures showed we played a terrible ball game both offensively and defensively against Baltimore," he said of the 34-14 loss Saturday.

"It wasn't one of our best defensive efforts by any means and we haven't played good offensively in four ball games. We made a lot of very simple mistakes against the Colts —a lot of mental errors that shouldn't be made."

Hickey refused to name any particular man or positions, saying only, "I'll take care of that when the squad gets here."

The 49ers had no practice yesterday but got down to work today in preparation for the regular season finale.

INJURIES

Guard Bruce Bosley suffered a leg muscle pull in the Baltimore game and it won't be known until later if he will be able to play. Joe Perry suffered a slight pull but the fullback is expected to see action.

Tittle, who suffered a knee injury at Baltimore on Nov. 22, got into the Colt game here in the third quarter and didn't aggravate the injury.

"Unless something happens between now and then, Y. A. will start," Hickey said.

The Packers, who have a 6-5 record compared with 7-4 for the 49ers, come off a convincing victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

NEED WIN

The 49ers, one game back of the first place Colts in the National Football League's western division, need a victory to keep alive their slim hopes for a pennant.

Coach Vince Lombardi, drilling his squad at Palo Alto, a few miles south of the 49ers camp at Redwood City, said, "I thing both our teams are stronger than when we met before."

The Packers beat the 49ers 21-20 at Green Bay on Oct. 11.

Commenting on the Los Angeles game, he said, "We contained them pretty well except for their two long kick returns. The defense was good against everything. They didn't complete many passes until late in the game."

Pete Dawkins Aids Oxford's Rugby Win

TWICKENHAM, England (UPI) Former All-America halfback Pete Dawkins came through his first major British rugby test today with flying colors. Standing firm in the face of strong Cambridge pressure, he helped Oxford win a 9-3 triumph in the annual classic against Cambridge.

Some 60,000 fans packed the Twickenham Bowl here for the game — and thousands who came to scoff at the Army star stayed to cheer him off the field.

He didn't exactly star, but he never made a wrong move with foot or hand throughout the entire 80 minutes. In the last five minutes, especially, as Cambridge threw everything at him in a desperate effort to pull back the Oxford lead, he coolly played himself out of trouble to continuous roars from the Oxford supporters.

His throws from the lineouts (out of bounds) were superbly placed and he handled and kicked safely without a tremor. Some of his catching was outstanding also.

Ram's Season Great—At Gate, Anyway

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams are nearing the end of another remarkable season. Remarkable at the gate, that is.

The local entry in the National Football League will take a miserable 2-9 record into Saturday's game with front-running Baltimore. Yet the Rams need draw only 3,903 fans to the Coliseum and they will have played before a million spectators this season.

No other football team, college or pro, has ever attracted that many fans in a single season.

Should Saturday's contest be viewed by as many as 57,702—a distinct possibility — the Rams will have broken their record of last year, 1,053,798. It would also top the 1957 attendance, 1,051,106—an all-time high at that stage.

STUDIES AND TEACHES

DURHAM, N. H. (AP)—Joe Lapchick Jr., who played end for three varsity seasons at West Point, is back in school studying for his Masters degree at the University of New Hampshire. He also teaches in high school. His father, Joe Sr., is coaching the St. John's University basketball team in Brooklyn.

Cal's Bears To Meet USF Cagers Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Pete Newell continues experimenting tonight as his California Bears play at the University of San Francisco.

Newell generally uses December to work out his lineup for conference campaign. Last season his efforts helped bring the NCAA championship to Cal. The Bears, Pacific Coast Conference champs last season, are now in the new Big Five Conference.

"USF will be tough and we are going to have to improve on our performance of last Saturday," he told the Northern California Basketball Writers and Sportscasters Assn.

The Bears, after beating the alumni 64-48 on Dec. 1, traveled south to beat UC Santa Barbara last Saturday 59-47.

"We played 11 men and figure to play that many in each game this month," the coach declared.

On a different note, he said that after watching UCLA, Southern Cal, Santa Clara and Kentucky in action last weekend he was convinced West Coast teams can hold their own with any in the nation.

Santa Clara's ace Frank Sobreror was honored as Northern California player-of-the-week by the writers and broadcasters. Tributes also went to three others during the meeting.

Rickey Blasts Major Loops' 'Monopoly'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Branch Rickey announced today that Atlanta has become the sixth member of the Continental League. But he said his circuit may never be completed so long as the majors maintain "absolute monopoly of players and territories."

Rickey, the 79-year-old Continental League president, charged baseball's Commissioner Ford Frick with a "negative attitude" and American League President Joe Cronin with failure to give him an answer to a proposition that would have paved the way for the completion of the new third league.

"So long as the major leagues are able to maintain their existing absolute monopoly of players and territories and further continue their tactics patently employed for the purpose of defeating any organization of a third major league," Rickey said, "we will, alone, find ourselves unable to complete the formation of the Continental League.

"The answer to our future is now in the hands of the American League."

At his rhetorical best in an hour-and-one-half-long press conference attended by 50 writers, Rickey hedged somewhat when asked what the Continental League's next step would be. He was asked if he and league officials intend to petition Congress for help. "I'll undertake to answer that question at the proper time and in the proper place. This is neither the time nor the place," he replied.

Significantly, however, Rickey added that he has made only "peaceful approaches" toward the major leagues up to date.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "I've been covered with so many olive branches no one could see me."

Rickey revealed that on Nov. 19 he sent a telegram to Cronin and asked him to designate the two additional clubs the American League would wish to include in expansion.

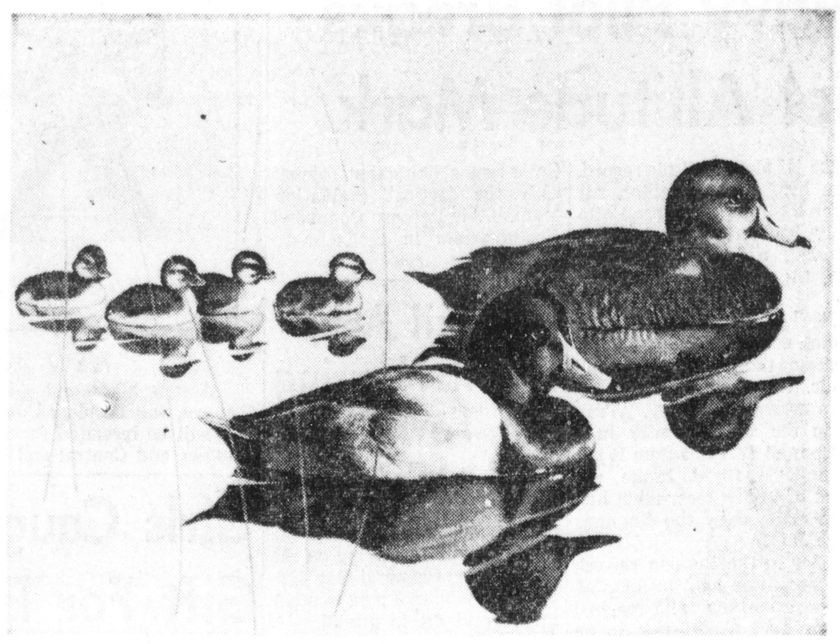

Rickey said the American League was given its privilege of selecting one or two clubs from among Continental League members Denver, Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul, or Toronto. He added that the American League was not given the privilege of choosing New York.

"Should your selection be from among Atlanta, Buffalo, Dallas-Fort Worth, Montreal, or San Diego," Rickey said to Cronin in the wire, "we will be spared further consideration of whatever city or two cities of these five you may desire."

Rickey charged that he received little cooperation from Cronin and added that the commissioner's "negative attitude contributed to the delay" in forming the Continental League.

Yesterday, Cronin announced that the American League "could reach no definite decision on expansion," thus setting up an expected showdown with Rickey and the Continental League.

At the same time, Cronin said that his league's consideration of expansion "should not delay the Continental League in going forward with the completion of its organization and making the necessary arrangements to fulfill the requirements to qualify as a major league."

DUCK STAMP DESIGN

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service today announced selection of this design for the 1960-61 federal duck stamp. It features redhead ducks—a drake, a hen and four ducklings—swimming in the reeds. The design was drawn by John A. Ruthven of Cincinnati, Ohio. (AP Wirephoto)

Syracuse Wins National Grid Championship Final Polling

NEW YORK (UPI) — Syracuse University, which compiled major college football's only perfect record in 1959 although it began the season without an experienced quarterback, today was named national champion by United Press International's board of coaches.

Syracuse, seriously tested only once en route to a 10-0 record, is the first Eastern school to lead the final balloting for a season since the ratings were inaugurated in 1950. Army's third-place finish last year was the best previous showing by an Eastern team.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's Orangemen from Syracuse rolled up 390 points and allowed only 59 although they went through the campaign with two sophomore quarterbacks, Dave Sarette and Dick Easterly.

This performance earned Syracuse 31 first-place votes and a total of 342 points in the final balloting by the 35 leading coaches on the UPI rating board.

Syracuse also received one vote for second, two for third and one for fourth, falling only eight points shy of the maximum possible total of 350. Syracuse posted the third highest point total ever recorded in the final voting by the UPI board. Oklahoma received 346 in 1950 and Michigan State 343 in 1952.

Mississippi received three first-place votes and finished second with 285 points. Louisiana State, named national champion by the coaches last year, placed third with 258. Texas, which will play Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1, was fourth with 247. Mississippi and L.S.U. clash that day in the Sugar Bowl.

Georgia was fifth with 184 points, Wisconsin sixth with 157 and Washington seventh with 121. Washington, Wisconsin's Rose Bowl opponent, received the other first-place vote. Texas Christian was eighth with 103 points, Arkansas ninth with 65 and Penn State 10th with 42.

Syracuse, which ended its regular season last Saturday with a 36-8 trumph over UCLA at Los Angeles, will receive a permanent trophy from UPI.

Syracuse was involved in only one close game during the season, edging Penn State, 20-18. In other games, the Orangemen defeated Kansas, 35-21; Maryland, 29-0; Navy, 32-6; Holy Cross, 42-0; West Virginia, 44-0; Pittsburgh, 35-0; Colgate, 71-0, and Boston University, 46-0.

(The year's final Associated Press poll ranked the first six teams in the same order as UPI. Rounding out AP's top 10 were Texas Christian, seventh; Washington, eighth; Arkansas, ninth, and Alabama.)

A FUSSY COACH

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — After Michigan State stopped Notre Dame and Indiana in two brilliant goal line stands this fall, Spartan Coach Duffy Daugherty exclaimed:

"I like those goal line stands of ours, but I wish they'd make 'em up around the 50-yard line where I can see 'em better."

Champs To Receive Trophy At Pre-Cotton Bowl Fete

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—Syracuse will receive the "UPI Cup" honoring the Orange as the national collegiate football champions at a dinner here Dec. 16.

The dinner originally was scheduled as a send-off for the team which leaves two days later for its University of Houston training site for the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl game with Texas.

When word came the United Press International board of coaches named Syracuse the nation's number one team for 1959, the plans were changed to include the latest honor for the undefeated footballers.

Athletic director J. Andreas, on hearing of the UPI selection, said "We are extremely honored. We feel we have had a marvelous season and are happy others are thinking the same thing. It's really wonderful."

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder said he was "as happy as I can be for the members of the team."

Claude Huey, former Auburn basketball player, is a member of the Fort Monmouth, N. J., Army quintet.

My Dear Girl, leading 2-year-old filly of 1949, was bred and foaled in Ocala, Fla.

Hickey Named West Coach For Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES — Howard (Red) Hickey, coach of the San Francisco 49ers football squad, will pilot the Western Conference squad for the 10th anniversary All-Star Pro Bowl game Jan. 17.

Hickey's appointment as one of the head coaches for the classic, to be held in the Coliseum, was announced jointly yesterday by Paul J. Schissler, managing director of the annual charity game in Los Angeles, and Austin Gunsel, acting commissioner of the National Football League in Philadelphia.

It will mark Hickey's first time as a Pro Bowl coach. Weeb Ewbank of the leading Baltimore Colts served as the West's coach last year.

Cincinnati Leads Hoop Ratings; California 2nd

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cincinnati, the pre-season choice for the national championship, took an even tighter grip today on first place in the first weekly ratings of the 1959-60 college basketball season released by the United Press International board of coaches.

With All-American Oscar Robertson firing 45 points in his first game and 43 in the second, during the past week, Cincinnati received the first-place votes of 25 of the 35 famouse coaches who comprise the board, compared to 16 in the pre-season ratings.

California, last season's NCAA champion, was second, just as it was in the pre-season poll. But Cincinnati, which had a 63-point lead in the pre-season balloting on a points basis, boosted that margin over California to 102 points this week.

West Virginia, fourth in the pre-season ratings, jumped to third while Ohio State and sophomore Ace Jerry Lucas jumped from sixth to fourth. North Carolina remained in the No. 5 slot.

Kentucky, third in the pre-season ratings but upset by Southern California Saturday night, dropped down to sixth. St. Louis bounded all the way from 14th place to seventh with three impressive victories. Indiana was eighth, Kansas ninth, and Utah 10th.

Of the 10 first-place votes missed by Cincinnati, five went to California, two to St. Louis, and one each to West Virginia, Ohio State, and Kentucky.

WINNER'LL BE LUCKY

Squaw Valley Downhill Run Draws Criticism

ZUERS, Austria (AP) — Who will pick up the Olympic laurels on Squaw Valley's alpine downhill trail next February —the best skier or the luckiest?

Austria's top skiers and experts say it will be the luckiest, because the downhill run is too gentle, too easy, too short.

"It will be the easiest run the Austrians ever skied on," was the concensus among the men's team.

But the Austrians said they have not yet seen the new "artificial bumps" reportedly built into the run recently by the Squaw Valley organizers.

They claimed that the bumps are "illegal" anyway, because they are contrary to regulations by the International Ski Federation. If these bumps remain in the track, the Austrians may launch an official protest.

Austrian team Coach Othmar Schneider, who coached America's Buddy Werner for the 1958 world championships, and Karl Schranz, Austria's No. 1 Olympic hopeful, said that under conditions as they were last spring an outsider might win the race on what they called a "milkman's downhill run."

They visited Squaw Valley on a U. S. tour this year.

Schneider described the downhill run as "too smooth and easy."

"It's about 30 seconds too short by normal Olympic and FIS standards," Schneider maintained in an interview with the Associated Press.

Schranz said: "If there is soft, fresh snow, the downhill competition will be a matter of luck and good wax, rather than skill and experience.

"The run should be steeper, with more natural obstacles such as jumps and schruss stretches, and it should be longer by at least half a minute," he added.

As for the artificial obstacles built into the downhill course, Schneider said:

"FIS rules only permit the removal of dangerous obstacles from a course. They do not provide for building in artifical bumps."

Tittle To Be At 49er Helm Against Packers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"We sure are going to have to improve both offensively and defensively if we hope to beat the Packers," Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers declared today.

Hickey expects to have Y. A. Tittle back as his starting quarterback in place of substitute John Brodie for the Green Bay game in Kezar Stadium Sunday. But quarterbacking is just one of his problems.

'TERRIBLE'

"Pictures showed we played a terrible ball game both offensively and defensively against Baltimore," he said of the 34-14 loss Saturday.

"It wasn't one of our best defensive efforts by any means and we haven't played good offensively in four ball games. We made a lot of very simple mistakes against the Colts —a lot of mental errors that shouldn't be made."

Hickey refused to name any particular man or positions, saying only, "I'll take care of that when the squad gets here."

The 49ers had no practice yesterday but got down to work today in preparation for the regular season finale.

INJURIES

Guard Bruce Bosley suffered a leg muscle pull in the Baltimore game and it won't be known until later if he will be able to play. Joe Perry suffered a slight pull but the fullback is expected to see action.

Tittle, who suffered a knee injury at Baltimore on Nov. 22, got into the Colt game here in the third quarter and didn't aggravate the injury.

"Unless something happens between now and then, Y. A. will start," Hickey said.

The Packers, who have a 6-5 record compared with 7-4 for the 49ers, come off a convincing victory over the Los Angeles Rams.

NEED WIN

The 49ers, one game back of the first place Colts in the National Football League's western division, need a victory to keep alive their slim hopes for a pennant.

Coach Vince Lombardi, drilling his squad at Palo Alto, a few miles south of the 49ers camp at Redwood City, said, "I thing both our teams are stronger than when we met before."

The Packers beat the 49ers 21-20 at Green Bay on Oct. 11.

Commenting on the Los Angeles game, he said, "We contained them pretty well except for their two long kick returns. The defense was good against everything. They didn't complete many passes until late in the game."

Pete Dawkins Aids Oxford's Rugby Win

TWICKENHAM, England (UPI) Former All-America halfback Pete Dawkins came through his first major British rugby test today with flying colors. Standing firm in the face of strong Cambridge pressure, he helped Oxford win a 9-3 triumph in the annual classic against Cambridge.

Some 60,000 fans packed the Twickenham Bowl here for the game — and thousands who came to scoff at the Army star stayed to cheer him off the field.

He didn't exactly star, but he never made a wrong move with foot or hand throughout the entire 80 minutes. In the last five minutes, especially, as Cambridge threw everything at him in a desperate effort to pull back the Oxford lead, he coolly played himself out of trouble to continuous roars from the Oxford supporters.

His throws from the lineouts (out of bounds) were superbly placed and he handled and kicked safely without a tremor. Some of his catching was outstanding also.

Ram's Season Great—At Gate, Anyway

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams are nearing the end of another remarkable season. Remarkable at the gate, that is.

The local entry in the National Football League will take a miserable 2-9 record into Saturday's game with front-running Baltimore. Yet the Rams need draw only 3,903 fans to the Coliseum and they will have played before a million spectators this season.

No other football team, college or pro, has ever attracted that many fans in a single season.

Should Saturday's contest be viewed by as many as 57,702—a distinct possibility — the Rams will have broken their record of last year, 1,053,798. It would also top the 1957 attendance, 1,051,106—an all-time high at that stage.

Rickey Blasts Major Loops' 'Monopoly'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Branch Rickey announced today that Atlanta has become the sixth member of the Continental League. But he said his circuit may never be completed so long as the majors maintain "absolute monopoly of players and territories."

Rickey, the 79-year-old Continental League president, charged baseball's Commissioner Ford Frick with a "negative attitude" and American League President Joe Cronin with failure to give him an answer to a proposition that would have paved the way for the completion of the new third league.

"So long as the major leagues are able to maintain their existing absolute monopoly of players and territories and further continue their tactics patently employed for the purpose of defeating any organization of a third major league," Rickey said, "we will, alone, find ourselves unable to complete the formation of the Continental League.

"The answer to our future is now in the hands of the American League."

At his rhetorical best in an hour-and-one-half-long press conference attended by 50 writers, Rickey hedged somewhat when asked what the Continental League's next step would be. He was asked if he and league officials intend to petition Congress for help. "I'll undertake to answer that question at the proper time and in the proper place. This is neither the time nor the place," he replied.

Significantly, however, Rickey added that he has made only "peaceful approaches" toward the major leagues up to date.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "I've been covered with so many olive branches no one could see me."

Rickey revealed that on Nov. 19 he sent a telegram to Cronin and asked him to designate the two additional clubs the American League would wish to include in expansion.

Rickey said the American League was given its privilege of selecting one or two clubs from among Continental League members Denver, Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul, or Toronto. He added that the American League was not given the privilege of choosing New York.

"Should your selection be from among Atlanta, Buffalo, Dallas-Fort Worth, Montreal, or San Diego," Rickey said to Cronin in the wire, "we will be spared further consideration of whatever city or two cities of these five you may desire."

Rickey charged that he received little cooperation from Cronin and added that the commissioner's "negative attitude contributed to the delay" in forming the Continental League.

Yesterday, Cronin announced that the American League "could reach no definite decision on expansion," thus setting up an expected showdown with Rickey and the Continental League.

At the same time, Cronin said that his league's consideration of expansion "should not delay the Continental League in going forward with the completion of its organization and making the necessary arrangements to fulfill the requirements to qualify as a major league."

Cal's Bears To Meet USF Cagers Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Pete Newell continues experimenting tonight as his California Bears play at the University of San Francisco.

Newell generally uses December to work out his lineup for conference campaign. Last season his efforts helped bring the NCAA championship to Cal. The Bears, Pacific Coast Conference champs last season, are now in the new Big Five Conference.

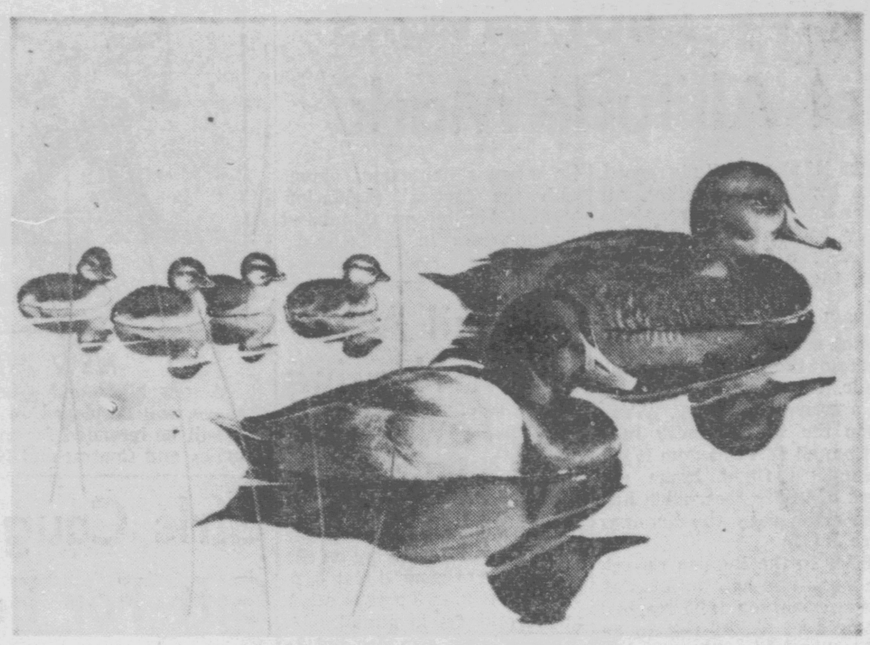

"USF will be tough and we are going to have to improve on our performance of last Saturday," he told the Northern California Basketball Writers and Sportscasters Assn.

The Bears, after beating the alumni 64-48 on Dec. 1, traveled south to beat UC Santa Barbara last Saturday 59-47.

"We played 11 men and figure to play that many in each game this month," the coach declared.

On a different note, he said that after watching UCLA, Southern Cal, Santa Clara and Kentucky in action last weekend he was convinced West Coast teams can hold their own with any in the nation.

Santa Clara's ace Frank Sobreror was honored as Northern California player-of-the-week by the writers and broadcasters. Tributes also went to three others during the meeting.

DUCK STAMP DESIGN

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service today announced selection of this design for the 1960-61 federal duck stamp. It features redhead ducks—a drake, a hen and four ducklings—swimming in the reeds. The design was drawn by John A. Ruthven of Cincinnati, Ohio. (AP Wirephoto)

Syracuse Wins National Grid Championship Final Polling

NEW YORK (UPI) — Syracuse University, which compiled major college football's only perfect record in 1959 although it began the season without an experienced quarterback, today was named national champion by United Press International's board of coaches.

Syracuse, seriously tested only once en route to a 10-0 record, is the first Eastern school to lead the final balloting for a season since the ratings were inaugurated in 1950. Army's third-place finish last year was the best previous showing by an Eastern team.

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's Orangemen from Syracuse rolled up 390 points and allowed only 59 although they went through the campaign with two sophomore quarterbacks, Dave Sarette and Dick Easterly.

This performance earned Syracuse 31 first-place votes and a total of 342 points in the final balloting by the 35 leading coaches on the UPI rating board.

Syracuse also received one vote for second, two for third and one for fourth, falling only eight points shy of the maximum possible total of 350. Syracuse posted the third highest point total ever recorded in the final voting by the UPI board. Oklahoma received 346 in 1950 and Michigan State 343 in 1952.

Mississippi received three first-place votes and finished second with 285 points. Louisiana State, named national champion by the coaches last year, placed third with 258. Texas, which will play Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 1, was fourth with 247. Mississippi and L.S.U. clash that day in the Sugar Bowl.

Georgia was fifth with 184 points, Wisconsin sixth with 157 and Washington seventh with 121. Washington, Wisconsin's Rose Bowl opponent, received the other first-place vote. Texas Christian was eighth with 103 points, Arkansas ninth with 65 and Penn State 10th with 42.

Syracuse, which ended its regular season last Saturday with a 36-8 trumph over UCLA at Los Angeles, will receive a permanent trophy from UPI.

Syracuse was involved in only one close game during the season, edging Penn State, 20-18. In other games, the Orangemen defeated Kansas, 35-21; Maryland, 29-0; Navy, 32-6; Holy Cross, 42-0; West Virginia, 44-0; Pittsburgh, 35-0; Colgate, 71-0, and Boston University, 46-0.

(The year's final Associated Press poll ranked the first six teams in the same order as UPI. Rounding out AP's top 10 were Texas Christian, seventh; Washington, eighth; Arkansas, ninth, and Alabama.)

A FUSSY COACH

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — After Michigan State stopped Notre Dame and Indiana in two brilliant goal line stands this fall, Spartan Coach Duffy Daugherty exclaimed:

"I like those goal line stands of ours, but I wish they'd make 'em up around the 50-yard line where I can see 'em better."

Champs To Receive Trophy At Pre-Cotton Bowl Fete

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—Syracuse will receive the "UPI Cup" honoring the Orange as the national collegiate football champions at a dinner here Dec. 16.

The dinner originally was scheduled as a send-off for the team which leaves two days later for its University of Houston training site for the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl game with Texas.

When word came the United Press International board of coaches named Syracuse the nation's number one team for 1959, the plans were changed to include the latest honor for the undefeated footballers.

Athletic director J. Andreas, on hearing of the UPI selection, said "We are extremely honored. We feel we have had a marvelous season and are happy others are thinking the same thing. It's really wonderful."

Coach Ben Schwartzwalder said he was "as happy as I can be for the members of the team."

Claude Huey, former Auburn basketball player, is a member of the Fort Monmouth, N. J., Army quintet.

My Dear Girl, leading 2-year-old filly of 1949, was bred and foaled in Ocala, Fla.

Hickey Named West Coach For Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES — Howard (Red) Hickey, coach of the San Francisco 49ers football squad, will pilot the Western Conference squad for the 10th anniversary All-Star Pro Bowl game Jan. 17.

Hickey's appointment as one of the head coaches for the classic, to be held in the Coliseum, was announced jointly yesterday by Paul J. Schissler, managing director of the annual charity game in Los Angeles, and Austin Gunsel, acting commissioner of the National Football League in Philadelphia.

It will mark Hickey's first time as a Pro Bowl coach. Weeb Ewbank of the leading Baltimore Colts served as the West's coach last year.

49ers Played Entertaining, If Not A Completely Satisfying Season

HANLEY

Well, it was an entertaining if not completely satisfying pro football season for 49er fans. Only a title would have made it absolutely satisfying. And who was brash enough to make any such fantastic prediction at the outset of the season?

The 2-4 record of the local pros in their six preseason games certainly was no basis for optimism. Even that 24-14 win over the Philadelphia Eagles in the season opener on Sept. 27 was no reason to get excited.

However, a tingling sensation of anticipation did grip 49er fans that opening day, not because of the initial victory but because of what Red Hickey had to say after it.

"We will beat the Rams," said the Arkansas redhead in greeting sports writers who, by custom, assemble in the locker room after a game to hear what a coach has to say about it.

Usually a coach rehashes the obvious. It would have been understandable if Hickey allowed himself some momentary pleasure in following this corny pattern because it was his first victory as a head coach.

HIS FLAT prediction caught the dressing room reporters with hesitating pencils. Did they hear him right?

"Yes," said Hickey. "I said 'We will beat the Rams.' And they can tack that up on their bulletin board."

When the 49ers played a perfect offensive and defensive game the following Sunday, shutting out the Rams 34-0, there was sound basis to believe they might go all the way to their first title.

THE 49ERS then took to the road for two games. The Green Bay Packers, rejuvenated by their new head man Vince Lombardi just as Hickey renovated the 49ers, edged them 21-20 and it appeared that the 49ers would fade before the season reached the halfway mark.

The Packer loss, however, galled them. They rebounded the next week with a solid and crunching 34-13 win over the Lions at Detroit and came home to Kezar to defeat the Chicago Bears 20-17 and again soundly whip the Lions, this time 33-7.

Off on the road again, they ran their string to four straight by breaking a longtime Coliseum jinx with a 24-16 victory over the Rams. At this juncture their record was 6-1. The Bears shaved it to 6-2 by beating them 14-3 at Chicago on five interceptions. The Colts trimmed it to 6-3 and went into a first place tie with the 49ers the next weekend at Baltimore on that 45-14 clobbering during which Y. A. Tittle and several others received severe lumps and bruises.

THIS TIME it surely looked like the 49ers, without Tittle, were out of it. But they nipped the Browns 21-20 in the snow at Cleveland with John Brodie pitching strikes.

And then they came home again for that showdown game last Saturday with the Colts whose 34-14 win wasn't tough for the defending champs as they picked off six 49er passes.

Hickey, a realist, rarely indulges in wishful thinking. He now has no alternative. He hasn't given up hope.

"We still have a chance if the Rams win (over the Colts) and we can take the Packers next Sunday," he said.

SEVERE CRITIC

Ex-Coach Says Pro Basketball Boring

By JACK CUDDY

WEST LONG BRANCH, N.J. (UPI)—Ken Loeffler, a real basketball brain guy, declared today the pros must scrap their "run sheep, run" brand of play if they hope to wean great numbers of fans away from the "more interesting" college game.

After 30 years of coaching collegians and professionals, the six-foot man with tinges of gray in his brown hair said the National Basketball Assn., particularly, has legislated "an all-scoring game" that appeals only to people who know nothing of the real game.

Loeffler, professor of business law here at Monmouth College, deplored the NBA's rule against zone defenses and its 24-second "must shoot" regulation.

He said the anti-zone rule eliminated completely the surprise element from basketball defense because "it takes the tactics out of the game." He charged that current pro defense is as lacklustre as the defense in football would be if every team were required to use a seven-man line.

During his career, Loeffler coached at Yale, Geneva, La Salle, Texas A. & M., and with the professional St. Louis Bombers of the old Basketball Association of America. Because of an ulcer-caused operation that carved out four-fifths of his stomach, he hasn't coached during his tenure at Monmouth. This is his third year here.

"But I still scout college teams in the east for midwestern teams that play them," he explained, "and in that way I keep sharp on the game."

Zone defenses were outlawed by the NBA to produce high scores that might attract the fans. The production was achieved, Loeffler admitted with a smile. Every team in the circuit is averaging more than 100 points a game this season; but that very production is stifling interest in professional play, he said.

"It makes a dull game to have four men stand around outside and just wait until they can pass to one guy," he explained. "On the other hand, a team using a five-man weave has five potential scorers, all of whom could take a fling at the pivot. That kind of play is fast and exciting because the give-and-go maneuvers keep the ball moving all the time."

Loeffler is particularly incensed at the professional no-zone, shoot-shoot-shoot game because it puts a premium on mere height, rather than ability, he said.

He pointed to Tom Gola of the Philadelphia Warriors as exhibit "A" in the professional waste of manpower.

Gola, who led Loeffler's La-salle team to a National Invitation Tournament championship in 1952 and to the 1954 NCAA title, has become practically "a statue on the court" instead of potentially "the most thrilling performer in the game," the critic regretted.

Gola's mission now is merely to throw the ball to Wilt Chamberlain, a seven-foot, two-inch giant, moaned ex-coach Ken.

"Watch one pro game," said the 1924 captain of Penn State, "and you've seen them all. They're just shooting matches. Why not just mark spots on the court and let each big fellow take a certain number of shots to determine which team wins. All the variety is gone from the pro game anyway."

Loeffler advocates rescinding the no-zone-defense rule so the fans could see how the Giants would go about breaking a zone.

"Wouldn't it be interesting to see a great pivot man like Chamberlain forced to meet new situations every minute—as he did in college?"

Liston 5 To 1 Favorite In TV Feature

By Associated Press

Sonny Liston, who would like a crack at heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson and has the credentials to make the challenge, is a 5-1 favorite to score his 19th straight victory tomorrow night.

The third-ranking contender from Philadelphia takes on willing Willi (call me Billy) Besmanoff of Milwaukee, in a television (ABC 7 p.m., Pacific Standard Time) 10-rounder at the Cleveland Arena.

Liston, 27, has a 25-1 record, including 16 knockouts. His winning streak of 18 dates back more than five years when he was outpointed by Marty Marshall in an eight-rounder. Sonny avenged that lone loss by whipping Marshall twice, once on a kayo.

The German-born Besmanoff has a 41-16-7 record, including 15 kayos. He is more of a mauler than a puncher. If Willi goes the limit with Liston it will be a big surprise.

The Liston - Besmanoff bout is the only network TV clash of the week. The Friday night fight spot has been taken over for a bowling championship.

Baylor Leads Lakers Into S.F. This Week

Recognized as one of professional basketball's finest players, Elgin Baylor moves into one of his favorite pavilions Thursday night when his Minneapolis Lakers meet the Syracuse Nationals at the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

Baylor has performed four times at the Cow Palace and on each occasion he has been brilliant. In his first appearance as a collegian, he led Seattle University to an upset of USF's defending NCAA champions with a last second field goal. The next night he sparked the Chieftains past California.

Last year the 6-6 sharpshooter carried the Lakers into overtime before losing to the world champion Boston Celtics. Then he came back to pace a win over the Cincinnati Royals.

Rookie of the Year in the NBA last season, Baylor currently is lodged in a spirited scoring duel with Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors for the league point lead despite two weeks of inactivity due to a flu virus.

Now fully recovered, Baylor is expected to find fierce competition Thursday from Syracuse's Dolph Schayes, a 12-year veteran who has been named to the All-NBA team a dozen times.

The Nats, rated the best balanced club in the pro ranks, are right on the heels of the Celtics and Warriors in the Eastern Division and are expected to two-time Baylor with Schayes and George Yardley, former Stanford All-American.

The game is not an exhibition. The final result will be counted in the league standings.

Tickets are priced at $3 for box seats, $3 and $2.50 for reserved section, $1.75 for general admission and $1 for children under 12 years. They are on sale at Taveggia and Brusati Sports Shop in San Rafael.

Boston's Horvath Holds Lead In Hockey Scoring

MONTREAL (AP) — Bronco Horvath, Boston Bruins' center, held on to the scoring lead in the National Hockey League today despite missing one of his club's three games last week because of a toe injury.

Horvath got only one goal, raising his point total to 35, made up of 21 goals, tops in the league, and 14 assists. But his working margin dwindled to five from seven points a week ago, NHL official statistics disclosed.

New York's Andy Bathgate and Gordie Howe of Detroit each tallied one goal and two assists to remain tied for second with 30 points.

Bobby Hull of Chicago chipped in with four goals and two assists to move up from sixth to fourth place with 29 points. Jean Beliveau of Montreal and Boston's Vic Stasiuk each picked up three assists. They fell from a fourth place deadlock to fifth, each with 27 points.

Jacques Plante, Montreal goalie, continued to lead in the defense department, yielding only 2.04 goals a game. He has allowed 55 goals in 27 games.

Meeting Under Way To Try To Settle Lake Argument

TULE LAKE (UPI) — Local farmers and California sportsmen met here today with Rep. Harold T. Johnson (D-Calif.) to argue their respective rights to water in Tule Lake.

Johnson called the meeting in an attempt to settle a dispute over how high the water level of the lake should be maintained.

The sportsmen contend that the levels have been low enough lately to destroy the lake's value as a wildlife refuge. Farmers argue they need the water to support their crops.

The dispute began after the opening of duck season on Oct. 7 when sportsmen found the lake level down six inches from the previous year. They complained they were unable to get their boats across the mud.

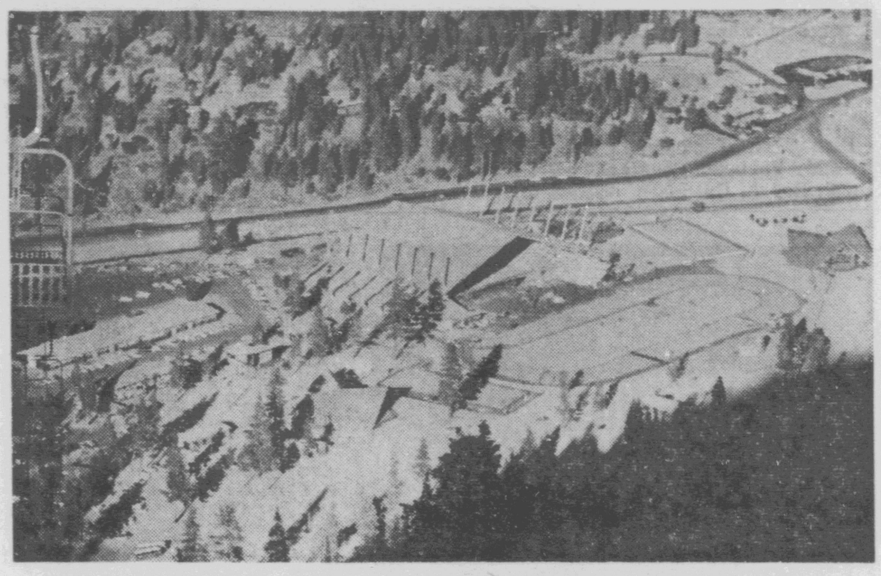

The sportsmen protested to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, whose job it is to maintain lake levels by recommendations to the Tule Lake Irrigation District and U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

O. E. Petersen, president of the Tule Lake Valley Sportsmens Assn., said he thought the opposing factions could be brought together without drastic action."

WINTER GAMES SITE SHAPING UP

General view of Squaw Valley, scene for the 1960 Winter Olympics Games shows everything shaping up except one item—no snow. However, officials figure there'll be plenty of that by the time the competition starts in February. This scene is of valley taken from mountain, KT-22, with KT-22 ski lift at extreme left. In center is Olympic Ice Area with figure skating rink inside. In front of arena is speed skating rink. Left of this is ice hockey rink with spectator center alongside. Long building at left is press center. Right of speed skating rink is another ice hockey rink and a second spectator center. (IPI photos)

49ers Played Entertaining, If Not A Completely Satisfying Season

HANLEY

Well, it was an entertaining if not completely satisfying pro football season for 49er fans. Only a title would have made it absolutely satisfying. And who was brash enough to make any such fantastic prediction at the outset of the season?

The 2-4 record of the local pros in their six preseason games certainly was no basis for optimism. Even that 24-14 win over the Philadelphia Eagles in the season opener on Sept. 27 was no reason to get excited.

However, a tingling sensation of anticipation did grip 49er fans that opening day, not because of the initial victory but because of what Red Hickey had to say after it.

"We will beat the Rams," said the Arkansas redhead in greeting sports writers who, by custom, assemble in the locker room after a game to hear what a coach has to say about it.

Usually a coach rehashes the obvious. It would have been understandable if Hickey allowed himself some momentary pleasure in following this corny pattern because it was his first victory as a head coach.

HIS FLAT prediction caught the dressing room reporters with hesitating pencils. Did they hear him right?

"Yes," said Hickey. "I said 'We will beat the Rams.' And they can tack that up on their bulletin board."

When the 49ers played a perfect offensive and defensive game the following Sunday, shutting out the Rams 34-0, there was sound basis to believe they might go all the way to their first title.

THE 49ERS then took to the road for two games. The Green Bay Packers, rejuvenated by their new head man Vince Lombardi just as Hickey renovated the 49ers, edged them 21-20 and it appeared that the 49ers would fade before the season reached the halfway mark.

The Packer loss, however, galled them. They rebounded the next week with a solid and crunching 34-13 win over the Lions at Detroit and came home to Kezar to defeat the Chicago Bears 20-17 and again soundly whip the Lions, this time 33-7.

Off on the road again, they ran their string to four straight by breaking a longtime Coliseum jinx with a 24-16 victory over the Rams. At this juncture their record was 6-1. The Bears shaved it to 6-2 by beating them 14-3 at Chicago on five interceptions. The Colts trimmed it to 6-3 and went into a first place tie with the 49ers the next weekend at Baltimore on that 45-14 clobbering during which Y. A. Tittle and several others received severe lumps and bruises.

THIS TIME it surely looked like the 49ers, without Tittle, were out of it. But they nipped the Browns 21-20 in the snow at Cleveland with John Brodie pitching strikes.

And then they came home again for that showdown game last Saturday with the Colts whose 34-14 win wasn't tough for the defending champs as they picked off six 49er passes.

Hickey, a realist, rarely indulges in wishful thinking. He now has no alternative. He hasn't given up hope.

"We still have a chance if the Rams win (over the Colts) and we can take the Packers next Sunday," he said.

SEVERE CRITIC

Ex-Coach Says Pro Basketball Boring

By JACK CUDDY

WEST LONG BRANCH, N.J. (UPI)—Ken Loeffler, a real basketball brain guy, declared today the pros must scrap their "run sheep, run" brand of play if they hope to wean great numbers of fans away from the "more interesting" college game.

After 30 years of coaching collegians and professionals, the six-foot man with tinges of gray in his brown hair said the National Basketball Assn., particularly, has legislated "an all-scoring game" that appeals only to people who know nothing of the real game.

Loeffler, professor of business law here at Monmouth College, deplored the NBA's rule against zone defenses and its 24-second "must shoot" regulation.

He said the anti-zone rule eliminated completely the surprise element from basketball defense because "it takes the tactics out of the game." He charged that current pro defense is as lacklustre as the defense in football would be if every team were required to use a seven-man line.

During his career, Loeffler coached at Yale, Geneva, La Salle, Texas A. & M., and with the professional St. Louis Bombers of the old Basketball Association of America. Because of an ulcer-caused operation that carved out four-fifths of his stomach, he hasn't coached during his tenure at Monmouth. This is his third year here.

"But I still scout college teams in the east for midwestern teams that play them," he explained, "and in that way I keep sharp on the game."

Zone defenses were outlawed by the NBA to produce high scores that might attract the fans. The production was achieved, Loeffler admitted with a smile. Every team in the circuit is averaging more than 100 points a game this season; but that very production is stifling interest in professional play, he said.

"It makes a dull game to have four men stand around outside and just wait until they can pass to one guy," he explained. "On the other hand, a team using a five-man weave has five potential scorers, all of whom could take a fling at the pivot. That kind of play is fast and exciting because the give-and-go maneuvers keep the ball moving all the time."

Loeffler is particularly incensed at the professional no-zone, shoot-shoot-shoot game because it puts a premium on mere height, rather than ability, he said.

He pointed to Tom Gola of the Philadelphia Warriors as exhibit "A" in the professional waste of manpower.

Gola, who led Loeffler's Lasalle team to a National Invitation Tournament championship in 1952 and to the 1954 NCAA title, has become practically "a statue on the court" instead of potentially "the most thrilling performer in the game," the critic regretted.

Gola's mission now is merely to throw the ball to Wilt Chamberlain, a seven-foot, two-inch giant, moaned ex-coach Ken.

"Watch one pro game," said the 1924 captain of Penn State, "and you've seen them all. They're just shooting matches. Why not just mark spots on the court and let each big fellow take a certain number of shots to determine which team wins. All the variety is gone from the pro game anyway."

Loeffler advocates rescinding the no-zone-defense rule so the fans could see how the Giants would go about breaking a zone.

"Wouldn't it be interesting to see a great pivot man like Chamberlain forced to meet new situations every minute—as he did in college?"

Liston 5 To 1 Favorite In TV Feature

By Associated Press

Sonny Liston, who would like a crack at heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson and has the credentials to make the challenge, is a 5-1 favorite to score his 19th straight victory tomorrow night.

The third-ranking contender from Philadelphia takes on willing Willi (call me Billy) Besmanoff of Milwaukee, in a television (ABC 7 p.m., Pacific Standard Time) 10-rounder at the Cleveland Arena.

Liston, 27, has a 25-1 record, including 16 knockouts. His winning streak of 18 dates back more than five years when he was outpointed by Marty Marshall in an eight-rounder. Sonny avenged that lone loss by whipping Marshall twice, once on a kayo.

The German-born Besmanoff has a 41-16-7 record, including 15 kayos. He is more of a mauler than a puncher. If Willi goes the limit with Liston it will be a big surprise.

The Liston - Besmanoff bout is the only network TV clash of the week. The Friday night fight spot has been taken over for a bowling championship.

Baylor Leads Lakers Into S.F. This Week

Recognized as one of professional basketball's finest players, Elgin Baylor moves into one of his favorite pavilions Thursday night when his Minneapolis Lakers meet the Syracuse Nationals at the Cow Palace in San Francisco.

Baylor has performed four times at the Cow Palace and on each occasion he has been brilliant. In his first appearance as a collegian, he led Seattle University to an upset of USF's defending NCAA champions with a last second field goal. The next night he sparked the Chieftains past California.

Last year the 6-6 sharpshooter carried the Lakers into overtime before losing to the world champion Boston Celtics. Then he came back to pace a win over the Cincinnati Royals.

Rookie of the Year in the NBA last season, Baylor currently is lodged in a spirited scoring duel with Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors for the league point lead despite two weeks of inactivity due to a flu virus.

Now fully recovered, Baylor is expected to find fierce competition Thursday from Syracuse's Dolph Schayes, a 12-year veteran who has been named to the All-NBA team a dozen times.

The Nats, rated the best balanced club in the pro ranks, are right on the heels of the Celtics and Warriors in the Eastern Division and are expected to two-time Baylor with Schayes and George Yardley, former Stanford All-American.

The game is not an exhibition. The final result will be counted in the league standings.

Tickets are priced at $3 for box seats, $3 and $2.50 for reserved section, $1.75 for general admission and $1 for children under 12 years. They are on sale at Taveggia and Brusati Sports Shop in San Rafael.

Boston's Horvath Holds Lead In Hockey Scoring

MONTREAL (AP) — Bronco Horvath, Boston Bruins' center, held on to the scoring lead in the National Hockey League today despite missing one of his club's three games last week because of a toe injury.

Horvath got only one goal, raising his point total to 35, made up of 21 goals, tops in the league, and 14 assists. But his working margin dwindled to five from seven points a week ago, NHL official statistics disclosed.

New York's Andy Bathgate and Gordie Howe of Detroit each tallied one goal and two assists to remain tied for second with 30 points.

Bobby Hull of Chicago chipped in with four goals and two assists to move up from sixth to fourth place with 29 points. Jean Beliveau of Montreal and Boston's Vic Stasiuk each picked up three assists. They fell from a fourth place deadlock to fifth, each with 27 points.

Jacques Plante, Montreal goalie, continued to lead in the defense department, yielding only 2.04 goals a game. He has allowed 55 goals in 27 games.

Meeting Under Way To Try To Settle Lake Argument

TULE LAKE (UPI) — Local farmers and California sportsmen met here today with Rep. Harold T. Johnson (D-Calif.) to argue their respective rights to water in Tule Lake.

Johnson called the meeting in an attempt to settle a dispute over how high the water level of the lake should be maintained.

The sportsmen contend that the levels have been low enough lately to destroy the lake's value as a wildlife refuge. Farmers argue they need the water to support their crops.

The dispute began after the opening of duck season on Oct. 7 when sportsmen found the lake level down six inches from the previous year. They complained they were unable to get their boats across the mud.

The sportsmen protested to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, whose job it is to maintain lake levels by recommendations to the Tule Lake Irrigation District and U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

O. E. Petersen, president of the Tule Lake Valley Sportsmens Assn., said he thought the opposing factions could be brought together without drastic action."

Wins Big Hand As Presidential Possibilities Speak At Dinner

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The Democrats held a big, four-hour "beauty contest" of 1960 presidential possibilities Monday night and, based on applause, the winner was Adlai E. Stevenson.

Stevenson says he isn't seeking the nomination.

Nevertheless, of seven men who were called to the lectern before a glittering, jam-packed crowd of Democrats, the tops for whooping and hollering went to Stevenson.

The occasion was a dinner honoring the 75th birthday of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. More than 1,000 Democrats paid $100 a plate to attend the event.

Former President Harry S. Truman and a major portion of the party big-wigs were present. Truman, bouncy and ebullient as ever, presided over the "beauty contest."

It was handled with the essence of tact and diplomacy—so as to indicate no preference for any of the presidential hopefuls.

There was no head table. Each of the aspirants and potential candidates sat with party leaders at separate tables.

When dinner ended, the curtains parted on a stage. There, seated in a semi-circle with Mrs. Roosevelt and Truman in the middle, were three U.S. senators, three governors — and Stevenson—all of whom have been mentioned for the Democratic nomination.

Truman, obviously relishing the role, called on them to speak.

"I won't use any device that might indicate I favor any one of them," he said. "They're all personal friends of mine."

Carrying caution even further, he said he would proceed geographically, moving from west to east across the continent.

That brought Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, governor of California, up first. "A man to be reckoned with," said Truman.

Then came Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, and Sen. Stuart Symington, of Missouri. Having now reached the Middle West, Truman called on Stevenson.

Stevenson registered well-bred surprise.

He had already spoken once, opening the dinner.

Now, looking like a schoolboy caught day-dreaming by the teacher, he said: "I wasn't supposed to be included in the company of these handsome, hairy young men"—a reference to his own baldness baldness—"and I'm a little at a loss as to what to say in view of your assumption that I'm still alive."

Nevertheless, he rose. So did many people in the audience. Cheers and clapping rocketed through the ballroom.

Reporters clocked the reception at 29 seconds. Tops up to that point had been the applause for Humphrey, 17 seconds.

Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams, New Jersey's Gov. Robert B. Meyner, and Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts followed in order. The applause for Kennedy lasted 10 seconds.

Finally, Mrs. Roosevelt spoke in the climax of the event.

"I pray that the next president will be a Democrat," she said, "but Democrat or Republican, I pray he will be someone who understands and can meet the great responsibilities ahead."

WIGAN, England (AP) — A great crash disturbed the peace of Magistrates' Court but it brought a quick verdict.

While tenants of five nearby houses were claiming the dwellings were too dangerous to live in, a police sergeant rushed into the courtroom.

"Those houses," he whispered to the magistrate, "the roofs have just fallen in."

The magistrate quickly ordered the houses to be made safe or demolished.

More Flexible Penalties For Addicts Urged

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Recommendations for more lenient penalties for first-offense narcotics offenders and stiffer sentences for second offenders today were before a state Senate Committee on Judiciary.

The committee's two-session hearing on penalties for narcotics offenders opened yesterday with four law enforcement officials suggesting flexible sentences for offenders instead of binding penalties

U. S. Attorney Laughlin E. Waters said severe mandatory federal penalties have made it difficult to convict youthful first offenders in narcotics cases. He said the conviction rate in San Diego dropped 35 to 40 per cent when harsher penalties became effective.

Agreeing with Waters were Los Angeles Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson, San Francisco Dist. Atty. Thomas C. Lynch and Ventura County Dist. Atty. Roy A. Gustafson.

Holiday Events Are Planned By Assembly

Tamalpais Assembly No. 191, was one of three assemblies that hosted a recent reception for Diane Meyer, grand worthy advisor for the state of California. The other two assemblies were Novato and San Rafael.

In November, the assembly had a successful dessert and fashion show. The members modeled before more than 200 guests. This was the money making project of the worthy advisor and part of the proceeds will go toward the purchase of an American Flag for the assembly.

The first initiation of this term of officers was held and those initiated were Hazel Outsen, Susan Worth and Linda Walsh, all of San Anselmo.

Last Saturday the girls went to San Francisco for a bike ride in the Golden Gate Park.

Events plann by the Assembly for December are a trip to China town and a party for their Dads. After the last meeting of the month, the assembly will go caroling and then to a party for the girls and their parents at the home of Susan Frier in Ross.

The members will decorate the halls and the Christmas trees in the Ross Hospital.

DECORATING FOR THE TOUR are Guild members, from left, Mesdames William Krelley and Frank Dettner. Proceeds from the tour will help reduce the church mortgage. Child care will be provided in the kindergarten room of the church.

Church Guild Tour Homes Will Have Holiday Themes

Various holiday themes will be carried out in the Christmas Decorations House Tour Friday, Dec. 11, from 2 to 5 p.m., presented by the Women's Guild of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

On display will be "Candles and Canes," at Mrs. Robert C. Clapham's Sleepy Hollow home, "An Early American Christmas" at Mrs. A. A. Coddington's San Anselmo home; a "Contemporary Christmas" at Mrs. Frank T. Dettner's Kentfield home; "Home for Christmas" at Mrs. Howard Hammond's Kent Woodlands home and "Christmas Fantasy" at Mrs. Robin Galloway's Kent Woodlands home. The tour does not have to be seen in this particular order and tea will be served all afternoon at Mrs. Galloway's home.

Committee chairmen for the event are Mesdames Robin Galloway, general chairman; William Krelle, decorations; Hans E. Fischel, tickets; Howard Dunlap, tea; and Verle W. Sorgen, publicity. Tickets may be purchased through Mrs. Hans E. Fischel and a few tickets will be available at the homes on the tour.

Proceeds will help reduce the church mortgage. Child care will be provided in the kindergarten room of the church.

Yule Trimmings For Your Home

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bright new decorations can lend a touch of beauty to your home at Christmas time.

The decorations — splashed with color, sequins, and gold—reflect a wide assortment of religious and holiday themes.

Among the most unusual and useful is a gleaming gold-and-white train of antique design. The train, which measures 45 inches long and has four cars, serves as a handy home display for Christmas cards.

Jolly old St. Nick is featured in several holiday decorations, including a weather-proofed version with spun-glass beard. Another Santa pulls a sled and is designed as a centerpiece for table or mantel.

Country Christmas To Be Show Theme

"Make Mine A Country Christmas!"

If that's the way you feel about the happiest of holidays, then plan a refreshing respite from a hectic pace and get in the mood for a Country Christmas next Tuesday at a Yuletide Fashion Focus luncheon at Rickey's honoring the Ross Hospital Volunteers sharing the spotlight with Alpha Omicron Pi sorority.

Snowy boughs, bright packages, jingling bells and candlelight will be festive holiday touches with familiar Christmas carols to lift the spirits of the tired Christmas shopper.

Colorful fashions to "go over the river and through the wood," to the ski slope or by the fireside, will be in the delightful Christmas collection of a Marin shop to take a Yuletide spirit from early morning to a late holiday evening. Dashing tapers with gay cummerbunds, smart cashmeres to team with imported skirts, luscious silks for special occasions, wonderful wools for holiday gad-abouts will be in the fashion promenade.

Popping out from bright gift boxes will be "Suggestions for Santa," scarves, handsome leather bags, unusual jewelry, etc., to help the luncheon guests find just the right present for a special person on their lists.

A Christmas turkey and beautifully bedecked Christmas tree will be just two of the gala holiday surprises. The resulting Christmas shillings will say "Happy Holidays" to the Endowed Bed Fund of the Ross Hospital, a project initiated by the Ross Hospital Valunteers and adopted by Alpha Omicron Pi and its newest philanthropic endeavor.

The Endowed Bed Fund serves a year 'round need offering hospital care to patients of Marin physicians when hospitalization would mean financial hardship to the family. Upon recommendation of a physician and approval by the board of trustees the Endowed Bed Fund would be made available.

Added Christmas glamour to the attractive Rainbow Ladies (as the Ross Hospital Volunteers are familiarly called) and the AOP Sorority members who will model will be holiday hair styles by a Marin salon.

Reservations for "Make Mine a Country Christmas" may be made by calling Rickey's with luncheon at 12:30 o'clock and the holiday fashions at 1 p.m.

Marin Women

Marin Sertoma Club Dance Set Saturday

The Marin Sertoma Club will hold a Christmas party dinner dance on Saturday, Dec. 12 at Painters Hall, Mission and Tamalpais avenues, San Rafael.

The party will get underway with a cocktail hour at 8 o'clock. Proceeds will go for Juvenile Hall Sponsorship.

Vassar Luncheon

The San Francisco Vassar Club has issued invitations for its annual Christmas Luncheon on Thursday, Dec. 10 at the Women's City Club. The guest speaker this year will be Harold Gilliam, author of "San Francisco Bay." He will be speaking on the subject of his book. His wife is a Vassar graduate.

DR., MRS. CANOLES RECEIVE GUESTS AT THE 'WEE HOOSE'

At charming "Wee Hoose," Dr. and Mrs. John Jefferson Canoles held an open house on Saturday afternoon. Their new colonial styled house, white with green shutters, is at 510 Rowland boulevard, Novato.

Dr. Canoles, after many years as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael, retired in June. He and Mrs. Canoles issued their invitations to their open house to all the congregation in the church calendar.

Assisting in receiving at the door were Mesdames Curtiss Hayden, Earle M. Young and Miss Judy Kilduff, Miss Gretchen Eden. Hall hostesses were Mesdames Elmer Strachan, Maurice Johnson and Sylvester Fickbohm.

In charge of the guest book were Mesdames Donald Murray, Leonard Murphy and Carol Heidenreich.

Taking their turns at presiding at the tea table were Mesdames Glenn Smith, A. L. McCormick, Raymond H. Thayer, Samuel D. Archibald, William P. Murray and Charles Gettemy.

Assisting in serving were Mesdames Elmer Nielsen Jr., Lynn Roberts, Frank Boileau, Eugene Peeples, John Bagshaw, Scott Strathairn and Miss Sandra Kilduff.

Woodwardia Circle Plans Hat Parade

Woodwardie Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, will hold its first meeting of the month at the Odd Fellows Temple at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Della Cline, Guardian Neighbor, will preside at the meeting. After the meeting there will be a Christmas Hat Parade with prizes for the most original, the most artistic and for the funniest hat in the grand march. Mrs. John Bernards is the chairman of the entertainment and refreshment committee, and will be assisted by John Bernards, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Toth, and Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell.

The annual Christmas party for the members and the children in the family, is to be held on Wednesday, Dec. 23. Santa Claus will distribute gifts and candy for all of the children, and there will be special refreshments for everybody. The committee has planned a program of entertainment.

Officers of Woodwardia Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft held its annual Christmas party last week at the home of Mrs. Joseph Codoni.

Miss Edwina Codoni, had decorated their home and the table with decorations for the holiday season. Gifts were exchanged, and the traditional "plum pudding" with sauce was served. This was strictly a "fun" meeting, and there was a short business meeting with Mrs. E. C. Berg, president, presiding.

Camp Fire Girls And Blue Birds Busy In Community Activities

Camp Fire Girls in the So-wa-ne-Ka group have had an active and productive season. Under the guardianship of Mrs. Willard Voorhees Jr., of Kent Woodlands, the girls have been fulfilling requirements for their Woodgathering Rank.

They recently spent an overnight camping jaunt at Pan Toll on the slopes of Mt. Tamalpais. Accompanied by Mrs. Roger Wurtz and Mrs. Thomas Gilboy, the campers planned, prepared and cooked their meals, cleaned the camp and spent the evening singing and telling tales around the camp fire.

The So-wa-ne-Ka's had a party at the home of Mrs. Robert Blakeslee. This afternoon was planned around playing penny games, proceeds being contributed to the National Camp Fire Gold Rush Project.

This busy Camp Fire group is participating in the Golden Jubilee nature and community service celebration. The girls have taken a tree census in their area, to determine what trees will add more to the beauty of Marin County. They are planning to raise and care for seedlings during 1960, to plant during the Golden Jubilee celebration in the spring of 1961.

Girls in the group are Lucia Blakeslee, Marion Gilboy, Laura Klein, Melanie Lines, Kathy Magruder, Pam Meyers, Lois Richert, Beth Voorhees and Joy Wurtz.

Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds in Novato are practicing Christmas carols at the Olive School. Preperation and rehearsal are geared for Dec. 21, when the carolers will sing at the First National Bank in Novato, to be broadcast over station KTIM.

Mrs. J. A. Sturken, chairman, Notavo Leaders' Assn, has asked all groups in the area to participate. Mrs. Roberta Diefendorf will conduct the singers, accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Groves at the organ. Arrangements for the caroling broadcast are being made by Mrs. Romuls Garskis.

Leaders whose groups are planning and rehearsing are Mrs. G. H. Pelmear, seventh grade Camp Fire; Mrs. C. H. Prem, sixth grade Camp Fire; Mrs. William Siler, third grade Blue Birds; Mrs. Howard Dank, third grade Blue Birds; Mrs. Enri Cavasso, Mrs. George Johnson and Mrs. John J. Zeh, all second and third grade Blue Birds.

The Ka-Wa-Shu-an Camp Fire Girls of West End in San Rafael had a novel party recently to fulfil requirements for their Woodgatherer Rank. The requirement includes entertaining parents and friends at a party, Camp Fire Girls planning and presenting a program and preparing refreshments.

The group planned a Gay Ninety style show. Costumes, several of which were authentic, were put together from materials rummaged from family trunks and store rooms. Guests were delighted to see the girls promenade in their borrowed finery.

Mrs. William Sichel of Fairhills is guardian of the Ka-wa-chu-an unit. Members include Sheron Dixon, Yolands Godfrey, Kristine Hall, Donna Mozzers, Angeline Posey, Lee Anne Sichel and Sally Hasse.

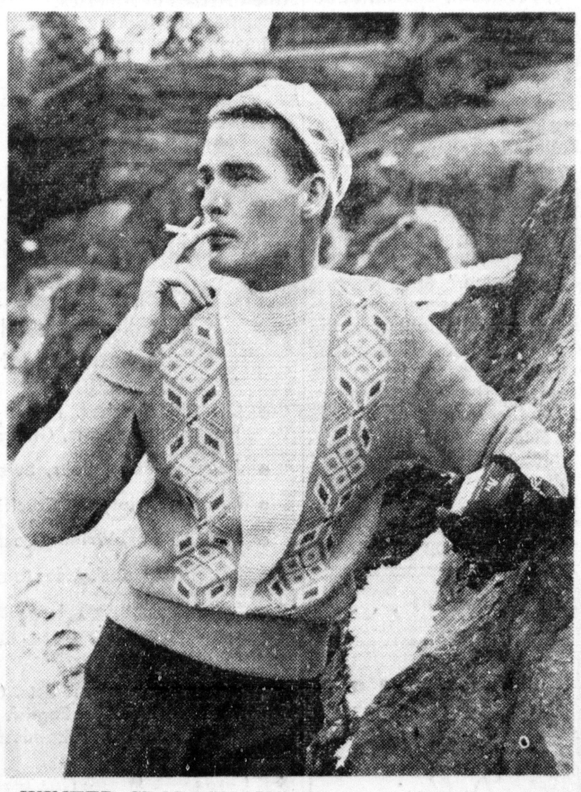

Valley Sewing Club Party And Election

The annual election of officers and Christmas party of the Valley Sewing Club, an affiliate of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge No. 305, will be held tomorrow at the IOOF Temple in Mill Valley.

In charge of the 12:30 p.m. luncheon which will precede these events will be Mesdames James O. Anderson, Frank Bird, Robert McAnally and Albert Hughes. Mrs. Walter Meyer, president, will conduct the business session.

CHRISTMAS WILL be perfect for the recipient of this rounded hourglass bulky knit pullover sweater. A deep band of ribbing, extending smoothly over the hips from a trim waistline, is repeated at the wide demi-turtle neckline.

WINTER SPORTSMANSHIP in woolknit and perfect for Christmas giving is this ski sweater and matching cap. A deep V yoke inset in white, flanked with panels of a geometric design, makes a striking contrast to the solid color of the rest of the pullover.

Party In Fairfax Planned On Dec. 19

A Christmas party for neighborhood children will be held Saturday, Dec. 19 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Lippi, 93 Scenic road in Fairfax.

The program will feature Christmas carols; a Christmas story by Clyte Sweet, and accordion selections by Michael Grady and John Pollock.

Refreshments will be served and gifts distributed by Mrs. Lippi and Miss Mathilde Finkelstein.

Green Oaks Unit Party Set Saturday

The Green Oaks Unit, Friends of Arequipa, will hold its Christmas party on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. James G. Sigman in Greenbrae.

Mrs. Harry M. Koons is chairman of the event which will get underway at 6 p.m.

The event culminates a year of service for the organization and its participation in varied community projects for Marin County — that of combined service with other Arequipa units throughout the various areas.

Currently, and in the past there are four main projects—Lucas Valley, Marindale School, Ross General Hospital, San Rafael General Hospital and Juvenile Hall.

Birthday parties are given once a month at the Lucas Valley Farm. Corsages and gifts are distributed to the group. At Ross Terrace(tuberculosis wing of the Ross General Hospital), and at San Rafael General Hospital boxes and tray favors are presented.

For the orthopedically handicapped children at Marindale School, the members recently made decorated Christmas stockings and filled them with gifts. Part of the service for Marindale also is to assist when indicated, with the handicapped children and adults.

From their philanthropic activtites available funds have been donated to Juvenile Hall.

Music Program Topic For School Meeting Tonight

Augmenting tonight's regular meeting of the Sausalito Nursery School will be two guest speakers presenting a program titled "Let's Relax and Make Music."

Glen and Shirley Carlson of the Creative School of Music at San Rafael will bring simple instruments for the age level of the pre-school members. They will also demonstrate how to make a simple drum with a deep tone (not the type of drum that brings groans to parents in the dawn of Christmas morning). The couple will explain to the membership music-based activities and how to reach pre-school children through music. All interested parents in the Sausalito area with children in this age group are cordially invited to attend. The School is located at 625 Main street and the meeting will start at 7:45 p. m.

The School's annual Christmas party for the tots is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 19th from 10 a. m. to noon. Mrs. William Dunlop is co-ordinating the program with Mesdames Wolfgang Lederer and Edward Davis in charge of refreshment details. Mrs. Hans Hagemeister is planning a field trip for some of the older children to select the school's Christmas tree. Robert Prather, husband of the assistant director, will arrive during the party in the familiar red suit, in a bright red truck, courtesy of the Sausalito Fire Department.

All pre-school Sausalito children will be welcome to attend

Fairfax Club Plans Party

At the recent meeting of the Fairfax Women's Club which was conducted by Mrs. C. W. Carle, president, Christmas activities were discussed. Among these was the annual Christmas party to be held at the luncheon on Dec. 15. Members will exchange gifts and also bring gifts for the clubhouse.

Following the meeting Mrs. Lucy Stroud Clausen of Kansas, who is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. S. Stewart, sang "Bless This House," "Memories" and "When I Grow Too Old to Dream." Mrs. Stewart was her piano accompanist.

Refreshments followed the program. Large red paper Christmas trees were on the tables and the fireplace mantel. On the serving committee were Mesdames Harold A. Druhan, John T. Fitzhenry, Floyd Elliott, Genevieve Fredricks, Sidney Foy and Frank E. Duley. The same commitee will serve the luncheon on Dec. 15.

WEDDING AND MOVING PLANS MAKE MORETTIS' DAY HECTIC

A wedding is always exciting but things are positively hectic at the home of the Louis Ramon Morettis of San Rafael whose daughter, Catherine, will become the bride of Joseph Cameron Hickingbotham III on Dec. 16. Right after the wedding the Morettis' daughter, Mrs. William Fagan (Shirley Moretti) of Novato, with her two little girls, Shirley and Anne, will fly to Hawaii where her husband, Maj. Fagan, will be stationed. He has been in Okinawa for 15 months and now has been made aide to Lt. Gen. Thomas Wornham, commanding general of the Marine Force in the Pacific. And next month, Mr. and Mrs. Moretti, who have sold their home at 100 Palm Avenue to the John Merrymans, will move to the former Peter Barnato home in Fairfax, near the Meadow Club, they have bought.

Catherine, who will exchange marriage vows with the only son of the Joseph C. Hickingbothams Jr. of San Rafael at St. Paul's Church, San Rafael at 6 o'clock in the evening, has chosen Mrs. Fagan as matron of honor, her other sister, Anne Moretti, a senior at Mills, as maid of honor and Joe's sister, Heidi Hickingbotham, as bridesmaid. Shirley and Anne Fagan will be junior bridesmaids. Schuyler Spence of Piedmont will be best man and ushers will be Dennis Murphy and William Gallaher, both of Palm Springs, and Gerald Swanton of San Francisco.

The Meadow Club will be the locale of the wedding reception. Joe and his bride will live in Glendale, Ore., where he is with the Robert Dollar Co. The young man is the grandson of Mrs. R. Stanley Dollar of Piedmont and the late Mr. Dollar and the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hickingbotham. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Henry Dixon of Tracy.

Helen Oehler Returns From African Safari

Helen Gapen Oehler, Mill Valley's noted artist, returned to Mill Valley from her second African Safari last week just in time for the beginning of holiday festivities.

She was a member of a party of 10 people accepted for a venture into many regions in Africa never before visited by a tour party and where the American is virtually unknown.

On her way home Mrs. Oehler visited relatives in Chicago and New York City, where she also picked up her oil painting "La Mer," which had been on display in an exhigit of the Allied Artists of America.

Friends are looking forward to hearing the complete story of her latest adventures

At Hospital Meet

Attending a hospital institute sponsored by the California Hospital Association in Santa Barbara on Dec. 14 and 15 will be Mrs. Marion C. Ibach, secretary of the board of directors of Marin County Hospital District and Mrs. Kay Noah, community relations director. The main theme of the conference will be "Future Planning for Hospital Expansion." A key speaker will be George Bugbee, president of the Health Information Foundation of New York.

Pi Beta Phi Alumnae Plan Supper Party

Alumnae of Pi Beta Phi and their husbands and escorts are looking forward to a cocktail hour and buffet supper Sunday evening, Dec. 13 at the Mill Valley home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan at 227 West Blithedale avenue.

This is the first affair of this kind in many years and promises to be an enjoyable evening. Clever invitations went into the mails last week with reservations to be made by Dec. 9 by calling Dunlap 8-8140. The time is six o'clock.

On the committee with the alumnae president, Mrs. Charles R. Stuart, are Mesdames J. G. Herrman, Donald Morgan, Marion Scott, Clifford Von Kaesborg, John R. George Jr., William L. Berzman and Robert Morgan.

The committee met Tuesday of last week in the home of Mrs. Berzman at 379 Holly drive, San Rafael, to make the arrangements.

Alpha Gamma Delt Party Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be the occasion for the annual Christmas party of the Alpha Gamma Delta Alumnae Club.

The highlight of the evening will be a blind auction. The money raised will go to the national sorority's altruistic project. Mrs. Richard France of Terra Linda will be hostess, with Mesdames W. A. Sweeney, B. L. Tardiff and R. L. Baxter assisting.

The Alpha Gamma Delta alumnae have added to their altruistic projects by providing a receptionist one day a week at the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Slippery Note

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wax will not prevent the marring of furniture through excessive heat or allowing liquids to stand indefinitely.

But it does provide a protective coating that prevents absorption immediately. This allows time to wipe away the moisture before it can damage the finish.

Joint Luncheon

Alumnae of Chestnut Hill, Immaculata and Rosemont Colleges will hold their first joint luncheon meeting in this area Saturday, Dec. 12, at 1 p.m., at the Comellia Room, Fairmont Hotel, San Francisco. More than 40 invitations have been issued to alumnae of the three women's colleges near Philadelphia, Pa. Reservations are being made through Mrs. James Burns, 1147 Grizzly Peak Blvd., Berkeley.

Green Oaks Unit Party Set Saturday

The Green Oaks Unit, Friends of Arequipa, will hold its Christmas party on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. James G. Sigman in Greenbrae.

Mrs. Harry M. Koons is chairman of the event which will get underway at 6 p.m.

The event culminates a year of service for the organization and its participation in varied community projects for Marin County — that of combined service with other Arequipa units throughout the various areas.

Currently, and in the past there are four main projects—Lucas Valley, Marindale School, Ross General Hospital, San Rafael General Hospital and Juvenile Hall.

Birthday parties are given once a month at the Lucas Valley Farm. Corsages and gifts are distributed to the group. At Ross Terrace(tuberculosis wing of the Ross General Hospital), and at San Rafael General Hospital boxes and tray favors are presented.

For the orthopedically handicapped children at Marindale School, the members recently made decorated Christmas stockings and filled them with gifts. Part of the service for Marindale also is to assist when indicated, with the handicapped children and adults.

From their philanthropic activtites available funds have been donated to Juvenile Hall.

Music Program Topic For School Meeting Tonight

Augmenting tonight's regular meeting of the Sausalito Nursery School will be two guest speakers presenting a program titled "Let's Relax and Make Music."

Glen and Shirley Carlson of the Creative School of Music at San Rafael will bring simple instruments for the age level of the pre-school members. They will also demonstrate how to make a simple drum with a deep tone (not the type of drum that brings groans to parents in the dawn of Christmas morning). The couple will explain to the membership music-based activities and how to reach pre-school children through music. All interested parents in the Sausalito area with children in this age group are cordially invited to attend. The School is located at 625 Main street and the meeting will start at 7:45 p. m.

The School's annual Christmas party for the tots is scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 19th from 10 a. m. to noon. Mrs. William Dunlop is co-ordinating the program with Mesdames Wolfgang Lederer and Edward Davis in charge of refreshment details. Mrs. Hans Hagemeister is planning a field trip for some of the older children to select the school's Christmas tree. Robert Prather, husband of the assistant director, will arrive during the party in the familiar red suit, in a bright red truck, courtesy of the Sausalito Fire Department.

All pre-school Sausalito children will be welcome to attend

Fairfax Club Plans Party

At the recent meeting of the Fairfax Women's Club which was conducted by Mrs. C. W. Carle, president, Christmas activities were discussed. Among these was the annual Christmas party to be held at the luncheon on Dec. 15. Members will exchange gifts and also bring gifts for the clubhouse.

Following the meeting Mrs. Lucy Stroud Clausen of Kansas, who is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. S. Stewart, sang "Bless This House," "Memories" and "When I Grow Too Old to Dream." Mrs. Stewart was her piano accompanist.

Refreshments followed the program. Large red paper Christmas trees were on the tables and the fireplace mantel. On the serving committee were Mesdames Harold A. Druhan, John T. Fitzhenry, Floyd Elliott, Genevieve Fredricks, Sidney Foy and Frank E. Duley. The same commitee will serve the luncheon on Dec. 15.

WEDDING AND MOVING PLANS MAKE MORETTIS' DAY HECTIC

A wedding is always exciting but things are positively hectic at the home of the Louis Ramon Morettis of San Rafael whose daughter, Catherine, will become the bride of Joseph Cameron Hickingbotham III on Dec. 16. Right after the wedding the Morettis' daughter, Mrs. William Fagan (Shirley Moretti) of Novato, with her two little girls, Shirley and Anne, will fly to Hawaii where her husband, Maj. Fagan, will be stationed. He has been in Okinawa for 15 months and now has been made aide to Lt. Gen. Thomas Wornham, commanding general of the Marine Force in the Pacific. And next month, Mr. and Mrs. Moretti, who have sold their home at 100 Palm Avenue to the John Merrymans, will move to the former Peter Barnato home in Fairfax, near the Meadow Club, they have bought.

Catherine, who will exchange marriage vows with the only son of the Joseph C. Hickingbothams Jr. of San Rafael at St. Paul's Church, San Rafael at 6 o'clock in the evening, has chosen Mrs. Fagan as matron of honor, her other sister, Anne Moretti, a senior at Mills, as maid of honor and Joe's sister, Heidi Hickingbotham, as bridesmaid. Shirley and Anne Fagan will be junior bridesmaids. Schuyler Spence of Piedmont will be best man and ushers will be Dennis Murphy and William Gallaher, both of Palm Springs, and Gerald Swanton of San Francisco.

The Meadow Club will be the locale of the wedding reception. Joe and his bride will live in Glendale, Ore., where he is with the Robert Dollar Co. The young man is the grandson of Mrs. R. Stanley Dollar of Piedmont and the late Mr. Dollar and the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hickingbotham. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Henry Dixon of Tracy.

Helen Oehler Returns From African Safari

Helen Gapen Oehler, Mill Valley's noted artist, returned to Mill Valley from her second African Safari last week just in time for the beginning of holiday festivities.

She was a member of a party of 10 people accepted for a venture into many regions in Africa never before visited by a tour party and where the American is virtually unknown.

On her way home Mrs. Oehler visited relatives in Chicago and New York City, where she also picked up her oil painting "La Mer," which had been on display in an exhigit of the Allied Artists of America.

Friends are looking forward to hearing the complete story of her latest adventures

At Hospital Meet

Attending a hospital institute sponsored by the California Hospital Association in Santa Barbara on Dec. 14 and 15 will be Mrs. Marion C. Ibach, secretary of the board of directors of Marin County Hospital District and Mrs. Kay Noah, community relations director. The main theme of the conference will be "Future Planning for Hospital Expansion." A key speaker will be George Bugbee, president of the Health Information Foundation of New York.

Be An Expert On Designers' Furniture Lingo

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Brush up on furniture designers' lingo and you, too, can sound like an expert.

The following classification, compiled by Richard Behm, consultant for the National Hardwoods Association, was presented at a recent seminar held at the Dallas Homefurnishings Mart.

—MODERN is the outgrowth of today's architecture and material and manufacturing methods. Into this category fall contemporary and Scandinavian.

—TRADITIONAL can always be identified with the old English styles of Hepplewhite and Sheraton. The word traditional means "handed down from the past."

—EARLY AMERICAN AND COLONIAL furniture reflect the early American independence era. Usually the term signifies the simple, hewn-type pinewoods furniture used by the early settlers. Colonial, however, is more refined and lighter scaled, belonging to a later era.

Parties Honor Patricia Boland Who'll Be Mrs. Lee Dec. 19

Wedding preprations and parties are making these weeks exciting for Patricia Boland who will become the bride of Dr. John Roland Lee on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 19, at the Mill Valley Community Church, with the Rev. Gordon L. Foster officiating. The 2 o'clock ceremony will be followed by a reception at the Meadow Club.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mansfield Boland of Stinson Beach, is a graduate of University of Nevada in Reno. She has chosen her former roommate and Gamma Phi Beta sorority sister, Mrs. William Welsh of Watsonville, as matron of honor. Another sorority sister, Mary Stevenson of Reno, will be a bridesmaid. Other bridesmaids will be Mrs. Steve Cope of Sausalito, Mrs. Ray Gilkinson of Tiburon and Dr. Lee's sister, Mrs. Richard Meyer of Chicago, Ill.

Harry Kelly of San Francisco, who served in the Marin Corps with Dr. Lee, will be best man and in the ushering contingent will be Dr. W. E. Winn of Greenbrae, Dr. Irving Igdaloff of Sausalito, Dr. Robert Buckley of San Francisco and Richard Ewald of Mill Valley.

Dr. Lee, who has his practice in Mill Valley, where he and his bride will reside, is the son of Mrs. John Lee of Minneapolis, Minn., and the late Dr. Lee. Mrs. Lee, who is spending the winter in Arizona will be here for the wedding.

In honor of Patricia, Mrs. Don Younger entertained at a tea and shower recently at her apartment on Vallejo St. in San Francisco. Tomorrow Mrs. Gilkinson and Mrs. Cope are giving a tea and shower at the Gilkinson home for the bride-elect. On Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Carl Engstrom in Stinson Beach she and Mrs. Lewis Nye will be co-hostesses at a party and shower for Patricia.

The bride-elect, a teacher at the Bel Air School in the Reed School District, is the granddaughter of Frank L. Brown of San Rafael and the late Mrs. Brown and of Mrs. Edna Boland of Napa and the late Walter E. Boland.

Teacher Can Tell You More About Child's Work Than Any Report Card

We'll be getting report cards soon. Do they make you uneasy?

Sometimes my children get god report cards. Sometimes they don't. I'm always anxious. Are you?

Some years ago I made a collection of report cards. I found hundreds.

Some reported in percentages. They'd give 89 per cent in reading, 72 per cent in arithmetic and so on. Many had a give-point scale—A, B, C, D and F. Others had only three grades—Outstanding Satisfactory and Failing. Many of the cards had two sets of grades. One was for the school subjects and the other for citizenship. A few cards combined the two.

Some cards gave no grades. Instead they had places for the teachers to check descriptions of behavior. Like "Always works well" or "Frequently disturbs the class."

The simplest card had only a place for the teacher to write a paragraph describing things. Nothing more.

I asked school principals what they thought about their report cards. They all had complaints. Not one felt his card was quite right. After that I gave up. There is no perfect report card. Whatever a school uses will be criticized. Report cards are a necessary evil. We must be told in some way how our children are doing at school.

When you get report cards, study them. There is an explanation for the markings. Be sure you understand the system. Then if you have questions, see the teacher. Make an appointment so she'll have time to talk with you.

You'll learn more in a short chat than you'll get from all the report cards she can send.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Why have so many schools discarded precentage report cards? I liked them best."

(A) Percentage cards were discarded in many places after researchers said they were the least accurate of all report cards. Nine and five point scales were considered better.

INTRICATE WORK — Some of the metal work and religious pictures inside St. Catherine's church.

Newsmen See Treasures In Kremlin Tour

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Committee on Cultural Relations recently invited Western news correspondents to tour hitherto closed areas of the Kremlin.

The invitation was treated more than casually by Western newsmen, who fully realized the Russians must have something they were eager to show the world.

The Westerners weren't disappointed. They were led through ornately decorated halls where hung wonderfully restored religious art treasures, and into private chapels of the imperial families of the past. They were show beautifully preserved churches:

The Church of the Resurrection of St. Lazarus, the oldest building in Moscow erected in the 14th Century; the Church of St. Mary, the Church of the Resurrection with its gold clock-chandelier presented by Charles XI of Sweden, the Church of the Miraculous Ikon of the Savior which has an altar screen of craved oxydized silver, and the Church of the Crucifixion, decorated by Poznansky, one of Russia's most famous ikon painters.

Tucked into an obscure corner of St. Vladimir's Hall — where guests arrive for Kremlin banquets—were the thrones of the Romanovs.

Restoration of the Kremlin, the guides explained proudly, is an ever-continuing process and said even more prize treasures of Moscow's past will be put on view in the future.

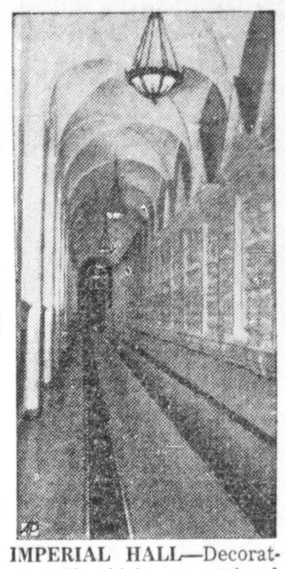

The exclusive pictures on this page were taken by AP staffer A. I. Goldberg of the Moscow bureau, who said the invitation to view the Kremlin as "just another of a chain of unexpected developments" in the thawing out of Western-Soviet relations.

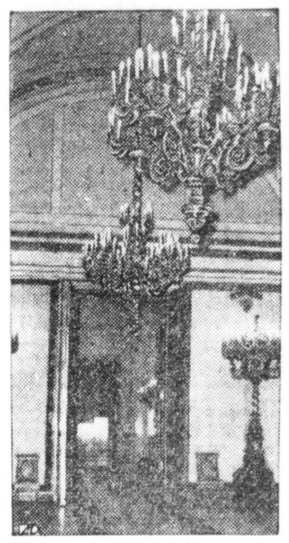

STARTLING CONTRAST—Religious panels in the background and church books in foreground in Resurrection of Lazarus Chapel are a startling contrast to today's atheistic Russia.

IMPERIAL HALL—Decorated hall which once echoed with the shuffling feet of Russia's imperial rulers.

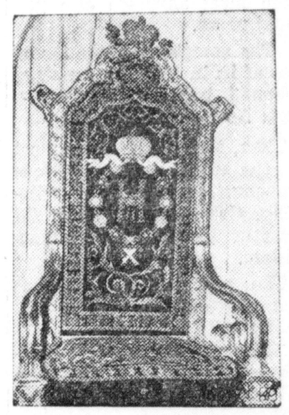

LIGHTED EMPRESS — Magnificent chandeliers light the Kremlin Palace's Hall of St. Catherine, where the empress held court.

KREMLIN CLOCK—Intricately carved, ornate gold and marble clock in the Kremlin's Red Lounge.

STILL ON GUARD—Lion of Nicholas I still stands guard at the stairway leading to the balcony where the czar delivered his imperial orders.

LAST CZAR SAT HERE — Silk-covered throne of Nicholas II, last czar of Russia, sits in the corner of St. Vladimir's Hall.

Woman Again Comes Out Loser In Court

Mrs. Martha Anne DeBorger, 35, who lost a divorce action to Air Force Maj. Arthur J. DeBorger, will get no temporary alimony while she appeals her case to the District Court of Appeals.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court, who put Mrs. DeBorger in jail when she refused to produce her husband's insurance policy, yesterday denied her appeal for temporary alimony.

The judge said he felt the appeal was "frivolous," and he was not going to allow any "further plucking of this man." The major, who was transferred from Hamilton Air Force Base to Kansas after winning the divorce, was represented by attorney Natalie Holly.

Attorney Harry Glassman, representing Mrs. DeBorger, asked the judge for temporary alimony to cover costs while she is appealing. Glassman pointed out that the major won all community property. "I don't think he's the one who was plucked," he argued.

The judge declared Mrs. DeBorger has little ground for an appeal. "She can't have much to say on appeal when she didn't have much in the first instance."

Glassman said he will, nevertheless, proceed with the appeal.

Store Target Of 2nd Burglary Try

Owners of the Corte Madera Hardware Store will install iron bars over a window at the rear of the building.

Corte Madera police found the window at the store at 26 Tamalpais drive broken for the second time in two weeks Sunday. It was found shattered before on Nov. 27.

Police Chief Frank L. Nelson, he considers both incidents as attempted burglaries, although nothing in the store appeared to have been disturbed and money in the cash register had not been taken.

Owners Carl and Ray Lamerdin of San Francisco informed police that they intend to bar the window to discourage any future would-be burglars.

Larkspur Building Permits In Gain

Larkspur building permits for November totaled $120,172 a gain of $30,761 over October but down $3,052 from November, 1958, building inspector William F. Wegner reported today.

Last month's total includes a seven-unit apartment on King street, valued at $61,000.

Redwood High School Honor Society Elects

A male quartet has been elected as officers of Redwood High School's Honor Society.

Serving this semester will be Gerry Silverfield, president; Ned Griffith, vice president; Butch Brear, secretary; Terry Wade, recording secretary, and Roger Siemens, treasurer. James Pierce is the group's adviser.

Year's List Of Oddball Accidents Includes Some Zany Happenings

CHICAGO (UPI) — Air Force Warrant Officer Mort Schechter was just driving along minding his own business when a 14-foot aluminum boat, scudding up the street on gale winds, sailed through the windshield of his car in Anchorage, Alaska.

Mrs. Ted Goreau wasn't even driving—she was parked—when a house put a dent in the fender of her car at Hampton, S.C.

The house was being moved down the street.

Richard Machiele jumped out of the bathtub when the telephone ran in his home in Zealand, Mich. He slipped, fell and cracked his shoulder.

The caller? Just an insurance salesman, offering a new home accident policy.

These were among the odd accidents of 1959 as compiled by Paul Jones, director of public information for the National Safety Council and reported in the January issue of Traffic Safety.

Other oddball mishaps:

June Sandy, 17 and highly proper, rode her bike demurely down the crowded main street of Whitstable, England. A motor scooter brushed against her.

Whoosh! There went Miss Sandy's dress down the street on the scooter.

Mrs. Mollie Dives of New York City started to cross a street and was swept off her feet by a mechanical sweeper. Her pride was hurt worse than anything else.

In Nicosia, Cyprus, Air Marshal William MacDonald of the Royal Air Force told runners in an RAF cross-country race: "On your mark . . . get set . . ." Then MacDonald, a crack pistol shot, shot himself in the foot.

Earl Williams dropped a nickel in a pinball machine in Springfield, Ohio. The machine didn't light up, it blew up. The nickel had triggered an electrical current which touched off fumes from a car battery being recharged nearby. Fifteen stitches patched up Williams.

Rev. Walter Herron, a missionary who had flown his plane 250,000 miles over South American jungles, flew home to Watkins Glen, N.Y., for a vacation. Cleaning the plane, he fell off a wing and broke his leg.

Near Joplin, Mo., Baldasaro Palmentere's car blew a tire, careened off the road, overturned twice and tossed him 60 feet into a treetop. He suffered only cuts and bruises, and doctors said he got some of those while coming down out of the tree.

Mother and baby got along fine when Mr. and Mrs. Jens Peter Lund of Fresno, lost a close race with the stork and their son was born in the family car.

Not so the father.

Lund swerved into the hospital driveway, leaped from the car, dashed through what he thought was an open door to the hospital lobby, and picked himself off the floor with a cut arm and bloody nose.

The "door" was a plate glass window.

Blood Bank In Novato

An opening inside the heart of a Novato woman will be closed by a delicate, life-saving operation a week from today, the day a mobile unit from the blood bank will be in Novato to receive blood donations.

At least six pints of blood—approximately half her total blood supply—must be on hand when Mrs. Myrle Waschke of 1041 Fifth street goes under surgery.

The "new" blood will have been processed by the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank of the San Francisco Medical Society, and will have been donated by those Novatoans who take time out to visit the blood bank today.

The unit is receiving donations from 2 to 7 p.m. at Trevitt Hall at Sherman and De Long streets.

Appointments are not necessary.

His Request Denied

5 Marin Lawmen Attend Institute

Five law enforcement officers from Marin are back from a three-day police institute in San Francisco.

Chief Charles J. Chiesa of San Rafael, Chief Raymond R. Buchignani of San Anselmo, Sgt. David F. Cooper of Sausalito, Sgt. David L. McIntosh of Corte Madera and Sgt. Joseph E. Mooney of the sheriff's office attended the three-day session.

The California Peace Officers Assn. sponsored the administrative institute.

Charges Traded After Brawl

Four men signed citizens' arrests against each other early yesterday after a Sausalito brawl that sent one man to the hospital.

Howard Nowland, 34, of YMCA Hotel, San Francisco, was released from Marin General Hospital after treatment for multiple cuts and bruises on the face.

He and a companion, Gerald R. Sheehy of San Jose, signed assault and battery complaints against Courtland Mudge, an owner of the Old Town Coffee House at 215 Second street, Sausalito, and Frank R. Maxwell of 117 H street, San Rafael, bartender at the coffee house.

Mudge and Maxwell in turn charged Nowland with disturbing the peace and malicious mischief.

To Plan Ceremonies

The Belvedere Recreation Commission will plan its annual Christmas tree public burning ceremonies, set for the 12th night after Christmas, at a meeting today at 8 p.m. in the community hall, according to chairman E. Allan Steinau Jr.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court, who put Mrs. DeBorger in jail when she refused to produce her husband's insurance policy, yesterday denied her appeal for temporary alimony.

The judge said he felt the appeal was "frivolous," and he was not going to allow any "further plucking of this man." The major, who was transferred from Hamilton Air Force Base to Kansas after winning the divorce, was represented by attorney Natalie Holly.

Attorney Harry Glassman, representing Mrs. DeBorger, asked the judge for temporary alimony to cover costs while she is appealing. Glassman pointed out that the major won all community property. "I don't think he's the one who was plucked," he argued.

The judge declared Mrs. DeBorger has little ground for an appeal. "She can't have much to say on appeal when she didn't have much in the first instance."

Glassman said he will, nevertheless, proceed with the appeal.

Store Target Of 2nd Burglary Try

Owners of the Corte Madera Hardware Store will install iron bars over a window at the rear of the building.

Corte Madera police found the window at the store at 26 Tamalpais drive broken for the second time in two weeks Sunday. It was found shattered before on Nov. 27.

Police Chief Frank L. Nelson, he considers both incidents as attempted burglaries, although nothing in the store appeared to have been disturbed and money in the cash register had not been taken.

Owners Carl and Ray Lamerdin of San Francisco informed police that they intend to bar the window to discourage any future would-be burglars.

Larkspur Building Permits In Gain

Larkspur building permits for November totaled $120,172 a gain of $30,761 over October but down $3,052 from November, 1958, building inspector William F. Wegner reported today.

Last month's total includes a seven-unit apartment on King street, valued at $61,000.

FUNNY IF IT WASN'T YOU

Year's List Of Oddball Accidents Includes Some Zany Happenings

CHICAGO (UPI) — Air Force Warrant Officer Mort Schechter was just driving along minding his own business when a 14-foot aluminum boat, scudding up the street on gale winds, sailed through the windshield of his car in Anchorage, Alaska.

Mrs. Ted Goreau wasn't even driving—she was parked—when a house put a dent in the fender of her car at Hampton, S.C.

The house was being moved down the street.

Richard Machiele jumped out of the bathtub when the telephone ran in his home in Zealand, Mich. He slipped, fell and cracked his shoulder.

The caller? Just an insurance salesman, offering a new home accident policy.

These were among the odd accidents of 1959 as compiled by Paul Jones, director of public information for the National Safety Council and reported in the January issue of Traffic Safety.

Other oddball mishaps:

June Sandy, 17 and highly proper, rode her bike demurely down the crowded main street of Whitstable, England. A motor scooter brushed against her.

Whoosh! There went Miss Sandy's dress down the street on the scooter.

Mrs. Mollie Dives of New York City started to cross a street and was swept off her feet by a mechanical sweeper. Her pride was hurt worse than anything else.

In Nicosia, Cyprus, Air Marshal William MacDonald of the Royal Air Force told runners in an RAF cross-country race: "On your mark . . . get set . . ." Then MacDonald, a crack pistol shot, shot himself in the foot.

Earl Williams dropped a nickel in a pinball machine in Springfield, Ohio. The machine didn't light up, it blew up. The nickel had triggered an electrical current which touched off fumes from a car battery being recharged nearby. Fifteen stitches patched up Williams.

Rev. Walter Herron, a missionary who had flown his plane 250,000 miles over South American jungles, flew home to Watkins Glen, N.Y., for a vacation. Cleaning the plane, he fell off a wing and broke his leg.

Near Joplin, Mo., Baldasaro Palmentere's car blew a tire, careened off the road, overturned twice and tossed him 60 feet into a treetop. He suffered only cuts and bruises, and doctors said he got some of those while coming down out of the tree.

Mother and baby got along fine when Mr. and Mrs. Jens Peter Lund of Fresno, lost a close race with the stork and their son was born in the family car.

Not so the father.

Lund swerved into the hospital driveway, leaped from the car, dashed through what he thought was an open door to the hospital lobby, and picked himself off the floor with a cut arm and bloody nose.

The "door" was a plate glass window.

Blood Bank In Novato

An opening inside the heart of a Novato woman will be closed by a delicate, life-saving operation a week from today, the day a mobile unit from the blood bank will be in Novato to receive blood donations.

At least six pints of blood—approximately half her total blood supply—must be on hand when Mrs. Myrle Waschke of 1041 Fifth street goes under surgery.

The "new" blood will have been processed by the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank of the San Francisco Medical Society, and will have been donated by those Novatoans who take time out to visit the blood bank today.

The unit is receiving donations from 2 to 7 p.m. at Trevitt Hall at Sherman and De Long streets.

Appointments are not necessary.

Redwood High School Honor Society Elects

A male quartet has been elected as officers of Redwood High School's Honor Society.

Serving this semester will be Gerry Silverfield, president; Ned Griffith, vice president; Butch Brear, secretary; Terry Wade, recording secretary, and Roger Siemens, treasurer. James Pierce is the group's adviser.

Gone, Gone Gopher

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — John O. McFarland went fishing in a gopher hole in his yard and made a catch. He baited fish hook with grass and caught his gopher.

His Request Denied

WAUTOMA, Wis. (AP) — For fear of grave consequences, the Wautoma City Council turned down the request of Glen Rose that he be permitted to be buried alive — with a hidden air vent — for 10 days in a city park.

5 Marin Lawmen Attend Institute

Five law enforcement officers from Marin are back from a three-day police institute in San Francisco.

Chief Charles J. Chiesa of San Rafael, Chief Raymond R. Buchignani of San Anselmo, Sgt. David F. Cooper of Sausalito, Sgt. David L. McIntosh of Corte Madera and Sgt. Joseph E. Mooney of the sheriff's office attended the three-day session.

The California Peace Officers Assn. sponsored the administrative institute.

Charges Traded After Brawl

Four men signed citizens' arrests against each other early yesterday after a Sausalito brawl that sent one man to the hospital.

Howard Nowland, 34, of YMCA Hotel, San Francisco, was released from Marin General Hospital after treatment for multiple cuts and bruises on the face.

He and a companion, Gerald R. Sheehy of San Jose, signed assault and battery complaints against Courtland Mudge, an owner of the Old Town Coffee House at 215 Second street, Sausalito, and Frank R. Maxwell of 117 H street, San Rafael, bartender at the coffee house.

Mudge and Maxwell in turn charged Nowland with disturbing the peace and malicious mischief.

To Plan Ceremonies

The Belvedere Recreation Commission will plan its annual Christmas tree public burning ceremonies, set for the 12th night after Christmas, at a meeting today at 8 p.m. in the community hall, according to chairman E. Allan Steinau Jr.

AIMS AT 200 — Dr. Barbara Moore, 55, steps along near the end of a 110-mile walk from Birmingham, England, to London, a march she has made twice since mid-November to prove her physical fitness. The Russian-born woman says a person can live to 200 if he forgoes smoking, drinking, proteins, starch and sex. (AP Wirephoto)

Trash Causes Big Headache In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Such a fuss over mountains of tin cans!

They're all in a hash—public officials, businessmen, civic groups and housewives. Over what?

Hauling the trash.

Like a smoldering city dump, the issue has kicked around with a brief flareup here, a whiff of smoke there — even an unsavory smell now and then.

Now a public sentiment breeze threatens to fan the blaze into flame.

Why? Because everybody's a rubbish sorter.

A rubbish sorter sorts rubbish. Tin cans here, banana peels there, old love letters and dead branches some place else.

That's what you've got to do in Los Angeles to keep from being buried under your own trash. It's the law.

Things are different here from most anyplace else you could name.

The smog's to blame for a lot of it; in 1955 the country banned backyard incinerators. No more burning.

Then, too, it's summer most of the winter. Grass keeps growing. Shrubs need trimming. Grass clippings can fill most of a householders's containers.

The city hauls trash, but there's grumbling. As one resident put it:

"They pick up my combustibles once a week, garbage twice a week on different days, and non-burnables — including cans — once every three weeks. I've got to sort everything out.

"I've got to remember what day each comes so as to pile the right trash out front. If the junk man sees anything in the wrong container, he leaves it all."

Many hire private trash haulers to take what's left over from the city visits.

It's not uncommon for a nice tsreet to have trash barrels lining it three or four days a week. Alleys are rare in many areas.

Some of the 65 incorporated towns in Los Angeles County have their own trash systems.

A movement for a county-wide rubbish collection program is gaining momentum. Some don't want it. They're happy with their own local arrangement. A fight could develop in the California Legislature.

Charges of racketeer influence have been heard. An Assembly rackets subcommittee once charged that profits of up to 17,500 per cent were made in rubbish dump dealings.

A housewife was added Tuesday to the country's new rubbish study commission. The commission's job:

To arrange for a long range rubbish study.

Meanwhile, the rubbish sorters keep sorting.

The fiddler crab, which lives along the coasts of the United States, goes on an eating spree when frustrated in love or war.

Girl Hurt When Bike, Car Collide

Teri Louise Spence, 11, of 230 Fawn drive, Sleepy Hollow, suffered a gashed left arm when her bicycle collided with a car in front of her home about 9 a.m. yesterday.

Driver of the car was J. G. Marquis, director of the Mental Health Assn. in San Francisco, who lives at 280 Fawn drive. Marquis told California Highway Patrolman Frank Hulley he was headed for work when the girl came down her driveway. The bicycle hit the left side of his car, and Teri's arm caught on the side view mirror. She was treated at Marin General Hospital for the gashed hand and a bruised leg.

Novato Street To Become Yule Lane

Novato's Pastel lane will change its name to "Christmas Lane" at nightfall, Dec. 19, when lights go on all along the block displaying colorful decorations based on the carol, "The 12 Days of Christmas."

Residents of the 15 homes on Pastel lane contribute funds throughout the year to put on the Christmas display.

Children of the block will sing carols under the direction of Mrs. Helen Kempton. The display will be held nightly until 9:30 p.m. through the Christmas weekend.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN
ORDINANCE NO. 1053

AN ORDINANCE OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 264 BY ADDING A NEW SECTION THERETO, SECTION 11.145, CREATING REGULATIONS FOR "G" DISTRICTS WHICH ARE FOR USE ONLY IN COMBINATION WITH R-3 DISTRICTS; and BY AMENDING SECTION 21 THEREOF SO AS TO PROVIDE FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF ANY COMBINING DISTRICT IN CONJUNCTION WITH ANY ACTION TO RECLASSIFY THE ZONING DESIGNATION OF ANY LAND.

THE BOARD OR SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION I: A new section is hereby added to Ordinance No. 264 and shall read as follows:

SECTION 11.145: REGULATIONS FOR "G" DISTRICTS A. The following "G" districts may be combined with an "R-3" district in which case the resulting "R-3:G" district shall be governed by the regulations for "R-3" districts, by the regulations for the respective "G" district and by the regulations in this section; provided, however, that if any of the regulations specified in this section or for the respective "G" district differ from or conflict with any of the corresponding regulations specified for the "R-3" district, then in such case the regulations of the respective "G" district and this section shall apply.

1. "G-1" Districts:
   (A) Distance between buildings, 12 feet.
   (B) Density: On each building site, the number of dwelling units shall not exceed the number obtained by dividing the building site area in square feet by 1500, adjusted to the nearest whole number.
2. "G-2" Districts:
   (A) Uses Permitted: All uses permitted in "R-3" districts except that a use permit must first be secured for any use for which a use permit is required in "R-1" Districts.
   (B) Front yard depth, 25 feet.
   (C) Side yard width, 10 feet.
   (D) Density: On each building site, the number of dwelling units shall not exceed the number obtained by dividing the building site area in square feet by 2000, adjusted to the nearest whole number.
   (E) Off-street parking shall be provided in the ratio of three spaces for each two dwelling units, and one for a remaining odd numbered unit.
   (F) Outdoor living space for each dwelling unit—200 square feet.
3. "G-3" Districts:
   (A) Uses Permitted: All uses permitted in "R-1" districts. two-family dwellings and multiple dwellings.
   (B) Front yard depth, 25 feet.
   (C) Side yard width, 10 feet.
   (D) Density: On each building site, the number of dwelling units shall not exceed the number obtained by dividing the building site area in square feet by 2500, adjusted to the nearest whole number.
   (E) Off-street parking shall be provided in the ratio of two spaces for each dwelling unit, one of which shall be sheltered (roofed).
   (F) Outdoor living space for each dwelling unit—300 square feet.
4. "G-4" Districts:
   (A) Uses Permitted: All uses permitted in "R-1" districts, two-family dwellings and multiple dwellings.
   (B) Front yard depth, 25 feet.
   (C) Side yard width, 10 feet for the first story, and 15 feet for the second or third story. For this provision a half-story shall be counted the same as a full story.
   (D) Density: On each building site, the number of dwelling units shall not exceed the number obtained by dividing the building site area in square feet by 3500, adjusted to the nearest whole number.
   (E) Off-street parking shall be provided in the ratio of two spaces for each dwelling unit, one of which shall be sheltered (roofed).
   (F) Outdoor living space for each dwelling unit—400 square feet.

B. For the purposes of this section any building, containing a dwelling unit, shall be considered a main building.

C. In all "G-2", "G-3" and "G-4" districts every building shall be constructed in such a manner that each dwelling unit will have at least two exterior walls that are not common to any other enclosed space. For this section a surface shall be deemed a wall if it has minimum vertical and horizontal dimensions of eight feet.

D. Lot coverage shall mean the horizontal space covered by all structures excluding that portion of those architectural features which is allowed to extend into any required yard as specified in Section 14 of this Ordinance.

E. "Outdoor living space" as used in this section shall have no other primary use and may include a deck having a minimum dimension of 6 feet, and ground having a slope no greater than 5% and minimum dimension of 12 feet. At least one-half the required "outdoor living space" shall be immediately available to and private for the occupants of each dwelling unit while the remainder may be furnished in common areas available to other occupants of the building or buildings on the site. Front yards, with the exception of allowable deck projections, may be used only as a "common area".

SECTION 2: Section 21, Amendments, Ordinance No. 264, is hereby amended to add to the end thereof the following paragraph: Any procedure to amend this ordinance by changing the district or districts shall be considered a procedure to combine with said district or districts any of the combining regulations as established under Section 4, provided that all notices of hearings held in connection with such procedure shall give notice of such fact.

SECTION 3: Section 4 of Ordinance No. 264 is hereby amended to add the following to the end thereof:

G-1 First Multiple Residence Regulations.
G-2 Second Multiple Residence Regulations.
G-3 Third Multiple Residence Regulations.
G-4 Fourth Multiple Residence Regulations.

SECTION 2. This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty (30) days after the date of passage and approval and shall be published at least once in a newspaper published in the County before the expiration of fifteen days (15) after its passage, with the name of the members voting for and against the same.

PASSED AND ADOPTED by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, on the 1st day of December, 1959, by the following vote, to-wit:

AYES: Supervisors: William D. Fusselman, Vera L. Schultz, James A. Marshall, William A. Gnoss, Walter Castro.

Trash Causes Big Headache In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Such a fuss over mountains of tin cans!

They're all in a hash—public officials, businessmen, civic groups and housewives. Over what?

Hauling the trash.

Like a smoldering city dump, the issue has kicked around with a brief flareup here, a whiff of smoke there — even an unsavory smell now and then.

Now a public sentiment breeze threatens to fan the blaze into flame.

Why? Because everybody's a rubbish sorter.

A rubbish sorter sorts rubbish. Tin cans here, banana peels there, old love letters and dead branches some place else.

That's what you've got to do in Los Angeles to keep from being buried under your own trash. It's the law.

Things are different here from most anyplace else you could name.

The smog's to blame for a lot of it; in 1955 the country banned backyard incinerators. No more burning.

Then, too, it's summer most of the winter. Grass keeps growing. Shrubs need trimming. Grass clippings can fill most of a householders's containers.

The city hauls trash, but there's grumbling. As one resident put it:

"They pick up my combustibles once a week, garbage twice a week on different days, and non-burnables — including cans — once every three weeks. I've got to sort everything out.

"I've got to remember what day each comes so as to pile the right trash out front. If the junk man sees anything in the wrong container, he leaves it all."

Many hire private trash haulers to take what's left over from the city visits.

It's not uncommon for a nice tsreet to have trash barrels lining it three or four days a week. Alleys are rare in many areas.

Some of the 65 incorporated towns in Los Angeles County have their own trash systems.

A movement for a county-wide rubbish collection program is gaining momentum. Some don't want it. They're happy with their own local arrangement. A fight could develop in the California Legislature.

Charges of racketeer influence have been heard. An Assembly rackets subcommittee once charged that profits of up to 17,500 per cent were made in rubbish dump dealings.

A housewife was added Tuesday to the country's new rubbish study commission. The commission's job:

To arrange for a long range rubbish study.

Meanwhile, the rubbish sorters keep sorting.

The fiddler crab, which lives along the coasts of the United States, goes on an eating spree when frustrated in love or war.

Girl Hurt When Bike, Car Collide

Teri Louise Spence, 11, of 230 Fawn drive, Sleepy Hollow, suffered a gashed left arm when her bicycle collided with a car in front of her home about 9 a.m. yesterday.

Driver of the car was J. G. Marquis, director of the Mental Health Assn. in San Francisco, who lives at 280 Fawn drive. Marquis told California Highway Patrolman Frank Hulley he was headed for work when the girl came down her driveway. The bicycle hit the left side of his car, and Teri's arm caught on the side view mirror. She was treated at Marin General Hospital for the gashed hand and a bruised leg.

Novato Street To Become Yule Lane

Novato's Pastel lane will change its name to "Christmas Lane" at nightfall, Dec. 19, when lights go on all along the block displaying colorful decorations based on the carol, "The 12 Days of Christmas."

Residents of the 15 homes on Pastel lane contribute funds throughout the year to put on the Christmas display.

Children of the block will sing carols under the direction of Mrs. Helen Kempton. The display will be held nightly until 9:30 p.m. through the Christmas weekend.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN
ORDINANCE NO. 1053

AN ORDINANCE OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 264 BY ADDING A NEW SECTION THERETO, SECTION 11.145, CREATING REGULATIONS FOR "G" DISTRICTS WHICH ARE FOR USE ONLY IN COMBINATION WITH R-3 DISTRICTS; and BY AMENDING SECTION 21 THEREOF SO AS TO PROVIDE FOR THE CONSIDERATION OF ANY COMBINING DISTRICT IN CONJUNCTION WITH ANY ACTION TO RECLASSIFY THE ZONING DESIGNATION OF ANY LAND.

THE BOARD OR SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION I: A new section is hereby added to Ordinance No. 264 and shall read as follows:

SECTION 11.145: REGULATIONS FOR "G" DISTRICTS A. The following "G" districts may be combined with an "R-3" district in which case the resulting "R-3:G" district shall be governed by the regulations for "R-3" districts, by the regulations for the respective "G" district and by the regulations in this section; provided, however, that if any of the regulations specified in this section or for the respective "G" district differ from or conflict with any of the corresponding regulations specified for the "R-3" district, then in such case the regulations of the respective "G" district and this section shall apply.

1. "G-1" Districts:
   (A) Distance between buildings, 12 feet.
   (B) Density: On each building site, the number of dwelling units shall not exceed the number obtained by dividing the building site area in square feet by 1500, adjusted to the nearest whole number.
2. "G-2" Districts:
   (A) Uses Permitted: All uses permitted in "R-3" districts except that a use permit must first be secured for any use for which a use permit is required in "R-1" Districts.
   (B) Front yard depth, 25 feet.
   (C) Side yard width, 10 feet.
   (D) Density: On each building site, the number of dwelling units shall not exceed the number obtained by dividing the building site area in square feet by 2000, adjusted to the nearest whole number.
   (E) Off-street parking shall be provided in the ratio of three spaces for each two dwelling units, and one for a remaining odd numbered unit.
   (F) Outdoor living space for each dwelling unit—200 square feet.
3. "G-3" Districts:
   (A) Uses Permitted: All uses permitted in "R-1" districts, two-family dwellings and multiple dwellings.
   (B) Front yard depth, 25 feet.
   (C) Side yard width, 10 feet.
   (D) Density: On each building site, the number of dwelling units shall not exceed the number obtained by dividing the building site area in square feet by 2500, adjusted to the nearest whole number.
   (E) Off-street parking shall be provided in the ratio of two spaces for each dwelling unit, one of which shall be sheltered (roofed).
   (F) Outdoor living space for each dwelling unit—300 square feet.
4. "G-4" Districts:
   (A) Uses Permitted: All uses permitted in "R-1" districts, two-family dwellings and multiple dwellings.
   (B) Front yard depth, 25 feet.
   (C) Side yard width, 10 feet for the first story, and 15 feet for the second or third story. For this provision a half-story shall be counted the same as a full story.
   (D) Density: On each building site, the number of dwelling units shall not exceed the number obtained by dividing the building site area in square feet by 3500, adjusted to the nearest whole number.
   (E) Off-street parking shall be provided in the ratio of two spaces for each dwelling unit, one of which shall be sheltered (roofed).
   (F) Outdoor living space for each dwelling unit—400 square feet.

B. For the purposes of this section any building, containing a dwelling unit, shall be considered a main building.

C. In all "G-2", "G-3" and "G-4" districts every building shall be constructed in such a manner that each dwelling unit will have at least two exterior walls that are not common to any other enclosed space. For this section a surface shall be deemed a wall if it has minimum vertical and horizontal dimensions of eight feet.

D. Lot coverage shall mean the horizontal space covered by all structures excluding that portion of those architectural features which is allowed to extend into any required yard as specified in Section 14 of this Ordinance.

E. "Outdoor living space" as used in this section shall have no other primary use and may include a deck having a minimum dimension of 6 feet, and ground having a slope no greater than 5% and minimum dimension of 12 feet. At least one-half the required "outdoor living space" shall be immediately available to and private for the occupants of each dwelling unit while the remainder may be furnished in common areas available to other occupants of the building or buildings on the site. Front yards, with the exception of allowable deck projections, may be used only as a "common area".

SECTION 2: Section 21, Amendments, Ordinance No. 264, is hereby amended to add to the end thereof the following paragraph: Any procedure to amend this ordinance by changing the district or districts shall be considered a procedure to combine with said district or districts any of the combining regulations as established under Section 4, provided that all notices of hearings held in connection with such procedure shall give notice of such fact.

SECTION 3: Section 4 of Ordinance No. 264 is hereby amended to add the following to the end thereof:

G-1 First Multiple Residence Regulations.
G-2 Second Multiple Residence Regulations.
G-3 Third Multiple Residence Regulations.
G-4 Fourth Multiple Residence Regulations.

SECTION 2. This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty (30) days after the date of passage and approval and shall be published at least once in a newspaper published in the County before the expiration of fifteen days (15) after its passage, with the name of the members voting for and against the same.

PASSED AND ADOPTED by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, on the 1st day of December, 1959, by the following vote, to-wit:

AYES: Supervisors: William D. Fusselman, Vera L. Schultz, James A. Marshall, William A. Gnoss, Walter Castro.
NOES: Supervisors: None.

Both Of Marin's Seminaries Present 'Messiah' Tonight

George Frederick Handel's "The Messiah," composed more than two centuries ago, will be presented in two places tonight in Marin, under auspices of two religious institutions.

Dr. Carlyle Dean Bennette will present nearly 100 students and wives in the oratorio at 7:30 p. m. in Broadus Hall of the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry. John Gustafson, television and concert singer, will be soloist.

Although this is Dr. Bennett's first presentation of Handel's great work in Marin, he has conducted it in Berkeley each of his eight years with the Golden Gate Seminary when it was located there.

Dr. John Milton Kelly, who instituted "The Messiah" as a traditional Christmas concert in Marin County, will conduct the San Francisco Theological Seminary's A Cappella Choir and the Marin Chorale in an 8 o'clock performance at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

The first time Kelly conducted a Marin presentation of "The Messiah" was in 1937, a few months after his arrival in San Anselmo to be director of sacred music at the seminary. Eleven years ago the Marin Chorale, which he organized, joined the seminary's choir for its Christmas performance.

"The Messiah" was first performed at a concert given for charitable purposes in Dublin, Ireland, on April 13, 1742, with Handel conducting the performance.

According to historical evidence, Handel was aware that Dublin's orchestral and choral resources were not on par with those of London, and his original work on the composition was influenced not a little by this knowledge.

Later, after he brought out "The Messiah" in London on March 23, 1743, he made alterations in the original score, composed a few new numbers, and transcribed a few arias for different voices. Essentially, however, he left the work unchanged.

Hollis To Answer Questions From Radio Listeners

Answers to questions from listeners will be the subject of the "County Schools Reporter" broadcast on radio station KTIM tomorrow, Dr. Virgil S. Hollis announced today.

The county schools superintendent said that in line with the policy laid out at the beginning of the bi-weekly series, the public's chance to participate will come with discussion of its queries. Questions are:

1. What is the master plan for school districts in Marin County?

2. How is the recently adopted course of study being used in the schools?

3. When should foreign languages be taught in our schools?

4. What is the new corporal punishment law?

The "County Schools Reporter" is heard every other Wednesday at 1:30 p. m.

Marin Real Estate Firm Incorporated

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced a Marin county real estate firm, Hamilton Valley Corp., has filed articles of incorporation with his office. The firm is be capitalized at $200,000 in $100 par shares.

Directors were listed as Edgar T. Lindner, Walters road, and E. J. Mahoney Jr. and Robert W. Elliott, Skyland way, all of Ross.

WRAP IT RIGHT FOR YULE MAILING

Bane of the postal service (and of persons who receive broken crockery for Christmas) is improper wrapping of gifts for mailing. Neat wrapping, plenty of strong twine, knots double-tied to prevent slippage — all are part of the formula for seeing that the Christmas gift arrives intact at its destination. An expert in such matters is Mrs. Phelicia Carol. She is shown giving sidewalk demonstration of proper wrapping — from the gift up through the Christmas decorations to the mailing wrap — in front of her package wrapping shop at 1323 Third street, San Rafael. Watching are Mrs. Eric W. Eiserich (left), Mrs. Karl Guenther and Mrs. Henry A. Sherry. (Independent-Journal photo)

Annual Greens Sale Slated For Dec. 19

The decorations Guild of the Marin Art and Garden Center will sponsor its 12th annual Christmas Greens Sale Dec. 19 from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., according to Mrs. Victor Guilder of San Anselmo, president.

The guild's new headquarters, the Teasel Building on the center grounds in Ross, will be scene of the event. The structure was recently completed.

Mrs. Gordon Zimmer of Mill Valley has been appointed general chairman for the greens sale. She issued an appeal for fresh greens to be used in making wreaths and other articles. The greens may be taken to the center starting Saturday, or will be picked up. Pickup may be arranged by calling the center.

The Christmas Cupboard, featuring home made holiday foods, again will be a part of the greens sale, Mrs. Zimmer said. The "cupboard" is a project of the Pixie Parents.

Mrs. G. Stuart Spence Jr. of San Rafael is chairman of the Christmas Cupboard. Both it and the greens sale will benefit the non-profit Art and Garden Center.

West Germany exported more automobiles than any other country in the world in 1958 and was second largest exporter of machinery.

Both Of Marin's Seminaries Present 'Messiah' Tonight

George Frederick Handel's "The Messiah," composed more than two centuries ago, will be presented in two places tonight in Marin, under auspices of two religious institutions.

Dr. Carlyle Dean Bennette will present nearly 100 students and wives in the oratorio at 7:30 p. m. in Broadus Hall of the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry. John Gustafson, television and concert singer, will be soloist.

Although this is Dr. Bennett's first presentation of Handel's great work in Marin, he has conducted it in Berkeley each of his eight years with the Golden Gate Seminary when it was located there.

Dr. John Milton Kelly, who instituted "The Messiah" as a traditional Christmas concert in Marin County, will conduct the San Francisco Theological Seminary's A Cappella Choir and the Marin Chorale in an 8 o'clock performance at the First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

The first time Kelly conducted a Marin presentation of "The Messiah" was in 1937, a few months after his arrival in San Anselmo to be director of sacred music at the seminary. Eleven years ago the Marin Chorale, which he organized, joined the seminary's choir for its Christmas performance.

"The Messiah" was first performed at a concert given for charitable purposes in Dublin, Ireland, on April 13, 1742, with Handel conducting the performance.

According to historical evidence, Handel was aware that Dublin's orchestral and choral resources were not on par with those of London, and his original work on the composition was influenced not a little by this knowledge.

Later, after he brought out "The Messiah" in London on March 23, 1743, he made alterations in the original score, composed a few new numbers, and transcribed a few arias for different voices. Essentially, however, he left the work unchanged.

Hollis To Answer Questions From Radio Listeners

Answers to questions from listeners will be the subject of the "County Schools Reporter" broadcast on radio station KTIM tomorrow, Dr. Virgil S. Hollis announced today.

The county schools superintendent said that in line with the policy laid out at the beginning of the bi-weekly series, the public's chance to participate will come with discussion of its queries. Questions are:

1. What is the master plan for school districts in Marin County?

2. How is the recently adopted course of study being used in the schools?

3. When should foreign languages be taught in our schools?

4. What is the new corporal punishment law?

The "County Schools Reporter" is heard every other Wednesday at 1:30 p. m.

WRAP IT RIGHT FOR YULE MAILING

Bane of the postal service (and of persons who receive broken crockery for Christmas) is improper wrapping of gifts for mailing. Neat wrapping, plenty of strong twine, knots double-tied to prevent slippage — all are part of the formula for seeing that the Christmas gift arrives intact at its destination. An expert in such matters is Mrs. Phelicia Carol. She is shown giving sidewalk demonstration of proper wrapping — from the gift up through the Christmas decorations to the mailing wrap — in front of her package wrapping shop at 1323 Third street, San Rafael. Watching are Mrs. Eric W. Eiserich (left), Mrs. Karl Guenther and Mrs. Henry A. Sherry. (Independent-Journal photo)

Annual Greens Sale Slated For Dec. 19

The decorations Guild of the Marin Art and Garden Center will sponsor its 12th annual Christmas Greens Sale Dec. 19 from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m., according to Mrs. Victor Guilder of San Anselmo, president.

The guild's new headquarters, the Teasel Building on the center grounds in Ross, will be scene of the event. The structure was recently completed.

Mrs. Gordon Zimmer of Mill Valley has been appointed general chairman for the greens sale. She issued an appeal for fresh greens to be used in making wreaths and other articles. The greens may be taken to the center starting Saturday, or will be picked up. Pickup may be arranged by calling the center.

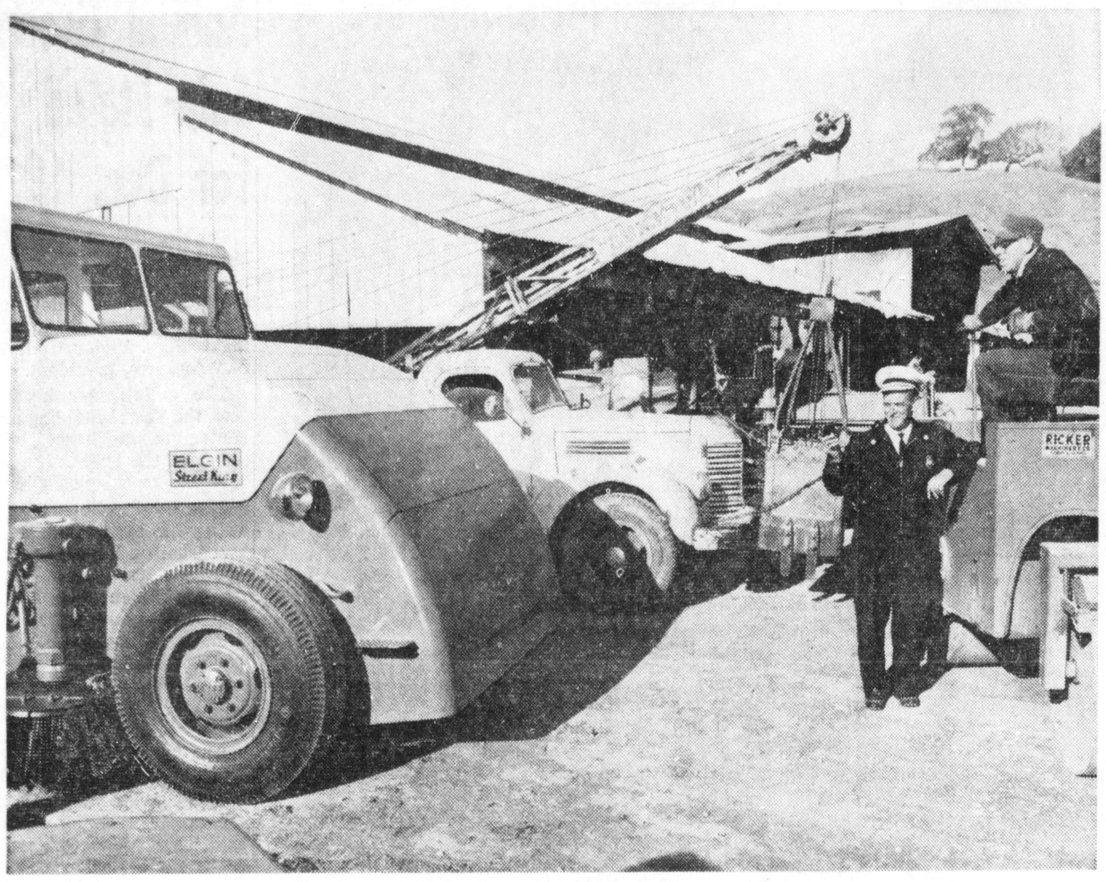

The Christmas Cupboard, featuring home made holiday foods, again will be a part of the greens sale, Mrs. Zimmer said. The "cupboard" is a project of the Pixie Parents.

Mrs. G. Stuart Spence Jr. of San Rafael is chairman of the Christmas Cupboard. Both it and the greens sale will benefit the non-profit Art and Garden Center.

West Germany exported more automobiles than any other country in the world in 1958 and was second largest exporter of machinery.

HUB CITY EQUIPMENT MOVES INTO NEW HOME

Nello M. Marcucci (leaning against truck) had reason to smile today: Move of the San Anselmo Public Works Department—which he heads, along with being fire chief and building inspector—to new quarters on the Sorich Dairy property had been completed. The move vacates San Anselmo's famed "old brick building"—the former Northwestern Pacific powerhouse at the Hub itself, which is scheduled to be torn town. Bids on its demolition are to be presented to the city council tonight. Looking over equipment at the new yard at the end of San Francisco boulevard with Marcucci is equipment operator Charles Beedle, on truck. In left foreground is city's brand new street sweeper.

Neighborhood Plans Own Yule Party

Children who live on Florence avenue in San Anselmo will have a neighborhood Christmas party all their own on the evening of Dec. 22.

For the fourth consecutive year, residents of the one-block street have joined to provide "old-fashioned Christmas fun" for each other.

There will be a six-foot Christmas tree, on which each child is to place an ornament. Santa Claus (or a reasonable facsimile) will pass out gifts to the children, contributed by parents on the block.

Each mother will bake a dozen cookies, and fathers will provide coffee. And to keep the party warm, there will be a big bonfire in mid-street, permission for which has been received from the San Anselmo Fire Department, announced Jerry Cruthers of the informal sponsoring committee.

Peter Ledow has been named chairman for adults; Jack Coffey, chairman for children, and Leroy Curry, decorations chairman.

Two Marin Schools To Take Part In Novel Educational Experiment

Two Marin high schools have been included among 13 chosen by the University of California to participate in a novel educational experiment.

San Rafael and Sir Francis Drake High Schools, along with 11 others within commuting distance of Berkeley, will nominate promising seniors qualified and willing to attend two schools at once.

From these nominees the university's Office of Relations with Schools expects to select 50 who may take up to six units of freshman university work while simultaneously finishing their final semester in high school.

The candidates must meet quite a number of qualifications. No limit has been placed initially on how many names may be put forward by each school.

First they must be gifted students of demonstrated academic ability. They must be willing, and their parents must give permission, that they embark on a project obviously challenging and bound to tax them heavily.

Although the university will pay the $60 incidental enrollment fee in each case, it will be up to the students to provide their own transportation and similar expenses. Their schools must arrange to give them freedom to get to Berkeley for university classes.

Dr. David B. Stewart, associate director of U.C.'s schools relations office, reported a sort of pilot experiment was made last year by the University of California at Los Angeles, which drew on only two nearby high schools.

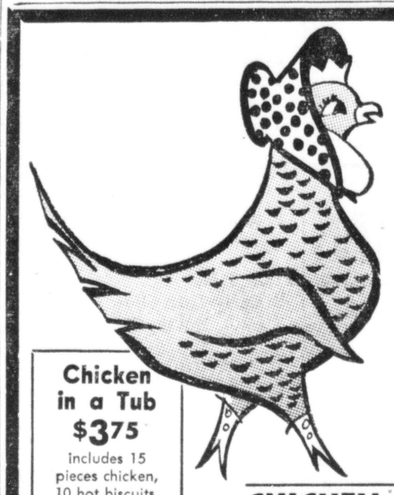

Although there was skepticism in some quarters, and a degree of opposition in the Academic Senate, grades achieved by the high school youngsters proved to be significantly higher than the average for regular university freshmen, Dr. Stewart said.

The program is therefore to be repeated next semester in Los Angeles and Berkeley is starting it with a larger initial field of choice of candidates.

High schools participating, besides the two in Marin, are in San Francisco and various parts of the East Bay region, Dr. Stewart said.

A spokesman for San Rafael High School said an effort will be made to decide on a list of nominees before the Christmas recess. No deadline was mentioned but the new semester opens in February.

Ferry Van Damme Goes On Auction Block Soon

An old-time auction is to be the latest means of selling the ferryboat Charles Van Damme, sometime flagship of the San Rafael-Richmond fleet.

But for obvious reasons they won't display the vessel when U.S. Marshal Frank O. Bell mounts the San Francisco Post Office steps at 11 a.m. Thursday to start the bidding.

Otherwise it should be a colorful proceeding, even though the Van Damme itself will be riding at anchor off the Arques shipyard in Sausalito while effort is made to change ownership for the second time in three years.

From ferry the boat became restaurant-bar, then Chinese restaurant, and finally was taken by one partner in the eating enterprise to satisfy claims against the others.

An attache of the marshal's office will start proceedings on the post office steps by reading a decree of Judge William T. Swiegert in Federal District Court Nov. 24, ordering sale as result of a Patrick C. Warfield bankruptcy petition.

Then the bidding will start—providing somebody is on hand with at least $5,000 or equivalent.

While terms are "for cash," an official explained today, even checks needn't necessarily be certified, as the marshal will size up the bidder and decide what constitutes "cash" on a basis of the individual.

The marshal's office feels that the risk is minimized by the fact that it's pretty hard to run very far with a ferry, it was explained.

Warfield, wife and partner operated the ferry as an Oakland restaurant until bankruptcy interrupted with $48,000 assets, $184,000 debts.

Charles Robert Boyer, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Boyer of 49 Mohawk avenue, Corte Madera, will leave next month for basic Air Force training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

Probation Given In Stabbing Case

Mrs. Mary Patricia Ann Parnow, 31, who stabbed her husband at their Villa Rafael home last July, must remain on probation for two years and undergo family or case work counseling.

Judge Jordan L. Martinelli of Marin Superior Court sentenced her yesterday for battery. Originally charged with assault with a deadly weapon, Mrs. Parnow later pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of battery.

San Rafael police said Mrs. Parnow cut Francis Parnow on his left arm with a kitchen knife after an argument at their home, 9 Junipero Serra.

Chamber In Novato Names Committee Aide

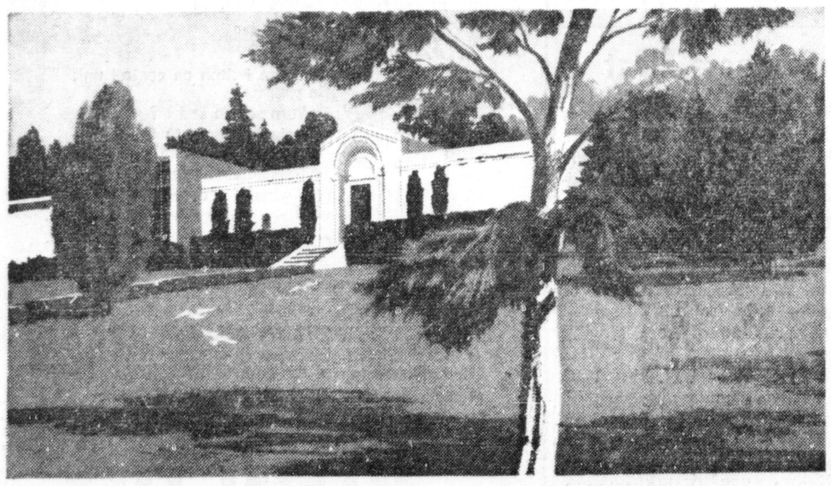

Eugene R. Trombley, candidate for Novato city council, has been appointed to the Novato Chamber of Commerce college site committee, it was announced today by Al Lerch, committee chairman.

Trombley is also chairman of the chamber of commerce airport committee.

Where a family finds every comforting assurance

Here at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery there is every assurance a family needs in choosing a final resting place.

First, there is the knowledge that this beautiful Marin site will be properly cared for – even increase in loveliness – as the years progress. For future maintenance of Mount Tamalpais is provided for by a generous and growing endowment fund, over twice the legal requirement.

Here, too, is the assurance that families of all faiths will find facilities which match their means and personal preferences. Mount Tamalpais offers interment, above-ground burial in the beautiful garden setting of the Angeles Chapel or the indoor Memory Chapel. Here, too, is Marin's first crematorium, and a peaceful columbarium – the Chapel of Light.

Today, there is a modern, thoughtful trend to spare others difficult decisions in time of sorrow. Consider the wisdom of this thoughtfulness – then come and visit this beautiful Marin setting. We welcome your questions, or invite you to call or write for our brochure.
